MUSCLE SHOALS MESSAGE TO SENATE

Nye Committee Gives Davis Clear Slate

BUT CONDEMNS EXPENSES OF HIS CAMPAIGN

Probers' Report Emphasizes $622,928 Spent on Davis-Brown Ticket

SENATOR REJOICES

Claims Committee's Assertion Upholding Integrity "Nails Lie"

Washington —(AP)— The senate campaign funds committee today condemned as excessive the expenditures of the Davis-Brown ticket in last year's Pennsylvania Republican primary but upheld the integrity of Senator Davis.

The report was presented by chairman Nye without comment. Davis immediately issued a statement saying the committee's assertion it had found nothing reflecting upon his honor "nails one lie."

He went on to say he had been charged with having received a $10,000 campaign contribution and not reporting it. This charge was investigated by the committee, he said, and found false.

The committee report laid emphasis on the expenditures of $622,928 by the Davis ticket on which the former labor secretary was paired with Francis Shunk Brown, unsuccessful candidate for governor. The Davis statement said:

"I am very glad to find that the Nye report states that nothing has been revealed in the testimony before this committee relating to the conduct of the Pennsylvania senatorial campaign reflecting upon my honor and integrity.

"That nails one lie. It was charged that I received ten thousand dollars as a campaign contribution not reported by me, from the president of the Celotex Co.

"This charge was investigated by the Nye committee and found to be utterly false. The lobby story contained in a metropolitan newspaper came from the same source. It is of the same character with the same lack of foundation, and investigation will disclose that it has been instigated by the same malicious political enemies."

Also Clears Others

Not only the former labor secretary but his opponents as well were cleared of any suggestion of smirch but for all the statement was qualified.

"Unless the expenditure of more than $600,000 in the primary . . . can be construed as in itself constituting corruption," the committee concluded, "in fairness to Senator Davis as well as the other candidates in the Pennsylvania senatorial election, your committee desires to state that the evidence heard by it does not disclose any corruption for which he may be held personally responsible, nor has anything been revealed . . . reflecting upon the honor and integrity of Senator Davis or any other senatorial candidate."

Besides Chairman Nye, who is a Republican from North Dakota, Senators Dale, Republican, Vermont, and Dill, Washington and Wagner, New York, Democrats, signed the report.

A minority report submitted by Senator Patterson, Republican, Missouri, cleared Davis without qualification and objected to the concluding paragraph of the majority report. He said this was inserted after the first draft had been agreed upon.

Regarding the contention that Davis was chargeable with only a small percentage of the total spent for the seven candidate ticket, the majority report said the committee felt itself not called upon to "attempt the impossible task of determ-

DR. H. H. BUNDESEN

Bundesen To Remain Out Of Contest

Cook-co Coroner Won't Run for Fear Split Will Elect Thompson

Chicago—(AP)— Dr. Herman N. Bundeson, Democratic coroner of Cook-co, decided today to refrain from entering the mayoral contest as an independent lest his candidacy split the Democratic vote in favor of Mayor William Hale Thompson, Republican nominee.

"In the opinion of many good people," Dr. Bundesen said in a statement today, "if I should enter the mayoralty race there would be a grave possibility that, by some cruel twist of fate, the vote would be so split that Thompson would be re-elected. For Chicago's good, that is a risk I cannot afford to take. Four more years of Thompsonism would be too much to ask even of such a virile city as Chicago. I have, therefore, decided that I will not enter the race."

His withdrawal, after an announcement a week ago that he had decided to run independently, narrowed the mayoral campaign to a duel between "Big Bill" Thompson who seeks a fourth term, and Anton J. Cermak, leader of Cook-co Democracy.

Several leading business men and political advisors approached Dr. Bundesen after his announcement last week, suggesting that his entry would only insure the mayor's re-election. The situation was complicated by the filing of a citizens ticket nominating him, which Dr. Bundesen repudiated and some said was inspired by friends of Mayor Thompson; and by the announcement of another independent group yesterday that the coroner had agreed to run.

Dr. Bundesen expressed confidence in his statement today that he could "poll a larger vote than the candidates of either political party," pointing to his election as coroner by 1,087,000 votes in 1928, when he led even Herbert Hoover, who carried Cook-co.

"If it would help solve Chicago's problems," he said, "I should be glad to enter the mayoralty race. But the paramount need in Chicago is the eradication of Thompsonism and all that it stands for."

ONE SLAIN BY MACHINE GUN NEAR CHICAGO

Bombing Attempt Fails as Five Go on Raid—Second Man Wounded

Chicago—(AP)—Five machine gunners shot and killed one man and wounded another early today, but failed to explode a huge bomb which they tossed, with one of their victims, into the basement of a gambling establishment conducted by James Hackett in suburban Blue Island.

The victims were William Mayer, 45, a caretaker at the Haskett place and Hilario Rodriguez. Mayer was shot to death as he ran out of the place when his attention was attracted to shots fired at Rodriguez after Rodriguez escaped from the basement. Rodriguez was wounded and was taken to a hospital.

The police viewed the affair as an attempt by a Chicago gambling syndicate to "muscle into" Blue Island gambling territory.

Rodriguez was standing on a street corner, waiting for his wife when the five men arrived in an automobile. One of them demanded his money and when he pleaded he had none he was struck in the face with a pistol, which shattered his jaw bone. Another of the five lighted a fuse of the bomb, which contained 15 pounds of dynamite and which was made of a steel pipe, and tossed it into a coal chute of Hackett's place. Two others seized Rodriguez and threw him in after the bomb.

The bomb, however, failed to explode. Terror-stricken, Rodriguez climbed out in time to see the five get into their car. They saw him and two of them fired. One bullet inflicted a slight wound. Then a fusillade of bullets felled Mayer and the machine gunners sped away in their cars. Firemen filled the basement with water and retrieved the bomb which they said probably did not explode because moisture in the cellar extinguished the fuse. Had it done so it would have wrecked the building.

Hackett said he knew of no reason for the attack, but the police held the theory that it resulted from his refusal to join a powerful gambling syndicate.

LEGISLATORS NAMED TO ATTEND COOPER RITES

Madison —(AP)— Lieut. Gov. Henry Huber today appointed five senators to serve as a committee to attend the funeral of Congressman Henry Allen Cooper at Racine.

Members of the senate committee are: George Blanchard, Edgerton; William Edwards, Sussex; Walter Goodland, Racine; Conrad Shearer, Kenosha and Fred Zantow, Baraboo. An assembly committee will be appointed by Charles Perry, speaker of the assembly.

THIRTY ARE SENTENCED

Superior —(AP)— Thirty persons convicted of violation of the federal prohibition laws were sentenced in federal court here today by Judge Robert A. Baltzell, of Indianapolis, bringing the total cases disposed of in two days to 54.

SIGNS HALF HOLIDAY BILL

Washington—(AP)—President Hoover today signed a bill which gives government workers a half-holiday on Saturday the year around.

Assembly Passes Loomis Measure Favoring State Entry In Utility Business

Madison —(AP)— The LaFollette administration scored its first big victory of the present legislative session today when the assembly concurred in the Loomis resolution for a constitutional amendment to permit the state to enter the public utility business. The vote was 85 to 8.

All conservative opposition to the measure wilted and when the resolution came before the house for final action there was no debate. Assemblyman Oscar Schmiege, Appleton, moved for suspension of the rules and the resolution found quick concurrence.

The resolution must be adopted by the 1923 legislature before it can be placed on the ballots for a referendum. Sen. O. S. Loomis, Mauston, was the author of the resolution. It is one of four measures which constitute the administration's power program. Under the resolution any municipality may construct and control plants for the production and transmission of heat, light, water or power.

Such a municipality may compete with private utilities now in the field. Under present laws, private utilities are protected for all competition.

Those who voted against the resolution are:

Engel, Kraez, LaBar, Laffey, W. A. Meyer, Murray, Westlund and Young.

The following were absent when the roll was taken: Malchow, Qwell, Janke, Huber, Aune, Benson and Budlong. All others voted for the resolution.

A substitute amendment to enforce the coloring of wood alcohol, methanol, denatured alcohol and similar products was adopted by the senate after a bitter debate between Senators Barnhard Gettelman, Milwaukee, and J. H. Carroll, Glidden.

Sen. Gettelman's bill, to which Sen. Carroll offered the substitute, would have prohibited the manufacture and sale in Wisconsin of poisonous wood alcohol, methanol and methyl alcohol for purposes other than those prescribed by the state board of health.

The Milwaukee senator charged the DuPont interests were behind the efforts to defeat his bill and said they had induced Sen. Carroll to introduce the substitute amendment. Sen. Carroll said his bill was to protect the wood industries of northern Wisconsin which sold waste products for the manufacture of wood alcohol. He charged that those who appeared before the committee hearing in favor of the Gettelman bill did so at the instigation of grain alcohol interests.

DRUNKEN DRIVER PAYS $50 FINE

Judge Also Orders Driver's License Revoked for Six Months

A fine of $50 and costs was imposed by Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court this morning on Arthur Jackson, Kimberly, when the latter pleaded guilty of drunken driving. Jackson appeared in court yesterday and pleaded not guilty but at the hearing today he changed his plea and paid the fine. The judge also ordered that Jackson's driver's license be revoked for six months.

6 DRUNKEN DRIVERS SINCE JAN. 1st

Jackson was arrested about 11:50 Sunday night by Lester Van Roy, city motorcycle officer, on W. College-ave. The officer said that Jackson was driving in an erratic manner at a high rate of speed, passing cars on either the left or right side, and endangering other motorists on the street.

With Jackson when he was arrested were Mat Kline and John Williams, route 3, Appleton. These men pleaded guilty yesterday of drunkenness and were fined $10 and costs each.

ASSEMBLY FOR PARDON OF MOONEY, BILLINGS

Madison—(AP)—Retracing criminal history to the Dreyfuss case in France, the assembly today adopted a joint resolution memoralizing the governor of California to pardon Tom Mooney and Warren K. Billings, participants in the Preparedness day bombing of 1916.

Opposition to the measure was led by Speaker Charles B. Perry, who stated that "after all the court procedure this case has been through in California it is not proper for our state to dictate to the governor what he should do."

"I believe this to be unwarranted interference," Speaker Perry said. "We have no right to delve into the private affairs of other states."

Assemblyman Ben Rubin, Milwaukee, and G. Erle Ingram, Eau Claire, assailed Perry's attitude.

DEMOCRATS IN SENATE SHAPE PARTY POLICIES

Washington—(AP)—Senate Democratic leaders today demanded that economic rehabilitation be made the dominant political issue, as the party chieftans assembled here for a discussion of policies.

Senators Walsh of Massachusetts, and Robinson of Arkansas, in speeches in the senate waved aside the prohibition controversy and insisted the economic depression be faced as the party problem.

At the same time, Chairman Raskob of the Democratic national committee, went into conference with Alfred E. Smith, presidential candidate in 1928, and other party leaders to map out the program for Thursday's session of the committee.

NO COUNTRY VICTOR IN ACCORD—BRIAND

Paris—(AP)—No country emerged as the victor in the naval accord reached over the weekend by France Great Britain, and Italy, Aristide Briand, French foreign minister, told the chamber of deputies today.

"Every country made the necessary sacrifices," he declared. "That is the best praise I can give it."

The details of the agreement have not yet been published, pending their study by the Washington and Tokio governments.

DEPUTY ATTACKS POLICY OF BRIAND

French Foreign Minister Makes Vigorous Defense of His Position

Paris—(AP)—The chamber of deputies today passed the foreign affairs budget, 551 to 14, the largest vote so far accorded the ministry of Premier Pierre Laval.

Paris—(AP)—Arguing that Franco-German reapproachment is a dangerous policy for France, Deputy Franklin-Bouillon who always has criticized the Versailles treaty as too lenient, opened the discussion of the foreign affairs budget in the chamber this afternoon.

M. Briand defended his foreign policy vigorously.

"After the convulsion of war," he said, "must we be reconciled to the fact that countries forever will clash with one another? When the opportunity for reapproachment occurs one must seize upon it. The fact that France was victorious does not disqualify it from inaugurating such a policy."

Referring to the recent naval accord between France, Italy and Great Britain, the veteran foreign minister said there was nothing in it to cause prejudice to the general disarmament conference set for next year, which he described as "one of the most important events in the history of the world."

Reverting to Germany, Mr. Briand admitted that Germany had a right to affirm her claims but added that this did not mean that all would be accepted.

M. Franklin-Bouillon launched a general attack against Foreign Minister Artistide Briand's "too mild" policy toward Germany and warned his colleagues against what he declared was German "menace."

The war-blinded Deputy Louis Thebault, preached the doctrine of peace, and in opposition to M. Franklin-Bouillon, approved M. Briand's efforts for world peace and reapproachment with Germany.

GREEN BAY FATALITY FOLLOWED BY ARREST

Green Bay— (AP) —Joseph Wolfe, 25, part owner of the Orange inn on Highway 141 near here, was held by police today for questioning regarding the death of Gust Obry, 40, of Preble, who was struck by a hit and run driver while riding on a bicycle here Sunday. Wolfe was taken into custody when police noticed a headlight lens and hub cap on his automobile were missing. He denied driving the machine at the time of the accident.

AGED CRIPPLE DIES

Bessemer, Mich. —(AP)— John Ahteenpaa, 83, crippled 23 years ago when his neck was broken in a mine accident, died at his home here today. He was able to move only his head during nearly a quarter century since the accident.

RETIRED CHIEF OF ENGINEERS DIES SUDDENLY

Cerebral Hemorrhage Takes Life of Lieut. Gen. Edgar Jadwin

Panama City — (AP) — Panama's army and navy colony today mourned Lieut. Gen. Edgar Jadwin, 65, retired chief of the army engineers, who died at the Gorgas hospital at 5 o'clock p. m. yesterday after a cerebral hemorrhage.

His body, with that of Maj. Gen. George Leroy Irwin, who died at Port of Spain recently, was placed aboard the transport St. Mihiel today for return to the United States.

General Jadwin was known most widely for his work with the river and harbors of the United States. He came here Feb. 25 to head a committee to determine whether a new interoceanic canal, is needed in Nicaragua, or whether the Panama canal should be provided with new locks.

He was graduated from West Point in 1890 and went into the engineering corps. He became a lieutenant general upon retirement in 1929.

Chairmanship of the Federal Power Commission and adoption by congress of his famous scheme for Mississippi River flood control climaxed two score years of public work by Lieut. Gen. Jadwin.

In 39 years of active service as an army engineer, his tours of duty, in peace and war, took him from one end of the country to the other and from Cuba to Panama and France.

General Jadwin was called from retirement by President Hoover to become chairman of the newly created Federal Power commission in July, 1930. This body was one of the pet projects of the engineer-president and superseded an agency consisting of the secretaries of war, agriculture and interior who, ex-officio, had been trying for ten years to supervise the granting of power development permits on navigable streams and public lands of the United States.

President Hoover believed that the secretaries had too many other duties to perform to permit them to give power problems the close atten-

PERUVIAN OFFICERS FREE AFTER REVOLT

Lima, Peru—(AP)— Twenty-two army officers taken prisoner after an unsuccessful uprising at Lima and Callao Friday, Feb. 20, against the Sanchez Cerro administration, have been released by the new provisional government.

Those freed include General Pedro Pablo Martinez, chief of the mutineers, who tried to hold a customs house at Callao against government troops, and his aide, Captain Jose M. Arena, head of the Callao police force.

The new government, headed by Dr. Ricardo Leoncio Elias, chief justice of the supreme court, today awaited word from negotiators sent to Arequipa by airplane to seek collaboration of insurgent leaders there.

The deposed provisional president, Lieutenant Colonel Luis M. Sanchez Cerro, remains in his quarters at the Bolivar hotel.

GYMNASIUM ONLY BIG REFORMATORY PROJECT

Green Bay—(AP)— The legislative joint finance committee's sub-committee on inspection of state charitable and penal institutions, after visiting here yesterday, has advised interested local persons that completion of the state reformatory gymnasium, above the administration building, is the only "capital project contemplated for the institution.

Senator Philip Nelson, chairman of the sub-committee, defined "capital" expenditures as those for new buildings or completion and remodeling of buildings. He said he believed the financing bill for the board of control of charitable and penal institutions would be ready for legislative action within three weeks or a month, much earlier than usual.

No Directed Verdict For Gary Youth

Valparaiso, Ind.—(AP)—Judge Grant Crumpacker today over-ruled a motion for a directed verdict of acquittal and the defense began its case in the trial of Virgil Kirkland for the murder of Arlene Draves, his 18-year-old Gary, Ind., sweetheart.

Judge Crumpacker was asked to take the case away from the jury and give a directed verdict exonerating Kirkland. Oscar B. Thiel, Gary defense lawyer, petitioned a directed verdict of "not guilty."

"If I should grant that I must assume there has been no evidence of any crime," observed the judge.

"I am almost convinced of that," replied Thiel.

Thiel began his argument.

The jury was absent, but none of the regular court rooms fans were.

All the evidence intended to show murder and assault was circumstantial, argued Thiel, contending, that, upon the state's testimony, all the acts leading up to the girl's death could have occurred innocently.

"There was no violation of the law, except of the liquor law and that is not included in the indictment," declared Thiel.

"And if it ever was the duty of the court to take a case from the jury this is it. Public mind has been inflamed and possibly some of this feeling has reached the jury."

Dr. R. E. Harger, professor of toxicology, Indiana university, the first defense witness, testified he examined the stomach contents of Miss Draves and found 3.8 grains of grain alcohol, 17-100ths of wood alcohol, andd 22-100ths of formaldehyde.

Dr. Harger said that the wood alcohol he found in the contents of the stomach would not have caused death, although it might have caused intoxication. He also said death was not caused by poison or by poison liquor.

Defense attorneys said they were considering asking the court to permit them to exhume the body of Miss Draves on the ground that the autopsy performed immediately after her death was not complete. The attorneys added, however, that they had not fully decided to make such a request.

IOWA U. OFFICIALS WON'T YIELD PAPERS

Stand Guard Over Records Pending Orders from Superiors

Iowa City, Iowa—(AP)— University of Iowa officials and state agents today continued their guard over business records and correspondence of university officials as they awaited word from their respective superiors in Des Moines on the order of the legislative committee to impound the records.

Dillard W. Bray, temporarily in charge of the office of W. H. Bates, university secretary, where an all-night vigil was kept by the agents and night watchmen, again refused today to turn over the records until he had received definite orders from Bates.

The guard of state agents was extended this morning to the offices of President Walter A. Jessup and J. M. Fisk, superintendent of grounds and buildings.

The order to impound the records, issued late yesterday afternoon precipitated a controversy between the state agents and university officers over admission to the office of Bates.

FORMER JUDGE DIES

Racine—(AP)—Walter C. Palmer, 82, former probate court judge and a leader in industrial enterprises, died at his home here today. He had practiced law since 1881, was a director of the First National bank, and founder of the local building and loan association.

READING WAITS UPON SPEECHES IN UPPER HOUSE

Schall Insists His Address Be Read Before Message from Hoover

EXPECT TO BACK VETO

Watson Predicts Sufficient Votes to Sustain President's Objections

Washington —(AP)—President Hoover's message on the Norris Muscle Shoals bill reached the senate in midafternoon but its reading was delayed for completion of some senatorial speeches.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, was in the midst of a long speech when the message arrived.

When he had concluded, Senator Schall, Republican, Minnesota, insisted upon having read a speech of his.

Congress swung into its last day but one of the short session with both houses meeting early in expectation of making inroads upon the mass of minor legislation for which enactment is sought.

In spite of late sessions last night the senate, which adjourned at 3 o'clock a. m. met again at 10 o'clock and the house convened at 11 o'clock.

While waiting for President Hoover's veto of the Muscle Shoals bill, Republican leader Watson of the Senate, predicted there were enough votes to sustain it. There was a possibility the friends of the legislation might make no effort to override the veto.

Wants Quick Action

Confident of one or two more votes than the one-third required to sustain the veto Watson said he would ask the senate to vote on the veto as soon as possible after it is received.

However, there was no assurance that action would be taken at once. The constitution requires that a veto message must be spread upon the journal before it can be voted upon. That means the message must actually be transcribed into the senate journal—a process that will necessitate considerable time.

The senate considered the conference report on the Cooper-Jones bill for federal cooperation in the promotion of mother and infant welfare work and then abandoned it for calendar bills. The report was approved yesterday by the house. The senate planned to return to it later in the day.

Approve Brand Bill

The house meanwhile passed the Brand bill providing penalties for persons circulating false rumors denying the integrity of financial institutions associated with the Federal Reserve board. The vote was 145 to 51.

It planned to devote the day largely to the consideration of private bills to which no objection is presented.

The senate finance committee approved a house resolution ordering an investigation of economic conditions in the oil, farming, lumber and other industries for the products of which embargoes have been urged. The inquiry would be conducted by the house ways and means committee.

Chairman Smoot of the senate finance committee objected to consideration of a bill by the senate to authorize loans on veterans certificates issued during the last two years.

24 ARE ILL AFTER THEY DRINK GINGER EXTRACT

Los Angeles —(AP)— Twenty-four ex-service men, victims of paralysis caused by drinking an adulterated ginger extract, were being treated today at the National Soldiers home at Sawtelle, a suburb, as county and federal officers investigated the source of supply.

Dr. Maurice Smith of the United States Public Health service, who came to Los Angeles to advise on the 108 cases previously reported in the county, said the extract in most instances was purchased in drug stores.

Investigators working under Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, head of the county health board, are obtaining samples of ginger extract at drug stores for laboratory tests. The extract contains 80 to 85 per cent alcohol, Dr. Pomeroy said. The extract found by the investigators to contain phenolester, an adulterant which supplants the ginger.

Dr. Smith attributed the outbreak of paralysis here to activities of eastern extract bootleggers who are using the adulterant to make a cheaper product and shipping it here for sale.

NEBRASKA BANK ROBBED

Dakin, Neb.—(AP)—The Jefferson County bank here was held up and robbed of approximately $1,000 by three men at 9 o'clock a. m. today. The robbers escaped. Employes of the bank fired 15 or 20 shots at the robbers as they drove away.

Letter From Washington Found In Massachusetts

Uxbridge, Mass. —(AP)— A letter signed "George Washington" and written to Col. Burwell Bassett, of Richmond, Va., has been made public here by Mrs. Milton F. Fish, whose father acquired it during the Civil war.

The missive which discussed the writer's effort to regain his health, was inscribed "Mount Vernon, May 20th, '82." Whether the last two numerals were intended to represent "1782" was not clear, but historians scouted the possibility that it was written by General George Washington at that time.

It was pointed out that Washington made his trip to the West Indies, which was mentioned in the letter as being contemplated, some 30 years before that date, or in 1751.

The letter reads:

"Mount Vernon, May 20th, '82.

"The situation of my health, my dear sir, being yet in such a state as renders father efforts absolutely necessary to re-establish it, have by the advice of many physicians, and the strenuous interpostion of those of my friends who have my future happiness at heart, concluded to leave this part of the world and try the effects of the sea air and climates of the West Indies and expect to imbark from this tomorrow, in a vessel from Alexandria.

"The attachment which I formed for your amiable Daughter has been the only insurmountable difficulty why I have not before made the experiment, everything that impedes s odesirable a union cannot but be lamented and as the situation of my health is I hope the only interuption to it nothing in my power shall be left unessayed to effect it and on a relyance that kind Providence will crown my efforts with success, shall be induced to persevere, with a daily hope of seeing or hearing from You declined until the last moment, writing.

"I beg you to offer my most affectionately to your amiable sons who will pardon my not writing the family of Studly, Mrs. and Miss Steth and all friends and I beg to be kindly remembered to with the sincerest good wishes for your health and happiness I subscribe myself

Very sincerely
"Yours,
"George Washington"

Mr. Earle expressed a wish before his death that the letter be given to the War Relic Society of Amherst college if it was found.

Michigan Capital Punishment Bill Enters Final Stages

SOLONS TRY TO DECIDE MEANS OF EXECUTION

If Approved by Governor Measure Will Be Put on Referendum Ballot

Lansing, Mich.—(AP)—Capital punishment was rushing through the final stages of its legislative journey today. The task of ironing out differences over the technical provisions were in the hands of a conference committee. The committee agreed to a number of changes in phraseology and left only major questions such as whether execution shall be by electrocution or lethal gas.

The legislative branches were in accord as to the necessity for immediate effect on the referendum section of the bill, and registered the required two-thirds majority to assure the proposal a place on the ballots in the general election April 6, providing the measure is adopted and approved by Governor Brucker. It was anticipated the conference committee would report promptly and before night the bill may be on its way to the executive desk. It is believed certain Brucker will sign it.

Both the senate and the house now have passed the bill proper and have given immediate effect to the referendum section. The senate passed the bill providing for execution in the electric chair and the house changed this to the lethal gas chamber.

Monday night the measure was shuttled back and forth. When the bill reached the senate its sponsor, Senator Joe C. Foster, proposed a conference to study amendments added by the house. The committee went into conference at once.

Indications were that the insistence of the house that lethal gas, rather than electrocution, be the death weapon, may prevail. Senator Foster and other upper branch members indicated they would yield the point.

If approved in the April election the death penalty will become effective in Michigan next Jan. 1.

The legislature, in breathing spells between capital punishment manouvers, took time to administer a spanking to an assistant attorney general some of the members claimed had insulted them. The house adopted a resolution, introduced by Rep. Martin Bradley (Democrat) of Menominee, providing for a legislative investigation of remarks made by Charles Rubiner in a Lansing speech a few days ago. The members pushed the resolution through despite a letter from Rubiner in which he said he intended no offense.

Rubiner was credited with saying legislators throttle good bills for political reasons. He described politics as "dirty business" and criticized members of the legislature who he said are in the employ of concerns or organizations interested in pending measures.

SPECIAL ACT NEEDED TO PERMIT MELLON TO REFUSE $5,000

Washington —(AP)— Think of needing an act of congress to let you refuse money!

That is the treasury's fix, however, because no law permits the government to refuse gifts. S. A. Long of Shinnston, W. Va., willed $5,000 to the government while his granddaughter only got $1,000.

Secretary Mellon thought the heir should be better provided, for, so congress gave him "special relief" and today sent the president a bill authorizing Mellon to give the money back.

ARGENTINA FETES BRITISH PRINCES

Wales and Brother Separate to Spend Night on Two Ranches

Bariloche, Argentina—(AP)— The Prince of Wales and his brother, Prince George, spent last night on different ranches, the prince of Wales remaining at Estancia Huemul near here and Prince George going to Estancia Polcaneau.

The Esntancia Huemul is the property of the Ortiz Basualdo brothers and is one of the largest and richest of western Argentina. That at Pilcaneau is the property of the Argentine Southern company.

The prince of Wales originally intended to go on to San Antonio to Estancia Huemul with Prince George but changed his plans and remained at Huemul, where his hostess was the former Leonora Hughes, dancer who as the partner of the late Maurice Mouvet once thrilled millions. She is now Senora Leonora de Ortiz Basualdo, wife of Carlos Ortiz Basualdo.

Hundreds of persons greeted the two princes as they arrived aboard the lake steamer Patagonia and landed, amid deafening whistling of lake craft and tooting of horns of automobiles ashore. The prince of Wales wore a flannel suit, yellow chamois shoes, a basque cap, and a light overcoat.

He apologized for his hesitancy with Spanish irregular verbs, although he seemed proficient enough in the language to newspapermen.

HIGHWAYS IN STATE IN GOOD CONDITION

The general condition of highways throughout the state is from fair to good, according to a report received by the Outagamie-co highway department from the state highway commission. Paved roads are in good condition, due to the absence of snow. Snow or rain with cold weather, would cause the pavements to become slippery. Unpaved roads are reported to be very soft in places.

CLUB TO MEET

The 4-H club of Twin Willows school will meet at 7:30 Wednesday evening at the home of Clarence Kohl, route 1, Appleton. Leslie Hanson is in charge of the program.

DOHR NAMED HEAD OF OUTAGAMIE-CO C. M. T. C. GROUP

Set County Quota at 26 Enrollments—State Aim Is 1,300

Raymond P. Dohr again has been named chairman of the Outagamie-co committee in charge of enrollments for Citizens Military Training camps, according to information received here from Frank Parker, commander of Sixth Corps area headquarters.

Other members of the committee are Major Olin G. Dryer, Kaukauna; Irving Frostad, Seymour; Herbert H. Helble, Lieut. Gordon R. McIntyre, Captain Cloyd Schroeder, Joseph Shields and Lieut. William A. Spearbraker, all of this city.

Medical examiners are Dr. G. W. Carlson, Dr. W. J. Frawley, Dr. D. M. Gallaher, and Dr. E. F. McGrath, Appleton, and Dr. C. G. Mais, Kimberly.

The county quota has been set at 26, while last year it was 25. The state quota this year is 1,300. Last year it was 1,200.

Outagamie-co youths will go to camp at Fort Snelling, Minn., next summer from July 31 to Aug. 29, it was announced. They will be given the choice of attending camp at Fort Sheridan, Ill., if they do not desire to go to Fort Snelling. The camp dates for Fort Sheridan are July 30 to Aug. 28.

TWO APPEALS GRANTED ON BUILDING JOBS

Two appeals were granted by the board of appeals at a meeting at city hall Monday evening. Max E. Koletzke, 903 N. Drew-st, was given permission to build a garage, and William Campshure, 711 N. Union-st, to construct a residence and garage. The former proposed building interferes with the sideyard ordinance, and the latter with the regulation concerning setback lines.

APPLETON FIRM OPENS 2 NEW BRANCH STORES

The Appleton Wholesale store, W. Lawrence-st, has opened branch units in Menasha and New London, it was announced Tuesday. The two branch stores will be operated on the same basis as the local store, it was stated. The manager of the Menasha store is Sylvester Aschenbrenner, and Euegene Krueger heads the New London establishment. The stores were formerly operated by Murray, Inc.

DISCUSS REPORT AT COMMISSION MEETING

The annual report of the city water department was discussed at the monthly meeting of the water commission in the city hall Monday afternoon. The report was ordered placed on file. It will receive further consideration when the auditor's report is filed. It was decided to purchase a quantity of brass fixtures from the Muller Co.

Texas Rangers Clean Up New Oil Boom District

Kilgore, Texas. —(AP)—This mushroom oil boom town was as nearly a model city today as 10 high-booted Texas rangers could make it.

A cold rain had erased the footprints of undesirables, both men and women, who fled last night before a raiding party led by Tom Hickman, ranger captain. More than thirty persons, including two reported to be escaped convicts, were in jail at Longview Texas, nearby.

Kilgore received a warning of the cleanup when five rangers of the Rio Grande patrol rode in from Newtown, a shack village herding a dozen prisoners before their ponies. The raiders, assembled from various stations over the state, struck quickly.

Quiet newcomers with broadbrimmed hats and bulges on the hips became identified also as members of the service that cherishes traditions of fights with outlaws and Indians.

They raided domino parlors, cafes drugstores and many other places of business, arresting approximately 300 persons.

A church was utilized as a jail. To it a patrol wagon borrowed from Longview brought load after load of prisoners for examination. Police Chief P. K. McIntosh of Kilgore, and Detective Captain Leonard Pack and two identification experts from Dallas worked with the rangers.

Upon complaints from the prisoners, natural gas was hastily piped into the church and stoves were installed.

No gambling paraphernalia or liquor was seized. Search of the prisoners however, yielded a quantity of vicious knives.

Officers said the raids were proposed to break up a crminal gang.

Mayor Malcolm Crim, inducted into office three days ago with the incorporation of the town, approved.

"We will make Kilgore one oil town that isn't tough," he said.

DEEP SEA DIVER TO ADDRESS STUDENTS

Covered coral gardens, long lost ships, unusual sea animals, sharks and voracious barracuda will be pictured in an underwater world to high school students by Robert M. Zimmerman in the story of his adventures on the sea floor, which he will give tomorrow morning at the Lyceum assembly at Appleton high school.

The noted swimmer and deep sea diver will illustrate his subject "On the Bottom of the Sea," with many deep sea curios which he will bring with him. Mr. Zimmerman has been connected with several motion picture companies in taking charge of the deep sea operations in such pictures as "Twenty Thousands Leagues Under the Sea" and "The Submarine Eye."

INQUEST IN BODMER DEATH IS DEFERRED

Witnesses Tell of Scuffle in Which Man Was Fatally Injured

The inquest into the death of Anthony Bodmer, 51, 220 E. Atlantic-st., was postponed last night until next Tuesday, March 10, after testimony of 13 witnesses had been taken. The inquest was opened at the city hall yesterday afternoon by Dr. H. E. Ellsworth, coroner. Oscar J. Schmiege, assistant district attorney, assisted.

Three doctors, who attended Bodmer during the time he was confined to the hospital after his skull was fractured in a scuffle in the yard in the rear of his home several weeks ago, testified that Bodmer must have fallen terrifically hard to the ground in order to sustain the injuries he did. His skull was badly fractured at the back of his head, they said, both his eyes were blackened and his lip was cut. One of the doctors said he smelled liquor on Bodmer's breath while he was treating him at the hospital after the accident. The doctors were Dr. E. L. Bolton, Dr. E. F. Mielke and Dr. R. J. Winkler.

The fractured skull resulted in Bodmer's death last Friday and the inquest was ordered by Dr. Ellsworth and Stanley A. Staidl, district attorney.

Bodmer was injured, according to the testimony, following a "party" at the Bodmer home during the evening. People who had attended the party included: Marvin Ellis, Appleton, a son-in-law of Mrs. Bodmer; Mrs. Bodmer; Howard Ellis, a brother of Marvin; Milton Farrington and Ed Nienhaus, Greenleaf; Russell Roblee, Appleton; Miss Irma Siglincky, Appleton; and George Sager.

Other Witnesses

All of these people, with the exception of Nienhaus, testified. Other witnesses were: Clem Hilgenberg, Kaukauna, a nephew of the deceased; Donald Maas, Appleton, driver of the ambulance which took Bodmer to the hospital, and Theodore V. Frank, Appleton.

All of the witnesses declared that no liquor had been served at the party, but Farrington said he had a bottle in his car and that he "emptied it and became dizzy." It was during the interval when Ellis and Bodmer were trying to get Farrington into his car to send him home that Bodmer was injured.

According to Ellis' story on the witness stand he was pulling and Bodmer was pushing Farrington into the car. Ellis said he thought Bodmer might have been kicked in the lip during this procedure. Mrs. Bodmer called Mr. Bodmer and urged him to come into the house out of the cold, Ellis said, and he also urged Bodmer to go. Ellis said that Bodmer became angry when Ellis urged him to go back into the house and that when Ellis tried to assist him to the house Bodmer started to attack him. Ellis said he merely pushed Bodmer and the latter slipped on some ice and fell to the ground, striking his head. Ellis denied hitting Bodmer. He testified that the story first told to police by himself and Mrs. Bodmer, "that Bodmer had fallen off the back porch" was concocted by them.

Mrs. Bodmer said that she didn't see what took place outside except that she called Mr. Bodmer to come into the house so he wouldn't catch a cold.

Tells False Story

She said that when Sergeant Mathew McGinnis came to the house to investigate the accident she thought he was a newspaper man, so she decided to tell him her husband fell off from the porch. She said if she had known he was a police officer she certainly would have told the right story at once.

Farrington was unable to give many of the details of what happened when Bodmer was hurt. He was positive there was no fight but said he didn't know just what had happened.

Theodore Frank, a fellow workman of Bodmer's, told of visiting him at the hospital. Mr. Sager, a neighbor, visited the Bodmer home early the evening of the accident to use the telephone, and he was summoned later to help lift Mr. Bodmer to a couch after he had been injured.

Legislature Passes Bill Hitting Chain Banking

The first bill to pass the state legislature this year relative to chain banking was one introduced by Assemblyman Oscar J. Schmiege, Appleton, representative of the first Outagamie-co district. The resolution, adopted some time ago by the assembly, last week was approved by the senate.

The measure is a resolution from the state legislature, petitioning the congress of the United States to promptly enact amendments to the national banking laws to make it impossible for national banks to be owned or controlled by holding companies.

The measure reads, in part:

"Whereas, there has been a startling development of chain banking in all parts of the country during the last two years, probably more than one-third of the total banking resources of the United States having already passed into the control of holding companies; and

Whereas, chain banking, at its best, means control of the local banks by corporations having no interest in the communities they serve other than to derive the maximum amount of profits therefrom, and is destructive of individual initiative, on which the economic greatness of this country is founded; and

Whereas, chain banking, at least in the middle west, has developed principally around national banks, which are within the exclusive control of the federal government, so that the states cannot deal with this problem alone; therefore, be it

Resolved by the legislature of Wisconsin that the United States Congress pass a law making it illegal for national banks to be owned or controlled by holding companies."

CHAMBER DIVISION OPPOSES STATE BILL

Opposition to the bill now before the state legislature which would levy an excise tax on the gross volume of sales of retail establishments was voiced at a meeting of the chamber of commerce retail division in the chamber office Monday morning. A committee was named recently to study the bill, with Gerald Galpin as chairman. The report of the committee was reviewed.

Final plans for the annual spring opening on March 11, 12 and 13 also were discussed. A report on arrangements was made by John Mullen, chairman of the special committee in charge.

INSPECTS BUILDING

W. C. Mehlstein, chief building engineer for the Wisconsin Industrial commission, spent Tuesday in Appleton. He investigated the safety of a local building.

NOTED SOPRANO, CLAIRE DUX, TO CONCLUDE SERIES

Appears Here This Evening in Outstanding Event on Winter Program

Pinch-hitting for Florence Austral at a Chicago Symphony orchestra performance, Claire Dux, noted soprano who will sing here tonight as the final number of the Community Artist series, sang Agatha's aria from "Der Freischutz" in a manner that so impressed Mr. Stock, conductor of the symphony, that he broke his no-encore rule in honor of her success.

Located while shopping downtown Mme. Dux was rushed back to her apartment to dress and then over to Orchestra hall just in time for the opening of the concert. Without time to rehearse she sang the dificult aria as though she and Conductor Stock had spent weeks going over the score together.

This incident was shortly before she married Charles H. Swift, when she left the concert stage, emerging only on gala musical occasions. Three seasons ago, however, she was induced to make a short tour each year. This season half of her time was spent on the Pacific coast and the rest in the middlewest.

Tickets for the concert can be had at the door or at Bellings drugstore.

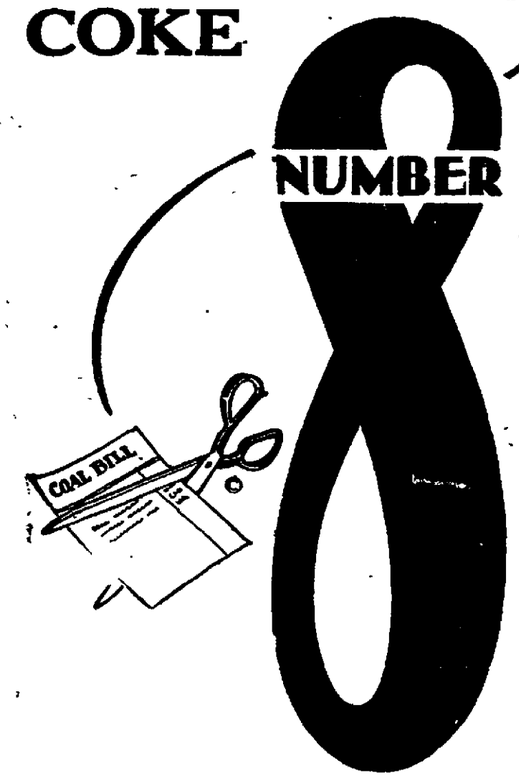
8 REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD BUY...

Power Co. COKE

Cuts fuel Costs



Most any fuel will keep your home reasonably warm, providing your furnace knows its job. By the same reasoning, a cheap pair of shoes will protect your feet . . . for a time. But inferior shoes must be replaced long before a better pair have begun to wear out; and low grade fuel will have vanished into ashes, soot and clinkers, while there's still a lot of Power Co. Coke piled in the bin.

For more than original cost must be taken into consideration. Power Co. Coke saves you money because it outlasts ordinary fuels by a large margin . . . because it will keep your home warm without the necessity of frequent re-ordering . . . because it is a BETTER fuel, with a greater proportion of heat producing content.

Our fuel expert can show you how to best use this BETTER fuel.

Rioters Halt Session Of New York Legislators At Albany

TROOPERS AND RED ENGAGE IN WILD STRUGGLE

Communists Ejected from Statehouse After Unemployment Outbreak

Albany, N. Y.—(AP)—Shouting and tumult amounting to a virtual small riot by two hundred demonstrators for the unemployed brought the assembly session to a halt shortly after the session began today. State troopers seized demonstrators by the dozen and ejected them from the chamber while others in the galleries shouted and waved their arms.

The uproar showed no signs of abatement at the end of five minutes with state troopers still striving to quiet the noise and eject the more violent demonstrators. A group gathered about on the steps of the capitol.

When troopers started to clear the galleries some of the Communists shouted "fight." Troopers swung their clubs vigorously and at the end of ten minutes had evicted every one from the gallery and had forced the exit of those who were in the rear of the chamber.

One or two troopers were knocked down in the melee. Members of the assembly and the spectators who had thronged the chamber applauded vigorously when the demonstrators were ejected.

Interrupts Clerk

The disturbance started when the clerk began routine reading of legislative business. As he began, his voice was drowned out by a shout from a man in the rear of the assembly chamber who said he wanted to speak "in behalf of the children that are hungry."

The movement of troopers toward the individual was a signal for the beginning of shouts from the demonstrators.

While the demonstration was proceeding in the assembly chamber, another group of unemployed was holding a mass meeting on the steps of the capitol. They were joined by their fellows who had been ejected from the building.

The troopers then cleared the capitol steps. They encountered some opposition and again the clubs were wielded freely. In a short time the steps were cleared and the agitators were scattered about Capitol park, jeering and booing at the constabulary.

Some of the group formed lines and paraded down State-st while spectators lined the sidewalks.

Captain J. F. Keely of the troopers, was cut about the head and face during the scrimmage. It is believed his assailant was wearing brass knuckles.

A squad of troopers was detailed to surround the executive mansion.

William Bell, senate page, became a casulty when he went to the assistance of a trooper who had been knocked down. Bell was struck over the head with a stick carried by one of the rioters.

Wisconsin Weather

Generally fair tonight and Wednesday; somewhat colder in north and extreme east portion tonight.

General Weather

Generally fair weather has prevailed over almost the entire country during the past 24 hours except for light snow over Lakes Superior and Huron and light rain or snow at scattered places in the western plains states and Rocky Mountains. Low pressure over the lake region and south Atlantic coast has caused temperatures to rise slowly in all sections from the Mississippi Valley eastward, but elsewhere the temperature changes have been unimportant. Fair weather is expected in this section during the next 24 hours, with colder tonight.

FARM COMMITTEE TO MEET ON THURSDAY

The county agricultural committee will meet at the courthouse at 1:30 Thursday afternoon. R. A. Amundson, a supervisor with the state department of agriculture, will attend the meeting. Gus Sell, county agent and Miss Harriet Thompson, county home demonstration agent, will outline their plans for the coming season.

Stansbury Young, who also is an Eagle scout, was unable to attend the ceremony. He attends school at Lake Forest academy in Lake Forest, Ill.

Fine Acting Displayed In Junior Class Play

Amateur Lesbians of the junior class, Appleton High School, stepped forth in the rollicking Westervelt-Clements comedy, "Under Twenty," when they made their annual presentation before a crowded audience in Lawrence Memorial chapel last night.

The part of Russell Farnum, father in the family, was read in emergency by Harry Oaks, since illness prevented William Zuehlke, Jr., from performing.

The students presented a piece unusual in the general stage presence of all the characters. The fact that one of the important parts had to be read was unnoticed in the work of the others, and a good direction and character handling on the part of Miss Ruth McKennan was evident.

Miss Alice Doerfler is the rogue in the play, about whom the plot is centered. She is the youngest in the Farnum family and becomes the family "fixer" in her father's business troubles, her sister's love affairs and incidentally her own. In an attempt to make a money match for Grace, the role taken by Veronica Robedeau, Peeks complicates a situation that takes the whole of the third act to untangle.

Plays Mother's Part

The mother, a woman with a grand manner and a lack of money to flourish it, was portrayed by Marcella Haberman. The two men involved in the story's love affairs are Cyrus Trittin as Donald Brown and Robert Sellers as Ted Rutherford. Miss Dolores Tustison played the sophisticate, the woman from whom Peeks successfully attempts to save Donald Brown, whom she not only wins for her sister, Grace, but eventually for herself. Miss Ruth Weinkauf played the philosophic maid in the comedy, as Rannie.

The beginning of the second act was written by Miss Ruth McKennan. It was a dancing party scene of a modern house party, including four couples, who chatter in a modernly, clever fashion. These parts were taken by Marguerite Lappen, William Wilson, Margaret Plank, Merrill Mohr, Inez Wurl, John Rechner, June Kaufman, Frank Dean. Two song numbers were sung in this short scene by Merrill Mohr and William Wilson. Miss McKennan wrote the ensemble to accommodate more students in the play.

At Summer Home

Seasweep, the Long Island summer home of the Farnums is the setting of the comedy. Mrs. Farnum and her daughter, Grace are scheming to make a money marriage match for the latter; Mr. Farnum is struggling against the money problems of an extravagant family; Peeks, a movie-struck youngster, strives to become more than a seventeen-year-old child. She arrives at saving Donald Brown, rich rancher from the wiles of Diana Edgerton, snagging him for her sister, Grace. It later develops that Ted Rutherford not only loves Grace, but inherits a chewing gum fortune on the eve of her marriage to the rancher. The plot reaches its end when Peeks is locked in the servants' room for misbehavior and upon the arrival of Donald Brown, via the bedroom window, it develops that Grace and Ted have eloped and the play ends happily.

Funeral services will be held at 8 o'clock Thursday morning from the Schommer Funeral home and at 8:30 at St. Mary church, the Rev. J. E Meagher officiating. Burial will be in St. Mary cemetery. The body can be viewed at the Funeral home today and tomorrow.

REACH AGREEMENT ON SALT QUESTION

Gandhi and Indian Finance Minister Arrive at Accord on Issue

New Delhi—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi and Sir George Schuster, Indian finance minister, conferring today at the vice-regal palace, reached an agreement on the salt question, one of the outstanding problems in the way of abandonment of the civil disobedience campaign.

Almost exactly a year ago the Indian Nationalists, led by Gandhi, initiated a campaign of violation of the salt laws, which provide for a British monopoly. Throughout current negotiations for calling off the civil campaign Gandhi was contended that the Indian people be empowered to make their own salt.

Gandhi arose at 4 o'clock a. m. and was seen on the balcony of his house with his arms outstretched to heaven praying and reciting the litany of the Gita, or the Hindu bible. Beside him, with her face toward the dawn, stood the mystical white-robed figure of Miss Madeline Slade, British-born convert of the mahatma.

The agreement between Gandhi and Sir George was reached after a two hour conference. After taking an hour's rest Gandhi proceeded to the viceroy's quarters to resume his talks with Lord Irwin which, it was expected, would lead today to a formal agreement permitting abandonment of the civil disobedience campaign.

COWS HAS TRIPLETS

Thomasville, Ga. —(AP)— Triplets have been born to a Jersey cow on the farm of W. W. Bassett, in Jefferson-co, Fla., near here. Two of the trio arrived on the day following the birth of the first. The mother, one son, and two daughters are doing well.

New York — There's a fellow in town who can crawl through a keyhole. It's a keyhole 6½ inches wide and 12½ inches long specially made for his stuff. Sam Brawerman, 5 feet, 4 and 150 pounds, buttonhole maker, who has ambitions as an entertainer, demonstrated it in Union square. He also crawled through a tennis racquet and lay upon 1,200 iron spikes sticking out of the ground in the shape of a couch.

LEGIONAIRES PLAN SERVICE OFFICE TO HELP SECURE LOANS

Will Station Post Officer at City Hall Every Evening This Week

A service office at the city hall, to be open from 7 to 9 o'clock every evening this week, was approved by Oney Johnson post of the American legion at their meeting last night at the Elk club. A post officer will have charge of the office and will have all necessary blanks and information relative to the loan provisions of the adjusted compensation certificates. The office will be maintained only this week. Wednesday night, when the city council meets, the office will be maintained in some room other than the council chambers.

Veterans who attended last night's meeting heard a short talk by Mrs. Adalin Wright Macauley, former state and national president of the Legion Auxiliary, and also president of Fidac auxiliary.

She discussed the feeling between the soldiers of the various allied nations, work that was being done by the group, conditions in Europe and warned against inroads of communism.

The veterans decided to bring their sons to the next meeting of the post where the youngsters will be entertained with a specially arranged program and will consider the Cub movement for younger boys.

A downtown office will established in the Irving Zuelke building so post records may be kept at a central point. Carl Gorrow was named to the executive committee to succeed Charles Sparling, and an auditing committee of Carl Becher, J. N. Fisher and A. F. Klapstein was named to go over post books.

The post again will sponsor a July 4 celebration, and a general committee to handle the event soon will be named. John Hantschel was appointed chairman of the post poppy sale to be held the Saturday previous to Memorial day.

A junior baseball team to be sponsored by the post also was considered and a committee will be named soon to handle the project. The veterans are awaiting information on a county sports program, however, before going ahead with the junior ball team.

LEAP NOT SUICIDE BUT ONLY PROTEST AGAINST NUISANCE

Chicago—(AP)—A lot has been written and said about the smoke nuisance, but it remained for Albert Goodman to jump out of a window of a Loop building to put a stop to some of it.

Mr. Goodman is the head of the public bureau of investigation and adjustments. Yesterday he sat in his office high above the ground watching a stream of greasy smoke as it drifted through his window from somebody's badly managed furnace. He had complained about it before and was tired of talk. What was needed was action, but he said nothing.

Instead, he jumped from his chair, ran to the window sill and poised himself to leap. A number of persons in the office screamed. One customer, with a cane with a curved handle, rushed forward, hooked it around Mr. Goodman's neck. Others grabbed his coat tail. They pulled him back. But he struggled again, got free and leaped out of the window.

A moment later he came crawling back.

"All I wanted to do," he said, "was to drop a brick down that stinking chimney to wake the janitor up. He ought to fix that furnace. And, in case you haven't guessed it, the adjoining building I leaped to is only eight feet down."

HUNT FOR CAR IN MURDER OF VIVIAN GORDON

Police Commissioner Thinks Victim Operated Blackmail Ring

New York—(AP)—The search for the slayer of Vivian Gordon, blackmailer and vice inquiry witness, centered today on a small coupe bearing the license number N-8819.

General notice was broadcast by police that the couple was wanted in connection with a murder. Inspector Henry Bruckman, in charge of the police end of the case, and District Attorney Charles B. McLaughlin of the Bronx, refused to divulge the information they have about the coupe. Bruckman issued the broadcast with the warning that the car, when found, was not to be disturbed.

The license in question was issued to Harold Doman, who lived in an apartment hotel on the upper west side. According to the hotel room clerk, Doman lived there two weeks last year, checking out without paying one week's rent—$7. The clerk said Domar had many callers, all of them men. He was sure he never had seen Miss Gordon.

The theory the woman was slain because she was operating a blackmail ring was tentatively accepted today by Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney.

Miss Gordon, he said, was an "expert racketeer," who supplied pretty women for gay parties with instructions to determine the social position and financial rating of their escorts for future extortion. The names of about 40 men were listed in her diaries, he said.

Notations made public by District Attorney Charles B. McLaughlin and read before the Bronx grand jury accused John A. Radeloff, her lawyer, and Samuel Cohen, an ex-convict, of designs of her life as early as two years ago. They are held in $50,000 bail each as material witnesses and are seeking freedom on habeas corpus proceedings.

Entries in Diary

Miss Gordon wrote in her diary in January, 1929:

"It's best to put down things as they happen concerning John A. Radeloff—He is not to be trusted—he would stoop to anything."

Ensuing entries indicated the author and the lawyer were involved in an affair and were given to quarrels and reconciliations.

An undated entry read:

"Sam Cohen, a client of J. A. R. in a case has brought the thugs (2) to J. A. R.'s office—so J. A. R. told me—and he refused to let them do the trick—?

"The above information was conveyed to me in my apt. After a reconciliation on Feb. 23—but still I list this information—in case his man is according to his after statement supposed to have said 'we'll take her out somewhere——no one will know what happened to her. Every mark of identification will be missing especially that ring'"—meaning that $2,500 ring I wear."

Miss Gordon's body, bruised and garroted, was discovered in a Van Cortlandt park thicket last Thursday—stripped of all material identification, including the diamond ring mentioned. She had previously conferred with vice graft investigators.

Referring to Radeloff as her "enemy," Miss Gordon wrote:

"It wouldn't surprise me a bit if he tried to grab that money. No one close to me to put up a squawk if anything occurred. Anything I have done to him—he deserves 100 per cent more."

BADGER BRIEFS

Whitehall —(AP)— Mabel Harried, 34, today possessed an award of $5,000 from Philip Dahl, 30, Galesville, in a breach of promise suit heard by Circuit Judge R. S. Cowie. Dahl did not contest the suit.

La Crosse — (AP) — Emil Knopp, Madison, and George Seidel, La Crosse, employes of the Wisconsin Telephone company, were rescued by firemen and police after they remained half-buried for an hour and a half yesterday in a manhole pit cavein. Neither was badly hurt.

Half Dozen Business Men To Retire From Senate

Washington —(AP)— Upon the adjournment of congress tomorrow half a dozen business men-senators will retire to private life with reactions ranging all the way from pleasant memories to openly expressed disgust.

The harshest critic is 74-year-old Arthur Robinson Gould, Maine Republican, who will return to his railroad and power interests at Presque Isle, Maine, with the firm conviction that a business man is only wasting his time in the senate as long as that body is bedeviled with oratory.

"I'm going back to my business where I should have been four years ago instead of wasting my time here," said Senator Gould. He was elected in 1926 on the death of the incumbent.

"No sane business man should go into the United States senate as long as that confounded clack is going on."

For a further description of the senate as he sees it, Senator Gould referred to the dictionary definition of "clack" which is: "Loud, confused, importunate or foolish talk or chatter; prattle."

Preparing to return to his oil, gas, glass and banking interests in Oklahoma, Senator W. B. Pine, Republican, said:

"It will be quite a relief to get back into private business where I have control. Here no one appears to have control, not even the president of the United States."

Senator Ben Williamson, wholesale hardware merchant from Ashland, who was elected last November to fill a vacancy, believes that one thing this country needs is more business men in congress.

Lawrence Cowle Phipps of Colorado, one time treasurer of the Carnegie Steel company, says the business man may not make much noise on the senate floor, but is invaluable in the committee room where most of the real work is done.

TESTIMONY CLOSED IN TRIAL OF PAIR

Testimony closed shortly before noon today in the trial of Oliver Besaw and Gordon Frank, Kaukauna youths, charged with larceny. It is claimed the pair broke into the City Service Filling station on Draper-st in Kaukauna several weeks ago and stole candy, cigarets and tobacco worth about $37. They deny the theft and claim they were at home the night the robbery was committed. Testimony started yesterday morning before Judge Theodore Berg in municipal court. The case is expected to go to the jury late this afternoon.

DIRECTORS RENAME GOLF CLUB OFFICERS

Close Butte des Morts to Women Golfers on Two More Afternoons

Officers of Butte des Morts golf club and Winnegamie Land company have been reelected by directors of the two groups.

Seymour Gmeiner again is president of the golf club, F. E. Sensenbrenner, vice president, and Heber H. Pelkey, secretary and treasurer.

A. H. Krugmeier was reelected president of Winnegamie Land company; F. J. Sensenbrenner, vice president; W. A. Strassburger, secretary; and Seymour Gmeiner, treasurer.

Directors of the golf club decided to close the course to women players on Thursday and Friday afternoons in addition to Saturdays.

COLDER WEATHER ON MENU FOR WEDNESDAY

Colder weather is on the way, the weatherman says in predictions for Tuesday night and Wednesday. A moderate cold wave is due to sweep over the entire middlewest during the next 24 hours, sending the mercury below the freezing point, he says.

Skies will be clear tonight and Wednesday thruout the middlewest.

Winds are shifting in the north. Snow flurries have been predicted in the lake regions Tuesday night and Wednesday.

At 6 o'clock Tuesday morning the mercury registered 22 degrees above zero, while at noon it registered 33 degrees.

MAKE EXODUS FROM RAIDED SPEAKEASIES

Green Bay—(AP)— Trucks today were completing the federal prohibition cleanups of several saloons, roadhouses and speakeasies in and around Green Bay on Valentine's day. Operators of the places, anticipating padlock proceedings, were duplicating the exodus made about three years ago when a large number of raids "cleaned-up" Brown-co by hauling out their bars and equipment.

FONDNESS FOR TEA SAVES GIRL WORKERS

Melbourne, Australia—(AP)—Devotion to the afternoon tea ritual saved the lives of many girl employes at the Nobel Explosive works at Deer Park today.

During a storm an acid tank was struck by lightning and exploded. There was no loss of life, since the girls working there had left for the afternoon tea interval. Several men received minor injuries.

SEVEN LIONS GOING TO MANITOWOC MEETING

Seven members of the Lions club will go to Manitowoc tonight to attend a dinner to be given by Manitowoc Lions in honor of Melvin Jones, Lions International secretary. Those planning to attend are W. E. Smith, George Johnson, A. L. Collar, J. W. Lawler, E. L. Madisen, J. R. Whitman, and J. N. Fisher.

New York— Among the creations of waiters, millionaires, grocers and what not to be shown at the annual exhibition of the Society of Independent Artists are those of J. H. Frost, 74, who began to paint when he was 60 after retiring from the barber supply business.

ONLY 2,000 HAVE FILED THEIR STATE INCOME TAX REPORTS

Assessor Urges Persons Desiring Assistance to Call at His Office Now

Only about 2,000 of the 15,000 income tax blanks sent to residents of Outagamie and Waupaca-cos have been returned, according to Leo J. Toonen, assessor of incomes for both counties. Mr. Toonen's headquarters are at the courthouse.

The assessor pointed out this week that every person who received a blank must file it with a statement of his earnings for 1930. Failure to file this blank on or before March 16, Mr. Toonen said, will subject the delinquents to a fine of $5. All persons having an income of $800 a year or more if single and $1,500 a year or more if married, must file a report. If the person did not receive a blank that does not excuse him from filing a return. He should write or call at Mr. Toonen's office for a blank.

It is necessary, Mr. Toonen said, for all persons who receive blanks to file reports because under the new state income tax plan, incomes are figured on a three-year average. This makes it compulsory for every person receiving a blank, to return it completely filled out.

Persons desiring aid in filling out their blanks may call at Mr. Toonen's office, where he and his staff of assistants are ready to give their services. Mr. Toonen advised that persons wanting help should come at once to avoid the rush which usually precedes the last day of filing.

GRAFF IS SPEAKER AT LIONS MEETING

The Lions club heard a talk on World War days by Marshall Graff, local representative of the University Extension division and former state commander of the American legion, at the weekly luncheon at Conway hotel Monday. Mr. Graff stressed preparedness as a means of bringing about world peace. A business meeting and dinner preceded the speech. Dr. William J. Boettcher, president of the National Inside Lyceum bureau, Geneva, Ohio, was to have been the speaker, but he was unable to be present.

BONUS HELPS FILL COFFERS OF RETAILERS

Millions Flow into Retail Channels as Veterans Start to Borrow

Copyright, 1931, by Cons. Press

New York—(CPA)—Millions of dollars flowed into the channels of retail trade today as the first loans on bonus certificates were paid to war veterans by the United States treasury.

A survey of the retail field here Monday, particularly in the clothing, furniture, radio and automobile trades, as well as wholesale distributors who market goods throughout the country, indicated that a pick-up has already been felt as a result of the bonus loan payments.

With at least $300,000,000 and perhaps more than $800,000,000 going to the veterans in new loans, retail trade is certain to feel a direct stimulus, according to the general testimony of merchants.

Tradesmen say that at first the money will go to the payment of debts and to the relief of the needy who lack the simple necessities of life.

Later on there is expected to be an increasing demand for automobiles and radio sets.

Clothing Big Item

Clothing is a big item on the veteran's shopping list at the start of his purchases. Retailers here in the low priced clothing trade say they have already noted a pickup in buying and are making plans to take care of an increased volume of sales. Radio and furniture houses report that back payments on installment sales are being made in large numbers.

Chicago, Philadelphia, Detroit, Boston and St. Louis report a noticeable increase in retail buying since the bonus bill was passed and it is believed that before the week is out the country generally will feel a marked stimulation from the loan payments.

At the headquarters of the American world war veterans here, Thomas L. Hill said that inquiries showed that the bulk of the money obtained by the veterans will go to cover immediate wants. He expressed the conviction that the placing of this large amount of money in circulation would act as a stimulus to business generally.

The bonus money is coming at a time when expenditures by other agencies are benefitting trade. Road building will shortly be under way throughout the country and municipal improvement programs will also be pushed.

It will be some weeks before the peak of disbursements to veterans is reached, although sizeable payments have already been made. The rush is expected to last through April, at a diminishing pace.

EX-WIVES JOIN TO PREVENT DIVORCE

Vienna—Although divorcees themselves, ex-wives of Europe are forming a club to curb the divorce evil of the continent.

Queen Helen of Rumania, because of her separation from King Carol, has been asked by divorced women to head their organization as honorary president.

Paris is said to be the headquarters of the club, and branches have been formed in all the capitals of Europe, it is reported. Only ex-wives are eligible to belong.

A committee has been busy conferring with divorce experts, lawyers and leading women's organizations to devise ways to prevent divorce.

BICYCLE PLANE

Chicago—James A. Conterio of this city has perfected a model of a bicycle plane which, he says, can be propelled without an engine and with nothing more than the wheel-turning mechanism of a bicycle fitted to the propeller of the plane. When a person makes 50 revolutions a minute on the sprocket of the bicycle, the propeller develops a pull of 400 pounds.

MORE LIVESTOCK SOLD BY BADGER FARMERS IN 1930

Slaughter Purposes Demand More Cattle, Calves and Sheep Last Year

More catle, calves, and sheep for slaughter and fewer hogs as well as dairy cattle for breeding and milk production were sold from Wisconsin farms in 1930. Wisconsin farmers sold more sheep during the last year than in any year since 1920 and a new high record was made in sales of cattle to packers and stockyards. About one-fourth of Wisconsin's gross farm income is from these classes of livestock, according to the crop reporting service of the Wisconsin and United States Departments of Agriculture at Madison.

The movement of sheep to market totaled 409,585 head in 1930 which was an increase of 10 per cent over the marketings of 1929 and 19 per cent above the shipments of 1928. Shipments of cattle to market during 1930 amounted to 339,857 head as compared to 332,638 in 1929. This was an increase of about 2 per cent The number of calves marketed from Wisconsin farms during the last year increased about 5 per cent, a change from 817,839 in 1929 to 856,696 in 1930 which is the largest number marketed in any year since 1925. Next to cattle and calves, hogs are the most important class of livestock sold from Wisconsin. Wisconsin producers shipped 1,759,000 head of hogs in 1930 which was a drop of about 3 per cent from the 1,817,000 shipped in 1929. The number of hogs marketed during the past year was the lowest in any year since 1925. Our 1930 dairy cattle shipments to herds of other states totaled 56,466 head as compared to 78,344 in 1929, which was a decrease of about 28 per cent. This decline in shipments of dairy cattle has been brought about largely because of decreased purchasing power of farmers as a result of lower farm prices as well as lower milk prices which reduced the demand for dairy cows.

Since the American meat packing industry is mostly located in the Middle West, Wisconsin has excellent livestock markets. Milwaukee, Chicago, and St. Paul receive by far the largest share of our cattle, calves, and sheep for slaughter. These three markets got 90 per cent of the cattle, 87 per cent of the calves, and 93 per cent of the sheep in 1930. Our hogs were marketed largely at the five markets of Milwaukee, Chicago, Madison, Cudahy, and South St. Paul. While these markets received the bulk of our livestock shipments, sheep from the state were actually sold on 13 different markets, calves on 15, hogs on 16, and cattle on 19 markets.

TWO BOYS' GROUPS TO MEET DURING WEEK

Theta chapter of the Hi-Y club will meet at 7:30 Tuesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. The meeting originally was set for Monday night, but was postponed because of the senior class play.

The Soph Triangle club will meet at 7:30 Thursday evening. They will initiate a class of candidates.

It Is Said--

That years ago some pioneer father must have dropped a pocketful of spruce and pine tree seeds on W. Eighth-st. Evergreen trees, hedges and bushes abound on this street, especially at the corner of S. Spruce-st and W. Eighth, where one home is completely surrounded in tall trees and heavy shrubbery, green the year around. The moon playing through this miniature forest hints of elves and fairies and dwarfs.

That a certain scout troop of the valley council, which has been striving hard to maintain a perfect record for orderliness and quiet, had its rating slightly besmirched the other night when one of the boys brought his large dog along to the meeting at a local church. It seems that the dog took a particular liking to a furnace register and from the expression of delight on his face, he was having a glorious time toasting himself.

A meeting of church fathers was being held on the main floor of the building, and the youngsters were trying to be quiet as possible, when a series of whines and howls rent the edifice. It was found that poor Fido had accidentally placed his long tail on the hottest part of the register, and scorched it severely.

That the girls, not to be outdone by the boys, had an official delegate at the annual court of honor ceremony of the valley council of boy scouts at Lawrence Memorial chapel Sunday afternoon.

During the course of the afternoon's program, a small girl about four or five years of age, climbed onto the stage, gazed intently at one of the speakers for several minutes and then proceeded to give the audience a thorough inspection. Efforts of several men to coax the child from the stage were futile, and it wasn't until the mother appeared on the scene that the child obeyed.

That the special meeting of the council Friday night, when the law providing an extension of tax time until June 1, was passed, was so short the motion to adjourn got mixed up with the echo of the roll call. The roll call, reading of the law, aye and nay vote, and motio to adjourn clipped off with a snap that is rare in meetings of the common council.

MANDOLIN QUINTET TO OFFER RADIO PROGRAM

The Gibson Mandolin quintet, made up of four mandolins and a harp-guitar, will present a program of old time music over WHBY from 6:30 to 7 o'clock Tuesday evening. Members of the group are Les Smith O. J. Polzin, Ben Merke, and George Koehler, mandolinists, and Clarence Merkel, who plays the harp-guitar.

The quintet won a cash prize, based on the response to its program, at the American Legion radio barrage in Milwaukee three years ago, when the group represented the local post of the American Legion.

EAU CLAIRE PLANT DAMAGED

Eau Claire—(AP)—Fire of undetermined origin Monday caused damages of between $8,000 and $9,000 to the candy manufacturing plant of the Badger-Webster company here. The loss was covered by insurance. The jobbing and storage departments were undamaged.

THE POST AND WORLD

Competing newspapers continue to fall by the wayside, no matter how densely populated the community in which they were established. The Chicago Evening Post after a career of over forty years gave up the struggle and went under the hammer, acquired by another Chicago publication.

But the most surprising news in journalism came from the city of over seven million souls, New York, and had to do with the New York World and its effort to consolidate with the Telegram, involving court proceedings because of the necessity of construing trust instruments affecting stockholders' rights.

The number of dailies has gone down like the leaves in an October wind but the service to the public has increased as much inversely. Every consolidation has meant an improved, a far better newspaper, more for the reader, better service and results to the advertiser.

Nothing could plainer show the departure from old standards where every political party or faction or group must needs have an instrument to sing its praises and denounce its opponents, as the fact that in highly concentrated fields like New York and Chicago, old established papers have been forced by gigantic annual financial losses to consolidate with others.

The people do not demand a partisan press. They demand a fair one. They do not expect to be agreed with always nor agree with others always. Given the facts they are content to make their own judgments. But they insist upon honesty and good faith in the presentation of facts. In addition they want the news in readable, interesting form. They want features and entertainment. They cannot secure that result in a field divided in too many pieces.

THE LAST SURVIVOR

Taps has sounded for the last surviving member of the original post of the Grand Army of the Republic. His name is Abram Henry Corman who died the other day at Los Angeles, California. He was a charter member of the original post founded at Decatur, Illinois, on April 6, 1866. With a few companions he outlined the rules and by-laws for its regulation and these were used by other posts which were subsequently formed.

Mr. Corman lived to see the G. A. R. expand to over 5,000 posts and several hundred thousand members, the personnel reaching its peak shortly before the turn of the century. Since that time the membership has been decreasing, and last year had dwindled to 57,500.

The tramp of the marching host of Civil war soldiers has long since passed into the shuffling feet of aging men. For an organization whose members participated in a war which closed sixty-six years ago, this is inevitable. It is only the hardiest veterans who survive and with few exceptions, all are men over 80 years of age.

As the years pass the shuffling feet move slower and slower, yet the pace towards that last call is accelerating with constantly increasing speed. The ranks are closing, and very soon will appear that lonely, majestic figure, The Last Survivor. His loneliness will be beyond comprehension as he bides the calling of his name to take his place again within the ranks of those who are only memories.

SPRING IS ABOUT HERE

Signs of spring are many and varied, and most of them date back to prehistoric ages, when primitive man scanned the hillside and the forest to see omens of the death of winter. But the best sign we know of is strictly modern and strictly American — the departure of the professional baseball players for the spring training camps.

Here is a harbinger that cannot be denied or overlooked. When those stories from the training camps begin appearing in the newspapers, set off with photographs of the athletes toiling under the hot sun, we know that spring is at hand. There may be three feet of snow where we live, and we may never see a game of professional baseball in our lives. But it does not matter. When the ball clubs go south spring is at hand—or, if not at hand, just around the corner.

THE FREDERICK GUELKERS

When Frederick Guelker closed his eyes in eternal sleep at Suring recently, it was printed of him that he had served with both Confederate and Union forces during the rebellion of some seventy years ago, and thus belonged to a group which more perhaps than any other one thing has the power of indicating the close and hard, and sometimes terrible decisions that had to be made by each man for himself during that bloody and fratricidal struggle.

The South was not all for secession. Neither was the North all for union. And then there were the border states, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and Missouri, where not only the contending armies shook the ground as they came to grips but in which public opinion was more evenly divided and decisions harder to make.

And Frederick Guelker, not so long over from Germany, had to make the decision for himself, had to decide, not wherein his material interests lay, but which side of the controversy was right, a momentous decision fraught with far reaching consequences to himself, his children, everything he respected and held dear. His struggle with his conscience was but typical of millions of other similar struggles which in the composite make public opinion.

And Frederick Guelker in those far-off days determined the South was right, probably convinced that there was merit in the southern argument "if we cannot get along together let us go our separate ways in peace", and unseeing as yet the malignant and sinister forces that were behind its presentation just as the unworthy are willing to even quote scripture to serve their purpose. But after donning the gray uniform, after making the deep and lasting friendships that spring up between comrades in arms, after learning more of the facts, getting down to the basic things that counted, Frederick Guelker realized that he had made a blunder. No longer could he give a throaty rebel yell nor sing "Dixie" all day long tramping through the dust or mud on the weary marches with Stonewall Jackson. He must leave his pals of the bivouac, be must even risk disgraceful death in front of a firing squad as a deserter, but he could no longer carry a rifle for a cause his heart told him was wrong.

What man, even the leader himself, ever had a more cruel or difficult decision to make? But Frederick Guelker, like some thousands of others who found themselves in a similar position made the decision boldly and having made it, acted decisively. Safety of his own skin was not involved, else having come over to the Union lines, he was under no obligation to longer wear a uniform. Instead he put on the uniform of blue and took the active field to uphold the right as it was given him to see it.

And the Frederick Guelkers,—millions of them we have,—humble of station, plain of dress, undemonstrative of manner, but honest with themselves as well as others, true as steel in danger or emergency, willing too to walk straight into the cannon's belching mouth for a principle, they are the men who have made, and continue to make, America.

Today's Anniversary

FEAST OF DOLLS

On the third day of the third month, which in our calendar may correspond with the middle or last day of April, the festival of dolls is celebrated in Japan. The festival is specially dedicated to girls.

As the sakura trees, which are somewhat similar to our peach trees, burst into bloom at this period, Europeans have named this the festival of Peach flowers.

On this day Japanese girls and women dress themselves in holiday attire. The mothers adorn the chamber of state with blossoming sakura boughs and arrange an exhibition of all the dolls which their daughters have received. The children prepare a banquet for them which is eaten by the grown folks in the evening after the dolls are supposed to have had their fill.

The dolls displayed at this festival are used only on formal occasions and are not regarded as toys. Japanese boys have their doll festival, too, but their dolls consist of toy images of warriors.

No such executive as "president" as the head of a nation has ever existed until the United States proposed and adopted the idea.

Wait Until He Starts to Figure Out Check Stubs Some Day

There's a pleasant little tow-headed lad who bounces into the office every Thursday with his magazines. He's worked out a system with us whereby we pay him a quarter every five weeks and are through with collections for that length of time.

Last week, the quarter was all used up but the tow-headed youngster had forgotten. We told him about it. (On matters that small you can afford to be honest.)

"Gee—thanks," he beamed.

"You oughta keep books," we said in our most business-like manner. Then we gave him a heart-to-heart talk on the necessity for keeping records. We should talk.

He looked at us sadly, but unconvinced. "Yeah, I know," he said, "but it's all I can do now to keep up my diary."

Just Folks

By Edgar A. Guest

WINDFALLS

The wind came up and it shook the tree,
Said an apple plump: "It's too rough for me!
Though I've clung for weeks to this topmost bough
It seems I am due for a tumble now!"
And a sound heart whispered: "Just hang on!"
But the weakling apple to the earth had gone.

And all night long with moan and sigh
The windfalls dropped from the branches high.
"Hang on! Hang on!" cried a stout winesap,
But a gust would come and a twig would snap
And the farmer said as he viewed the fall:
"Some apples can't weather a summer squall.

They looked all right when the wind was still,
Now they're merely food for the cider mill,
For the only fruit that the stores will take
Is the kind that sticks when the branches shake.
But you can't know the sound heart from the frail
Till the morning after an autumn gale."

Looking Backward

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Tuesday, March 6, 1906

The annual meeting of the Outagamie-co Medical Association convened that afternoon at Elk hall.

John L. Sullivan, pugilist of world-wide fame, was to appear on the vaudeville stage in Appleton soon, according to word received here that day.

Henry Schuetter was in Milwaukee the previous day on a brief business trip.

John Newhouse and Miss Dora Newhouse visited their parents at Freedom the day before.

Martin Bailey returned the preceding evening from Oshkosh where he had been visiting friends and relatives.

Joseph Spitz, accompanied by W. S. Mulford, Kaukauna, left the previous evening for Chicago on a week's business trip.

John Carson left the previous Sunday for Portland, Ore., and other western points to be gone until May on business.

Will Timmers spent the previous Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. White, Green Bay.

Albert Hermann left that morning for Bartelsville, Indian Territory, where he intended to remain for some time.

TEN YEARS AGO
Tuesday, March 1, 1921

Hundreds of state employes at Madison failed to receive their pay checks that day, and until the legislature passed the emergency appropriation bills no money was to be available for payroll purposes.

Mrs. B. C. Wolter was to leave the following Saturday on a several weeks' trip to Florida and Cuba.

Mrs. Malina Clark, Markeson, was the guest of M. J. Feavel and family, Atlantic-st.

Miss Arlene Vantess was entertaining her mother from Lake Geneva.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Feavel were surprised the previous Monday evening at their home in honor of Mr. Feavel's birthday anniversary.

A movement had started among county board members to change the name of Ballard-rd, running north from thee Little Chute-rd just outside the city limits, to "Liberty-rd," according to information received that day.

Mrs. A. M. Zepherin had been chosen as chaperone for the Monday evening bowlers of the recreation department of Appleton Woman's club for the next semester.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reuter spent Sunday with friends in Kaukauna.

Personal Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
Noted Physician and Author

THIS DOCTOR GOT HIS HANDS WET AND EVEN THAT PROVED FATAL

Dear Dr. Brady:

This morning the Brady shock troops, under my command suffered a severe blow. It was in Physics lecture. Professor Rosseforp (let us call him), head of the physics department, ——— Technology institute, was demonstrating the theory of Bayle's law with a long curved glass tube and some mercury. He offered us some advice about handling mercury, saying one should be careful not to get too much of it on the skin, as mercury poisoning might result. Of course that jolted me. At the end of the lecture I dashed up to the professor prepared to wave the Brady flag over the place and rout the (something or other). But I had hardly wiggled the flag when the (something or other again) got it and trampled all over it.

"Professor," I said, "the unbroken skin cannot absorb anything."

But the professor was prepared to prove his contention. He cited evidence. First, a chemist friend of his bathed his feet in some harmless solution and within 15 minutes found traces of the solution in the secretion from his kidneys. That almost floored me, but I retaliated with your arsenic dare, and then the professor cited the case of his medical friend. The medical friend had been out hunting. He shot a bear. He cured the skin with arsenic. When he washed the skin he put his hands in the wash water, which contained arsenic. He nearly lost his life from arsenic poisoning.

Then I had scarcely a leg to stand on. But I talked a while longer to cover my discomfiture, and among other things he informed me that a person has more or less resistance; that if one sits in a draft his resistance would suddenly be lowered and the "cri" germs, which are always present, would get to work and the person would have a cold.

There's my report. I did my best. Unless you can send some aid to this western front I am afraid my Brady shock troops will not rise up out of the dust.

I have the honor to subscribe myself.

Your loyal,
GENERAL ——— ———.

Good work, son. Maybe we can persuade your professor to serve on the committee of scientific experts to conduct the experiment of applying mercury, arsenic or whatever poisons or substances they wish, to my skin, in the attempt to prove that an unbroken skin will absorb something. So far no one of scientific standing who imagines the skin will absorb anything has dared to put the question to the test, with me as the subject of the experiment. I doubt that even your technology professor has the—er—interior structure—to settle the controversy in this simple way, but let us not give up hope.

It might be perfectly logical and fitting for the layman to assume that the professor's medical friend absorbed the arsenic through the skin of his hands, but a professor who jumps to conclusions that way is just too credulous. Don't annoy the old chap, son, but next time he gets gay about such things you might ask him, with all due respect for his erudition, if he can cite any scientific evidence to support his quaint notion that the doctor absorbed the arsenic through the skin. That will be somewhat cruel, but a little harshness is good for such loose thinking. At that, your professor, being blessed evidently with second sight, may succeed in finding the evidence to substantiate his funny notion. Just because I have never come across any in my few years of study and research I suppose I can't arbitrarily deny that there is such evidence hidden away somewhere. I can only say that none of the old quacks, nostrum mongers or subsidized doctors who would have folks believe things are absorbed through the skin has been able to educe scientific evidence to lend probity to the profitable little idea.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Dead Fingers Relieved

Your recent suggestions about chronic arsenic poisoning and Raynaud's affection have helped a friend of mine who suffered with "dead fingers" and eczema. Her doctor, following your suggestion, found that she had arsenic poisoning, though he was unable to determine the source. He began giving her the treatment you described, and it has brought her a lot of relief already . . . (G. E.)

Answer—Thank you. A lot of people suffer with unrecognized chronic arsenic poisoning these days. There are so many possible sources of poisoning in industry and in domestic life. People troubled with chronic redness of the eyelids, chronic eczematous skin condition, a white or waxy appearance, and obscure "nervous" troubles, especially "dead fingers," and perhaps a bad breath or an onion or garlic odor in the sweat, would do well to have the possibility of arsenic poisoning investigated by the doctor.

Shall We Organize Our Own Legion?

I have been trying two years to take "cold" by exposing myself to all kins of alleged risks, cold, insufficient clothes, wet feet, wet hair, etc. No luck. Sometimes I have a watery nose, but apparently that has no connection with weather or exposure.

I offer myself as a subject of any experiments in that line which your opponents may consent to carry out. Everybody around me regards me as a nut in this matter. (J. R.)

Answer—Maybe we had better organize a kind of Legion for all the nuts who think as we do about it. If we had, say, a thousand birds who would as soon undergo any reasonable exposure to settle the controversy, why, the old timers would have to go through with it or shut up. What do our friends think of the idea? Shall we organize the Legion?. What shall we call it? What requirements for membership active and honorary? From views expressed in letters from lads who served in the trenches in France and Flanders, I believe we would have a good nucleus for our legion in these chaps with real experience in exposure to cold and wet.

Lunar Prognostication

What would you say, if anything, about the great number of people who believe the phases of the moon the deciding factor of sex, time of birth, etc. (Mrs. G. M.)

Answer—The moon has a new phase each week, and it is fairly safe to predict anything you wish as influenced by a given phase, as you have about seven days leeway both ways. The whole lunar influence theory is as absurd as the notion that the new moon indicates whether we're going to have dry or wet weather. Any school boy with an elementary knowledge of astronomy knows how ridiculous this is.

The Tinymites

By Hal Cochran

THE big giraffe seemed rather pleased. For once he wasn't teased and teased. The Tinies treated him real nice, which was the thing to do. Upon his neck wee Clowny clung and round about he soon was swung. Each time the animal would move, 'course Clowny would move, too.

Said Scouty, "Gee, I wish he'd run. I'll bet 'twould be a heap of fun for Clowny 'way up in the air." Then came a big surprise. Perhaps the beast heard what he said, because he promptly went ahead and started running right before the startled Tinies' eyes.

"Hey! Stop him! Stop him!" Clowny cried. "I am afraid that I will slide right down his neck and take a spill. It's hard to hang on tight. Who put him up to tricks like this? I knew that things would go amiss. Won't someone try to help me?. I am in an awful plight!"

The trainer of the big giraffe looked on and then began to laugh. "You sure look funny," he exclaimed. "But I'll come to your aid." He stopped the beast from running 'round. Then Clowny slid down to the ground. The others started kidding him and claimed he was afraid.

The Travel Man cried, "Don't tease, boys. You only make a lot of noise. Let's go now to the monkey cages. Some more fun is in store." They found the monkeys full of tricks and Clowny soon was in a fix, because he teased one monstrous monk and made the whole bunch roar.

The monkey suddenly jumped out, ere Clowny knew what 'twas about, and grabbed his hat and scampered off. He chattered very loud. Poor Clowny started in to chase, but found it was a losing race. "Go get him! Try and get him!" came the shouts from all the crowd.

A Bystander In Washington

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

Washington—Glance at the record for the past two decades in Latin-American diplomacy, and you doubtless will be impressed with this fact:

To the politically ambitious Latin-American, opportunity to represent his country in Washington as minister or ambassador is a thing greatly to be desired. It seems that the Washington diplomatic post is about as near an ideal stepping stone to political preferment back home as could be desired.

Within the past few weeks Panama has called home its erudite Minister Ricardo J. Alfaro, envoy to Washington since 1922, to become president. And in 1930, the smiling, handsome Olaya Herrera quit his legation in the capital to return to Colombia and make a successful race for the presidency.

These are only two. Since 1912, no fewer than seven Latin-American envoys to Washington have directly or indirectly assumed the presidency of their countries following service as ministers or ambassadors to this country.

Which Came First?

American students of Latin-American affairs, however, are inclined to the view that such an interpretation is much like "putting the cart before the horse."

Rather do they point out that these seven men, who became presidents after serving as diplomats in Washington, were famous in their countries before coming to Washington; that the fact they were chosen diplomatic representatives here is proof that they were outstanding.

But the record is here:

Take Colombia, for example, Jose Vicente Condra, minister to Washington from 1902 to 1905, later became president and served from 1914 to 1918. And Herrera, Colombian minister from 1922 to 1930, is now the president of that country.

Gonzalo S. Cordova was Ecuador's minister to Washington from 1912 to 1917. He was inaugurated as president of his country September 1, 1924 and served until the following July.

Two Panamanians

Two former ministers of Panama to Washington have gone straight from the legation here to the presidency. Besides Alfaro, there is Belisario Pocras. Pocras was in Washington from 1916 to 1918. In 1918 he became acting president of Panama, serving until 1920 and in that year was elected president and served for four years.

Paraguay's Manuel Gondra represented his country in Washington for two years then whent directly to the presidency in 1920.

Alberto Membrero represented Honduras here from 1912 to 1915, and on July 28, 1915 took over the presidency of his country as first designate and served until February of the following year.

Seen And Heard In New York

BY RICHARD MASSOCK

New York—Prison keepers are the unknown soldiers of the great peace army.

Their lives are more hazardous by far than the risky routine of a policeman's existence.

Now their stories are being told in a magazine, "On Guard," published by the prison keepers of New York. It is, says Richard C. Patterson, Jr., New York's commissioner of correction, the first "big house" organ of its kind in America.

Big-House Dangers

Policemen are cops and prison keepers are "screws," in the parlance of the underworld.

A screw is regarded by the life insurance companies as a worse risk than a cop.

The cop carries a gun, the screw doesn't. That's to keep the prisoners from seizing weapons.

When a murderous lunatic or a drug-doped thug draws a home-made knife, a smuggled pistol or a sharpened chisel on a prison keeper, as prisoners often do, the keeper has to fight back with his wits and his bare hands.

The policeman patrols a city of normally law-abiding citizens. Death, in the guise of insane, drug-crazed, or desperate criminals, stalks eternally the prison corridors, for every inmate has a grudge against society.

And the deadliest are reformatory boys, anxious for their fellows to believe them hard-boiled.

Sudden attacks are always imminent in prison. A convict in the mess hall line may make a pass with a villainous file which has been sharpened into a knife. Or he may hurl a heavy weight at one of the guards.

The long prison days are passed by the inmates in devising plans for attack on their custodians. Recently a prisoner grabbed a keeper's forefinger in his teeth. The keeper thought it was news that a prisoner tried to bite his way out of jail.

Prison Poetry

There is, on the other hand, a humorous side to prison life, expressed by "big house" Byrons, in reams of verse. The keepers pick up a lot of this doggerel. Usually eccentric prisoners are the butts of it.

There was, for instance, an unpity burglar in a city reformatory. He snubbed the other prisoners until one day they gleefully caught him printing visiting cards reading as follows

AMBROSE E. JEFFERSON
Inmate Hart's Island
Reformatory Prison New York

The next day a prisoner slipped to one of the guards a bit of rhyme typical of the prison poetry. It ran:

"When Ambrose goes a burgling his manner's simply grand,
He wears his spats and walking stick and carries gloves in hand,
By a trifling social error was a recent visit marred,
For Ambrose just forgot himself and left his calling card."

Long imprisonment, the magazine reports, makes some inmates goofy, or "prison simple." This frequently causes a released convict to walk around New York bumping into cops, in the hope that some policeman will take offense, whereupon the convict would shoot him, or so he thinks. The cops spoil the sport, however, by refusing to bump back.

These 2 men are as different as day and night, yet both are coming to see Schmidt's Spring Suits for the same reason.

First: because they know that better clothing is not available at any price . . . and that they can depend on Schmidt garments to give them what fashion has said they should wear.

Next: because both know that when Schmidt's say a garment is new . . . IT'S NEW . . . that when Schmidt's say a price is low . . . IT'S LOW and when Schmidt's say a garment fits . . . IT FITS.

IN SHORT . . . when you see a Spring suit at Schmidt's that you like . . . you can go right ahead liking it, for there is NOTHING TO STOP YOU.

CALL MONTHLY MEETINGS OF CHURCH GROUPS

Special Services for Third Week in Lent Also on Calendar

Monthly meetings of church groups—missionary societies, Ladies aids, church councils and men's clubs—and the special services of the third week of Lent will take up the church calendar for the week.

Judge Henry Graass of Green Bay will be the speaker at the father and son banquet at the Congregational church Friday evening. Dr. W. E. Peabody will talk on What Are Our Moral Standards at the Lenten service at 7:30 Thursday evening. The Rev. W. W. Sloan addressed the meeting of the Men's club Sunday morning, using the subject, Can Any Good Thing Come out of China? The moving picture Sunday evening was "Sins of the Fathers," and on Friday afternoon LaVahn K. Maesch will play one of his twilight organ recitals.

Advising the use of ordinary skill in the interpretation of the Scriptures to meet the needs of today, Dr. L. D. Utts pointed out, in his sermon at All Saints church Sunday morning, that God intended man to take from the Bible only those things which improve him. The Rev. F. S. St. Clair of Oconto will preach the Lenten sermon at 7:30 Thursday evening. An upright piano has been donated to the church by Irving Zuelke and the primary room has been redecorated and refurnished.

The Rev. E. Franz will exchange pulpits with the Rev. John Scheib of Kaukauna Thursday evening. The Ladies Aid will meet on Thursday and the Missionary society Friday. Mr. Franz preached on "Having eyes, yet seeing not; having ears, yet hearing not," Sunday morning.

Vesper Services End

The winter's series of vesper service at the Methodist church ended Sunday with an address by Adalin Wright Macauley, international figure in peace circles. Dr. J. A. Holmes will preach at Mattoon Sunday and the Rev. Charles A. Briggs, district superintendent of the Methodist church, will preach the Women's Foreign Missionary thank offering sermon at the local church Sunday. The young married people of the church held a party Monday evening and the Social Union met Tuesday. W. S. Ryan addressed the Epworth league Sunday evening.

Using the text, "And they went out to see what it was that was done and they came to Jesus," Dr. Holmes pointed out in his sermon Sunday that no matter where one goes, under what topic one makes research, one eventaully comes to Jesus. He illustrated his point with the history of architecture, showing how churches developed from the old basilica of Rome, with its low ceilings, thin walls and poor lighting system, into the domed church, reaching toward God, then into the clear-story church with spires and eventually to the Gothic structure, with its tall spires pointing the way to God. He termed Christ's personality "the Gothic structure of all time."

The Biblical drama, "A Man of Pottage," will be presented at the Baptist church Sunday evening and on the following Sunday the moving picture, "Cristus," will be shown. The official board met Monday evening and the congregation will hold a business meeting Thursday evening. The Rev. E. Hasselblad preached on The Watchword Sunday morning and on In the Stronghold in the evening.

Sloan to Preach

The Rev. W. W. Sloan will preach at the Lenten service at Memorial Presbyterian church at 7:30 Thursday evening. The Ladies Aid elected officers at its meeting at the home of Mrs. Mabel Shannon Tuesday afternoon and at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon the Missionary society will hold a silver tea at the L. C. Sleeper home. The Rev. R. A. Garrison preached on the Love that Transforms, one of a series of sermons, Sunday morning.

A special council meeting will be held at Mount Olive church following the Lenten service Wednesday evening, when the Rev. R. E. Ziesemer will speak on Judas Iscariot. One of Twelve, the Betrayer of Jesus. The entire congregation will meet at 2:30 Sunday afternoon. The Ladies Aid will meet Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Ziesemer spoke on Barabbas, a True Type of Sinful Mankind Sunday morning.

The trustees of St. Paul church met Monday evening, a German Lenten service will be held at 7:30 Wednesday evening and an English service at the same time Thursday evening. The Ladies Aid will meet Thursday and announcement for the Lord's Supper will be held on Friday. The Rev. F. M. Brandt will preach on The Sign Spoken Against at his Lenten services. Sunday morning his subject was Jesus the Savior from the Power of the Devil.

The Rev. F. C. Reuter will preach on The Scope of Salvation at the Lenten service at First English Lutheran church at 7:30 Wednesday evening. His subject Sunday morning was Fully Qualified through Suffering. The Ladies Aid society will meet Thursday.

The Lord's Commission to Ezekiel was the subject of the sermon by the Rev. Theodore Marth at Zion Lutheran church Sunday morning. The English Lenten service will be held at 7:45 Wednesday evening and the German one at the same time Thursday evening.

Council Meets

The council of Trinity English Lutheran church met Monday evening, the Missionary society will meet Thursday afternoon and the Lenten service will be held at 7:45 Thursday evening. The Rev. D. E. Bosserman preached on the Call to Holiness Sunday morning.

The Women's Union of St. John church will elect officers at its meeting Thursday. The Rev. W. R. Wetzeler will preach on The Midnight Hour at the Lenten service at 7:30 Wednesday evening. His subject Sunday morning was An Indomitable Faith.

The Rev. Philipp A. C. Froehlke will preach on The Second World of Christ on the Cross at the Lenten service at 7:45 Thursday evening at St. Mathew church.

NEW CARPETS

When the Floors are Well Carpeted, the Home Is Well Furnished

This was very aptly said by one who has made a life study of home decorations. But what is meant by "well carpeted" and what should be the keynote of every scheme of decoration? There are two essentials—Harmony and Appropriateness. The proper balancing of these essentials is the true inwardness of all decoration.

The furnishing of the rooms is not always given its full share of thought and consideration. Oftentimes, a few scatter rugs, chosen perhaps hurriedly, are dropped here and there, — the result is anything but pleasing and creditable. Is it any wonder, then, that in some homes most of the charm and atmosphere and even the spirit of hospitality seems to vanish at the newel post.

The floor problem is given careful study in this store and the many unusual qualities at today's low prices will prove a delightful surprise.

Dear Mr. Mullen:

We were pleased to sell you our entire lot of salesmans' samples of men's, boys', and women's all-wool Golf Hose, with the understanding that they would be retailed at one price, and advertised as salesmans' samples.

You can truthfully advertise that these stockings would retail in the regular way at from $1.00 up to $2.50 a pair. There are about ten price ranges, and distinctive pattern groups. Most of the lot are in plain colors, with fancy or plain Jacquard tops, and there are a great many all-over Jacquard patterns. Two-thirds of the lot are made of fine pure worsted yarn, which ordinarily retails at $2.00 to $2.50 a pair.

You can assure your customers that this is the biggest bargain group of Golf and Sportsmen's Hose ever offered the public of Appleton and vicinity at one low price, which you state will be 59¢ a pair.

Ordinarily such a large quantity would go to some big city store, but, knowing that you have an unusual outlet for this class of merchandise, we are glad to sell you this group, knowing that the public will receive an extraordinary value.

Yours very truly

Grange To Hold Party And Supper

SOUTH Greenville Grange will entertain at an oyster supper and card party Saturday evening at the hall. Serving will begin at 6 o'clock after which bridge, euchre, and schafkopf will be played. The committee in charge includes Mr. and Mrs. Peter Larson, Miss Margaret Meredith, Henry Behnke, Roy Anderson, and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Haase.

George R. Schaefer, national grange deputy, and master of South Greenville Grange, installed the officers of the newly organized grange at Black Creek Thursday evening. He was assisted by Mrs. Loyal Larson, Miss Gertrude Larson, Mrs. R. J. Schultz, and the officers of South Greenville Grange. Music was provided by the orchestra, and several vocal selections were given by Miss Imogene Schaefer.

The semi-monthly meeting of South Greenville Grange was held Saturday evening with a large attendance of members and visitors from Black Creek and Allenville granges. A lecturer's program was presented under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Westphal. A one act play entitled "The Surprise Party" was followed by musical numbers and a pantomime, "The Coquette." Here are the four best loved girls at Lawrence college, elected by the students last week. They are: Miss Cecelia Werner, Appleton, upper left; Miss Lois Kloehn, Appleton, upper right; Miss Ardis Elston La Crosse; lower left; Miss Agnes Snell, Fort Atkinson.

Two Appleton girls were among the four most loved girls at Lawrence college who were honored at a formal banquet for Lawrence coeds in the Crystal room of Conway hotel Monday evening. The girls who this year received this most coveted honor of Lawrence senior women are Misses Lois Kloehn, Appleton; Cecelia Werner, Appleton; Ardis Elston, La Crosse; and Agnes Snell, Fort Atkinson.

The girls, dressed in appropriate colonial costumes, represented George and Martha Washington and James and Dolly Madison, a traditional custom of the colonel banquet. Miss Kloehn portrayed George Washington, Miss Snell represented Martha Washington, and Miss Werner and Miss Elston appeared as James and Dolly Madison.

Miss Irma Molzow, a junior at Lawrence, acted as toastmistress. Miss Kloehn gave the toast for the girls and Miss Marguerite Woodworth, dean of women at Lawrence, replied for the faculty and student body. Approximately 160 girls attended the banquet in formal dress and Miss Woodworth, Miss Ellen Tutton and Miss Geneva Bluemischen was present as faculty guests.

The colonial banquet, sponsored this year by the Lawrence Women's association, was first given six years ago by the Y. W. C. A., and has since become a traditional campus event. The plan of electing the four most loved girls instead of a single most popular girl was evolved at that time because of the difficulty of selecting one particular girl for the honor. Olive Hamar, for whom her father, Edward Hamar, donated Hamar house on E. College-ave as a memorial, was one of the first group elected to the honor.

NEW INVESTIGATION IN ALLEGED ASSAULT

Los Angeles—(AP)—The filing of a $601,000 damage suit by Mrs. Fern Setril, extra actress, against David Wark Griffith, film director, charging a criminal assault, faced a renewed investigation by District Attorney Buron Fitts today.

Fitts said his investigators had found two new witnesses, who had thrown light on the case. Their names were withheld. Earl Taylor, friend of Mrs. Setril, and paroled convict, was kept in technical custody.

Bingham Gray, Taylor's attorney, asked that Taylor be carefully guarded. He quoted Taylor as saying he would end his life if authorities decided he had violated his parole, and ordered him back to San Quentin prison.

MUSIC, READINGS ON PROGRAM FOR P. T. A.

Music and readings made up the program given at the meeting of the First Ward Parent Teachers association at the school Monday evening. NEW YORK BANK DRIVE MADE CENTER OF QUIZ

New York—(AP)—Testimony that the Bank of United States marshaled more than 60,000 new depositors shortly after the state banking department issued an unfavorable report on its condition stirred the Steuer investigation today.

Morris White, a director, testified yesterday that high officials had instituted a drive for more depositors in February, 1930, and that he himself had recruited 1,400 from among his employes in another venture.

Attorney General John H. Bennett, Jr., announced that several directors had started an independent movement to recompense depositors 100 cent on the dollar, either by constructive liquidation or by reorganization and reopening of the bank.

COMPLETE PLANS FOR 2 BRIDGES IN BUCHANAN

Plans have been completed by Frank N. Charlesworth, county surveyor, for two bridges to be constructed on County Trunk N in the town of Buchanan. One of the bridges will have a span of 16 feet and a roadway of 24 feet. The other will have a span of 14 feet and a roadway of the same width. The bridges are provided for in a special appropriation of $6,000 made by the county board last November. The county highway committee will make arrangements in the near future to secure bids on the bridges.

SEEK AMENDMENT TO GARBAGE ORDINANCE

The amendment of the garbage ordinance to fix charges for collection in the city, referred to the ordinance committee, will be returned to the council Wednesday night with the recommendation that it be turned over to the board of health, it was decided at a meeting of the ordinance committee Monday evening. The report states that the garbage ordinance is under the control of the health board.

Revision of the sign ordinance was turned over to the chamber of commerce committee on ordinances, after a meeting with the retail division of the chamber.

The committee will also advise Wednesday evening that the junk ordinance be adopted, and that part of Newberry plat, Fourth ward, be transferred from the residential to the heavy manufacturing district.

Rohan Tuesday morning. Several routine matters were discussed.

BAUME BENGUE (pronounced Ben-Gay) is a safe and sure remedy for that throbbing, splitting pain in the head. Applied freely to the forehead and back of the neck, rubbing in thoroughly, it brings prompt and blessed relief without the depressing effect of most internal remedies. It is more effective than other external agents and will not burn or blister.

Dog Is Good Companion For Children

BY ANGELO PATRI

Somehow dogs and children seem to thrive well together. Certainly there is no kinder influence bent upon a child than the affectionate loyal service a dog tenders his child master. He will guard the child from harm. He will protect him with his life. He will follow him with affection and faith that is beyond that of human quality.

The helplessness and dependence of the dog appeals to his young master or mistress. He cannot help himself to food. They must see that it is prepared properly and served him regularly. Any neglect causes their dog to suffer and no real child is willing to have that happen. They will wash and refill his bowl every time he empties it of water. They know what it is to be thirsty and they will not allow their pet to go without his good drink. Thoughfulness like that a responbility like that, ripens a child and tenders him to his great good.

There is no better playmate than a dog. It is fine to see a child throw his ball to his dog, wait for him to return it and throw it for him once more. The two are so carefree, so unhampered by any of life's trials that one's own heaviness is lightened to watch them. The very unselfishness of the dog in his devotion has its influence on the child. No lesson however direct reaches the heart of a child as does that of this devoted unselfish friend. Indirect teaching of fine qualities is always more effectual than the direct word. Many a child has had his first comprehension of good manners from his own dog. Many a word has been spoken in his ear, many a fine precept laid upon him, but the gentle effacement, the long suffering patience and unstinted loyalty of his dog had to make clear their meaning.

Dogs bite and that makes many people afraid of them as companions for children. But some children bite. Some children are bad companions for others. We must select the dog for his good qualities as we would select any other companion for the children. Not that he must be an expensive thoroughbred animal. Not at all. He must be a gentleman. His pedigree does not matter but his character matters greatly. Find a dog and make him a member of the family.

Treat him with consideration and great kindness. Kindness and consistent treatment will develop the intelligence of your dog so that he can actually talk to you. Don't believe that a dog cannot think. I have seen him think. Don't believe that he does not remember. I know that he remembers. I know that he loves and cherishes those to whom he is attached and that he knows joy and sorrow and hope and despair.

If you would teach a child patience, get him a dog. If you would teach him love and service and loyalty to a friend, buy him a dog. If you would have him tolerant and kind and faithful to his trust, buy him a dog.

Mine is a wire-haired terrier named Pat and I think he's the best dog in the world. And de likes me. (Copyright, 1931, by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

GOOD PICTURES IMPROVE HOME, LECTURER SAYS

A plea for at least a few of the great masterpieces in pictures in every home and school for their value in creating ideals was made by Mrs. Augusta Maguire Wider, Mitchell, S. D., lecturer on art appreciation and literature, in her lecture on Pictures for the Home and school Monday evening at Hotel Appleton. She stated that the radio is contributing to the appreciation of art in the home. Beautiful copies of the great masterpieces were displayed and analyzed by Mrs. Wider, among them the "Last Supper" by Leonardo da Vinci and other pictures appropriate to the Lenten season. She gave a list of pictures which are especially suitable for children.

Mrs. Wider, who has lectured in 25 states, has had many personal contacts with people of interest and refinement, and works into her lectures ancedotes and humorous incidents which add to the charm of her talks. Her personality kept the audience interested during the entire evening.

An informal reception for the speaker was held after the lecture when she answered questions and discussed various points about her talk. About 160 persons attended. The lecture was sponsored by Catholic Daughters of America.

MISS PEABODY IN GRADUATE PIANO RECITAL

Miss Miriam Peabody, daughter of the Dr. and Mrs. H. E. Peabody of this city, presented her graduate piano recital at Warner concert hall, Oberlin Conservatory of Music, Monday evening. She was assisted by the Conservatory orchestra, and following the concert a reception for invited guests was held.

Displaying unusual artistry, Miss Peabody played a varied program of Bach, Brahms, Ravel, Chopin and Rubinstein. Her program opened with the Bach "Chromatic Fantasie and Fugue," followed by Brahms' "Capriccio, Op. 76 No.2," and "Jeux d'eau" by Ravel. She played several Etudes by Chopin, and concluded her program with "Concerto in D. Minor" by Rubinstein.

Mrs. Peabody attended the concert.

HALF-SICK CHILDREN Picks Right Up

Even a husky child needs all its strength to resist disease. If your child is pale, listless or tires easily, you must be especially careful.

Father John's Medicine has stood the test of 75 years. Children thrive on it amazingly. They seem to pick up, become more alert, to gain in strength and vigor.

This is because Father John's Medicine brings, in combination with other valuable ingredients, all the benefits of cod liver oil and summer sunshine to sick children. It is rich in vitamins. Finicky eaters recover appetite. Their food somehow seems to do them more good. Their color improves, they gain in weight. Soon they are laughing and playing as of old.

Just ask your druggist for Father John's Medicine and have your child take it regularly. It contains no drugs, no alcohol. Over 184 hospitals and institutions use it regularly. Adv.

The Story of Sue

by MARGERY HALE

© 1929 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

JACK reached eagerly for the book which Sarah had borrowed from Barbara. Sue and Sarah, watching breathlessly, saw his brows draw together in a frown. Then he gave a low whistle.

"It's the right volume, isn't it?" Sarah asked. "She even mentioned the fact that it was a birthday gift from Sybil."

"It's the right one," Jack said. "There's no question about that, now. And we've got some more evidence right here, too. That was a darned good idea of yours, Sue. But we don't know just exactly what sort of chirography is used by the villainess. The fly page with the names is gone!"

"Gone?" the girls echoed.

"Torn out. Sybil must have done it. The very fact that she did is proof that she knows something about this handwriting mix-up. But now we don't know if she tore it out because these other messages were done by her ... or because they weren't. And we have to know."

"Did anyone else ever get a present from her?" Sarah asked. "How about Nancy?"

"Nancy Becker never liked her. Wait," Jack's lips parted in a broad smile. "When I was a kid at military academy I used to get presents from her once in a while on birthdays. A book or two. And I bet she wrote on the fly leaf! That's one of her habits. I'll drop by the house and get one. I'll drop you at home first, Sue, then go on to the club. Oh, by the way, it's nearly seven and none of us have eaten. Let's get some food first."

Sue shook her head. "You run along and get the book, Jack, and come over later. You need all your time. We'll go over to our house, and you drop in as soon as you can."

Sue knew that Jack was restless, in a hurry to get away, and start to work on the case. She could tell that he was worried because he had so little evidence. This wasn't the time to think of social responsibilities.

She didn't stay at Sarah's very long. Sarah drove her home, but wouldn't go in.

"Not tonight, Sue," she said. "Your family will want to be alone. And I'd be intruding, no matter how welcome you would make me. Tomorrow night, perhaps."

Sue waved at her from the door, and a queer stifled breath caught in her throat. She felt sorry for Sarah, who was so alone. Sarah, who loved Ted, although she had tried to tell herself that she didn't. Then she thought of Corrinne with her heart-hungry eyes watching Harry. And she was sorry for Corrinne, too.

"Everyone in the world seems to have troubles," she told herself. "And tomorrow the trial begins. Tomorrow ..."

The telephone rang just after she entered. Jack's excited voice came dancing over the wire. "Sue? I found a book. It isn't hers."

"You mean ..."

"The plot thickens, I'll see you after a while."

An hour later the telephone rang again.

"It's Corrinne," a thin little voice told Sue. "Can you come over to Sarah's right away?"

NEXT: Sue has a clue.

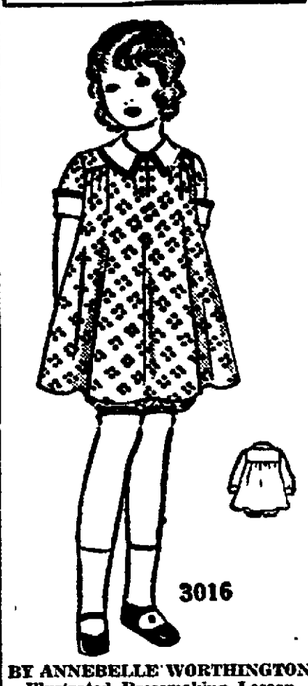
Peter Pan Collar



BY ANNEBELLE WORTHINGTON
Illustrated Dressmaking Lesson Furnished With Every Pattern

Good taste in togs for 2, 4 and 6 year olds, must necessarily remain simple.

This cute bloomer dress offers infinite possibilities for the thrifty mother.

It's a smart variation of one-piece styling. A Mother Hubbard yoke, that is quite shallow at the front, gives it a quaint smartness found only in the better frocks.

The Peter Pan Collar, the turnback sleeve cuffs and knee bands of the bloomers, provide a nice trim in contrasting color or fabric.

A gay cotton broadcloth print in French blue on white ground with plain white and plain blue trim, is cute as illustrated.

Style No. 3016 takes but 2⅜ yard of 35-inch material with ⅜ yard of 35 inch contrasting and 1¼ yards of binding, for the 4-year size.

Pique, dimity sheer, chambray, gingham, linen, dotted swiss, percale and shantung are pleasing fabrics for its development.

You will see one attractive style after another as you turn over the pages of our new Spring Fashion Book.

Styles for children or the miss, the matron, the stout—and a series of dressmaking articles. It is a book that will save you money.

THE AFTERNOON PICK-ME-UP IS A GOOD HABIT

BY ALICIA HART

Beauty, quite like your spirits, often needs a pick-me-up late in the afternoon.

Sometimes you feel the need for it and have time for it just before going home from the office. Other times it is when you are staying in to dinner with someone you would like to bewitch with your beauty and charm.

The most effective thing in the world to do is to remove your frock or blouse and use warm water and soap to wash your face, neck, arms, under the arms and hands. This freshens you second to nothing!

If you cannot do that, if you must effect your pick-me-up where you cannot shed your frock, then cleansing cream is often far more effective than dabbing water on gingerly.

After removing the day's soil, sit down limply in a chair for 10 minutes if you can make it. Just slump. If you could stretch out, that is all the more effective. But slumping in a chair, entirely relaxed, is something.

When that 10 minutes grace is over, try this simple exercise and see how it revives your fallen psychology.

Take your fingers of both hands and literally pick up your features. Begin with your thumbs planted firmly on your cheek bones and with your fingers very staunch, lift the face under the eyes, run the fingers firmly up over the bridge of the nose, massage it slightly between the eyes and then continue clear up, keeping up that lifting motion, clear to the hair line. Then take your hands and push up your scalp from the back of the neck up onto your head. Begin down on your shoulders, work upward firmly and in between strokes, bend the neck down and try to relax it. Then go back to your face, pick up the face the same way, concentrating your lifting betwees the eyes and smoothing out over the forehead. Stroke firmly up the sides of the face towards the temple. Massage the head slightly to make it tingle.

If you do it right, it is surprisingly refreshing. Finish this in about 10 minutes and then apply cold cream if you have time, vanishing cream if you haven't. Dash on an astringent, apply make-up, tidy your hair and see how much younger and prettier you feel.

This is literally a beauty pickup. I will be surprised if you are not pleased with what it does for you.

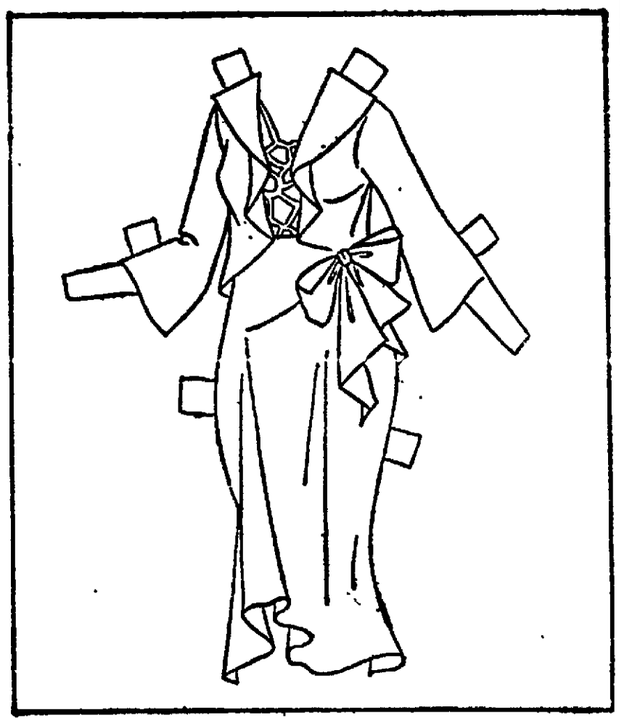
"Boots" Keeps Luncheon Date Wearing This Frock



Don't you want to see how "Boots" looks in another of her newest costumes? Here it is, ready for you to cut out and color to suit your own fancy. "Boots," whose adventures are pictured every day in the comic strip, 'Boots and Her Buddies," is certainly the lucky girl. She has a new dress every day. Above we have the dress she's going to wear at luncheon. Watch for more additions to "Boots'" wardrobe, tomorrow.

MY NEIGHBOR Says—

Soak salt fish the night before it is used in cold water, to which has been added a few spoonfuls of vinegar. Place it in enough cold water to cover it and gradually bring to the boil. Simmer for a quarter of an hour.

Mustard and horseradish mixed make an excellent relish for cold meats. Mix the mustard, and add to it an equal quantity of grated horseradish, which has been boiled 10 minutes. Thin the mixture with a little of the water in which the horseradish was boiled.

Old hair brushes which have become soft can be made quite hard and firm by dipping them in a strong solution of alum.

Scorch marks, unless very bad, when, of course, there is no cure for them, may be removed from linen in the following way: Cut an onion in halves and rub the scorched part with it; then soak in cold water. You will find that the marks will soon disappear.

ITCHING ENDS WHEN ZEMO TOUCHES SKIN

—thousands say. It's wonderful the way soothing, cooling Zemo brings relief to skin which itches and burns. Even in most severe cases, itching disappears almost as soon as Zemo touches the tender and inflamed surface. To draw out local infection and help to clear away unsightly blemishes, we know of nothing better than invisible Zemo. Always keep this family antiseptic on hand. Use it freely. It's safe as can be. 35c, 60c and $1.00. All dealers. Adv.

WE WOMEN

By Virginia Vane

Dear Miss Vane: For three years I have had very pleasant friendship with a girl I will call Martha. In that time we have been the best of friends and have had regular appointments four times a week. I am on good terms with her father and mother and everything is as peaceful as it could be in that direction. But Martha, the girl herself has deliberately upset everything. Two weeks ago she told me that although she was very fond of me, she was not ready to take things too seriously yet. I may add that we had never spoken of marriage. She said she did not want steady dates with me any more. She said something about our finding out our true feelings for each other in the next two years so that we could know denifinely what to do. Since that time I have seen her once or twice but have been cool and indifferent to her which I think has hurt her. Can you give me any idea who's right and who's wrong and what I ought to do about a girl who deliberately breaks up our friendship when she has professed to love me or at least to be very fond of me? K. J.

Why in the world should you turn huffy and hurt when the girl you love shows a streak of very fine common-sense? Just stop for a moment and figure out from her point of view and perhaps you'll have the grace to feel ashamed of yourself.

You're seeing her steadily four times a week and have been doing so for the past three years. Now in that time the young people who know you must certainly have jumped to the conclusion that you two were taking things pretty seriously whether you actually discussed marriage or not. Consequently such other boys as Martha knows must have scratched her off the list of Possibles long ago.

And since nether you nor she have definitely made up your minds that you want to marry each other, Martha may naturally feel that she's not giving herself the best chances in the world for happiness by tying herself up to you so definitely long before there has been any talk of the engagement. She realizes that if after two years, you decide against marriage, she will be very much out of luck and on the shelf.

Secondly it may be quite possible that she wants to know her own feelings better. Perhaps she feels that you have become so much a habit she is in danger of sticking to you for life just because she's so used to having you around perhaps she wants to try a dose of temporary separation—or at least a less settled number of dates in order to give herself a fair test.

Then there's always the possibility that family and friends have been after Martha, hinting that it was high time you stated your intentions. No girl likes being taunted with this sort of reminder. Perhaps an outsider has kindly suggested that a young man with the right feeling would have made some sort of proposal long ago. Martha, being a mere woman after all, would naturally resent such a suggestion, and might feel it absolutely necessary to prove to herself that you really cared. If her method was a little crude, she might be forgiven.

Anyhow you're showing yourself a very strange sort of friend if at the slightest hint of trouble you take yourself off in a temper, after the years of pleasant friendship you and she have known.

If you're really fond of her prove it by sticking to her now. If you truely love her, you want her to be happy, no matter how she arrives at that happiness. And you'll want her to do everything in her power to know definitely the true state of her feelings.

You're being a bad sport and unworthy friend. Pull yourself together and have the generosity and the tolerance to see her point of view. Also have the wisdom to understand that she is doing the sensible thing and that her suggestion is perfectly right and normal. Give her a chance to find out what she wants to know—and incidentally give yourself a chance to get the right perspective on this romance.

P. G.: Certainly stick to your father. He has done everything to deserve your gratitude and affection and you would never forgive yourself later in life, if you deserted him now.

Young Wife Happy Now

"Before my little daughter was born I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound regularly. I was able to do my usual work and take pleasure in doing it. We were so happy when a wonderfully fine baby girl arrived to bless our home. I have enjoyed better health since the baby's birth than ever before. I am sure that I owe it all to your medicine and I heartily recommend it to all women who are weak or ailing."—Mrs. Chester Decker, R. R. #1, Wheatland, Indiana.

STATE WORKER PRAISES NEENAH SCHOOL SYSTEM

Educational Institution Praised by Inspector in Report

Neenah — A lengthy report by Miss Maybelle Bush of the state department of public education was received by the board of education at its Monday night meeting. The report followed a recent tour of inspection made by the state officer. The board was commended for maintaining constant repair of school buildings, and for securing teachers who are thoroughly interested in their work and who are alert to modern trends in education.

Definite activities are provided for the development of desirable character and citizenship traits the report pointed out. Materials for the schools have been carefully chosen and are being made very good use of by the teachers. The teachers are alert to the health needs of the pupils and the programs are so planned that physical needs are given careful consideration.

Very constructive extra-curricular activities are planned and carried out, such as band work, club work, etc. Some definite use is made of current events as a regular part of the subject matter of the curriculum and current events magazines are generally available. The superintendent is extending skillful scientific leadership and is making use of standardized tests and other supervisory techniques in a kindly constructive way. Neenah has reason to feel gratified regarding many of the characteristics of the Neenah schools, the report stated.

"The following matters were brought to your attention in hope that they may form a part of your continuing constructive policy," the report stated.

Stresses Kindergarten

"There is a marked need for more trained kindergarten teaching service and it would seem possible to substitute one trained kindergarten teacher to assist one half day in each of the large kindergartens and to dispose with the untrained kindergarten assistants. Such a plan would make it possible to divide the work in schools where two rooms are available so that one group could be having activities with trained leadership, while the other group was having music, stories, rhythm and games. This plan fits your working conditions much better than does the present plan of having part of your children under an untrained leader for a part of the work.

"A special opportunity room would seem to be necessary based upon the observations made by Miss Bush. Such a need can be easily determined by asking for the services of the Clinical Psychologist from this department who would make the necessary tests and find out whether or not a sufficient number of children are in attendance in the Neenah schols to make such a room a practical investment.

"I strongly urge you to consider the advantages of raising the entrance age to first grade so that no child is allowed to begin first grade work if he will become six years of age later than Jan. 1 following his admission in September. This is a very low age entrance limits we know that the older children are within certain reasonable limits when they begin first grade work; the happier they are and the greater gains they make in later grades. You are in harmony with progressive trends in education and when you advocate the extension of the kindergarten training to all children who do not manifest the necessary mental maturity to make a success in grade one in one year.

Favors Summer School

"Ask teachers to attend summer school at least once in every three years if they expect to be retained in the system and to be benefited by salary increases. Many schools are offering classes in instrumental music as an enrichment of the 12 year music program; to expand the health program you have already. I urge you to consider the benefits derived from an arrangement with local physicians to provide a medical examination of every child at least once per year and to confer with local dentists and secure their services for the giving of a mental examination at least once a year. Some guidance should be offered the teachers in art work."

MRS. RUTH WEINFURTER IS GRANTED DIVORCE

Neenah—A decree of divorce has been granted to Mrs. Ruth Weinfurter from John Weinfurter, both of Neenah, in county court at Oshkosh. The defendant did not appear and there was a stipulation as to alimony and property division. Desertion was the charge, Mrs. Weinfurter claiming her husband had left here more than two years ago and had failed to support her and their one child. Mr. and Mrs. Weinfurter were married in 1926 at Waukegan, Ill. Under the terms of the judgment, $20 a month must be paid for support of the child, and Mrs. Weinfurter is to have the household goods.

NEENAH WOMEN GET $120 BOWLING PRIZE

Neenah—Checks totaling $120.33, covering prize money won by Neenah women bowlers at the annual state tournament at Madison, have been received by the winners. For rolling into seventh place in the singles events, received $13; Bernice Christofferson tied for twenty-fourth place and received $7.33; Pearl Drake, thirty-fourth place, received $6; Ruth Howlett, seventy-seventh place received $4; and Mrs. B. O. Cone hundred and seventy-third place, received $2.

Drake-Christofferson rolled into seventh place in the doubles and received $16; Bell-Muench rolled into fortieth place and received $14; Bell-Muench was fourth high in a single game score and received $2. Christofferson received $6 [illegible] in the all-events.

RECEIVE NEW SUITS FOR BASKETBALL TEAM

Neenah — Thirty new suits for the high school basketball squad were received Monday afternoon. They will be worn for the first time either on the night of the Two Rivers-Neenah game or during the annual district tournament here next week. There are 15 red suits, pants an jerseys, and 15 white suits. On the front of each is the word Neenah and the figure of a sky-rocket. On the back of each jersey is the player's number. New Shoes also will be given to the players.

EDUCATION BOARD ELECTS MYHRE AS NEW PRESIDENT

Second Ward Representative Fills Unexpired Term of D. L. Kimberly

Neenah—Olaf Myhre, Second ward representative in the board of education, was unanimously elected president of the board to fill the unexpired term of D. L. Kimberly, resigned, Monday evening at the monthly board session at the high school.

The report of the public health nurse showed the general health conditions in the city are fairly good, with exception of a few cases of mumps and other minor diseases among children. The financial report of the high school cafeteria was presented. Superintendent C. F. Hedges reported on the annual convention last week at Detroit, Mich., and at which he was present.

A report from Miss Bush, state supervisor of elementary schools was read. The report followed a recent tour of inspection of the grade schools by Miss Busch. On motion a survey of mentally deficient children will be made by the state supervisor and necessary steps taken to provide for a special opportunity room for those found so afflicted. A motion also was adopted that the board comply with Miss Bush's recommendation relative to disposing of four kindergarten assistants and adding one more experienced kindergarten teacher.

Bills totaling $14,258.03, including salaries, were authorized paid.

LIFE'S ODDITIES

By George Clark

"You go on to bed, paw; I'm going to wait and see what they serve for refreshments."

KIWANIS TO HEAR JUSTICE FOWLER

Jurist to Address Neenah Organization Tomorrow Noon

Neenah—Justice Chester A. Fowler of the Wisconsin Supreme court will speak Wednesday noon at the weekly meeting and luncheon of Kiwanis club at Valley Inn. The club has invited the Rotary club and Neenah club to meet with it. His subject has not been announced. Justice Fowler has had an enviable career in the practice of law within and without the state, and he became judge of the Circuit court of the 18th judicial circuit at its creation in 1905. He was reelected four times thereafter without opposition.

The 18th judicial circuit includes the counties of Adams, Marquette, Green Lake, Columbia and Fond du Lac. He also served as chairman on the board of circuit judges for the first 10 years of its existence.

In 1929 he was appointed by Governor Walter Kohler to fill the vacancy of Chief Justice Vinje, whose term would have expired at the end of this present year. Later he was elected by Wisconsin voters to fill the unexpired term of Justice Vinje. Justice Fowler again will be a candidate for reelection next spring.

PENNSYLVANIA MAN TALKS AT SAFETY MEET

Neenah—The fifth number on the Neenah Safety school program was given Monday night at S. A. Cook armory with William J. H. Boetcker of Erie, Pa., as the speaker. Mr. Boetcker discussed "Horse Sense." Leo Schubart was chairman of the meeting, which was the last one of the series before the dinner meeting on the evening of March 23. The meetings have been attended by groups of more than 400 men employed at twin city mills and factories. Those who attended regularly will receive a certificate at the dinner meeting. The school was made possible by the Neenah Vocational school, twin city industries and the state industrial commission cooperation.

Mr. Boetcher spoke at the noon luncheon at the Neenah club and also addressed the high school student body during the afternoon activity period.

NEENAH SOCIETY

Neenah—Danish Sisterhood will conduct a rummage sale March 11 at the Brotherhood hall.

SIX TEAMS SEEKING PLACES IN TOURNEY

Elimination Cage Games to Start at 6:30 Wednesday Evening

Neenah—Because three elimination games must be played Wednesday evening to select three teams eligible to enter the annual Neenah district basketball tournament here next week, the first game will start at 6:30 with North Fond du Lac and Plymouth on the floor. The second game will start at 7:30 between Kaukauna and Lomira and at 8:30 Menasha and Omro will play. The winner in each of the three games will take part in the district tournament.

The eighth team in the tournament will be from the Algoma district. It is possible that Kewaunee, conference winner, will be the entrant. Pickett and Witte will officiate at the elimination game.

Menasha, although it lost practically every game on its schedule, will enter the tournament through the elimination route, as Menasha played teams above the average.

ONLY SEVEN ARRESTS MADE IN FEBRUARY

Neenah—Only seven arrests were made in February, according to the monthly report of Chief of Police Charles Watts. This was the smallest number reported in several years. Of the total arrests, three were on drunk and disorderly charges; two on charges of immoral conduct; one for reckless driving, and one person was returned to the industrial school.

POSTPONE WEEKLY DARTBALL MATCHES

Neenah — The weekly dartball games in the Trinity Lutheran church league, scheduled for Monday evening, were dispensed with and in their place, a social was arranged by the women for the team members. Games were played and mixed games of dartball played. The regular schedule will be resumed next Monday night.

Menasha—A meeting of the Menasha fire department was held in the city hall Monday evening. Dues were collected and routine business discussed.

LEGION TO MAKE JOBLESS SURVEY AMONG VETERANS

Work Will Be Started Within Week, Post at Neenah Informed

Neenah—A survey of unemployed legion men will be made here by the American Legion, according to orders received by Otto Lieber, commander, from state authorities. The survey will be started within the next week, Commander Lieber reported at the Monday evening meeting of James P. Hawley post at S. A. Cook armory.

The post accepted the arrangements made with the city to meet at the city hall auditorium, and the post's equipment will be moved from the armory. The house committee will meet Friday night to draft rules and by-laws governing the use of the new quarters. Some changes in the interior of the rooms are contemplated.

Robert Ebert, service officer, reported that 78 applications had been made to him so far for soldier bonus loans. He also made a report on the mid-winter conference at Rhinelander.

Arrangements are being made by Neenah, Menasha and Appleton posts for a private car over one of the railways to carry the three cities' delegations to the annual national convention next September at Detroit. Committees will be appointed to confer with railway companies.

A smoker and cards followed the meeting, at which there were more than 100 members in attendance. The prize in the card game was won by Edward Jape.

Little, Port Huron, Mich., supreme field director of Women's Benefit association and Mrs. Gertrude Voss of Milwaukee, state leader attended a meeting of the Menasha organization in the Memorial building Monday evening. Plans for attending the national pageant in Chicago July 22; and the state meeting in Madison May 7 and 8, were discussed and a large attendance, including 29 members of the Oshkosh chapter, was recorded.

Election of officers will feature the meeting of Menasha Elks' lodge in the club rooms Wednesday evening. A large attendance is expected.

Knights of Columbus lodge will meet in the chapter rooms Thursday evening. Routine work will be done.

MENASHA DRAWS BYE IN 1ST TOURNEY PLAY

Menasha — The St. Mary high school cage squad will be pitted against the winner of the Little Chute-Oshkosh game in the Fox River Valley Catholic high school cage tournament at St. Norberts of De Pere, Wednesday, according to Coach Dale Clough. The Menasha squad drew a bye and escaped competition in the first day of tournament play, Tuesday.

A rehearsal of both offensive and defensive play was directed by Coach Clough Monday afternoon and little change is expected in the lineup for Wednesday. Rieschl is slated to appear as center, Green, Coopman, Voss and Stilp as forwards; and Mackin, Resch, Fahrenkrug and Resch as guards.

ROLLS 227 FOR HIGH SINGLE LEAGUE GAME

Menasha—A 227 single game count, scored by J. W. Powers of the Allouez, took high honors in Knights of Columbus league bowling on Hendy alleys Monday evening. After dropping their first game to the La Salles, the Allouez bowlers rallied to win easily in the remaining two games.

The Cordovas took two out of three tilts from the Navigators; and the Pintas dropped two out of three games to the DeSotos.

HENDY RECREATIONS IN NATIONAL PIN MEET

Menasha—The Hendy Recreation squad, crack Menasha bowling team, will participate in the national tournament, the American Bowling Congress, under way at Buffalo, N. Y. The team is composed of P. Borens, William Tuchscherer, C. Hendy, R. Kellnhauser and E. Ostertag and will appear in tournament play on March 29 and 30.

Nine Menasha teams will participate in the Knights of Columbus bowling tournament under way at Racine. The Balboas, Floral Center Green House, Pintas, Navigators, San Pedros, LaSalles, Crusaders, Santa Marias and Hendy Recreation teams will appear March 14 and 15.

MENASHA LISTED FOR POSTOFFICE, MAYOR ADVISED

Menasha — Reassurance that Menasha is included in the list of cities granted appropriations for new federal buildings, was received by Mayor N. G. Remmel in a telegram from Congressman Michael K. Reilly on Monday.

"List of federal buildings and sites submitted to congress last Friday is separate and distinct from list of buildings in which Menasha was included Feb. 2.

"Appropriation for Menasha is included in the present deficiency bill, while appropriations for cities in the recent list are not expected to be made until the next session of congress."

COMMON COUNCIL WILL CONSIDER CODE ON TRAFFIC

Hearing on Striegel Building Permit to Precede Regular Session

Menasha—A number of codified city ordinances, including the new traffic code, will be presented at the meeting of the common council Tuesday evening, according to Mayor N. G. Remmel. The ordinances have been codified under the direction of M. F. Crowley, city attorney.

The meeting will be preceded by a public hearing on the application of George Striegel for permission to contract a store building on the corner of Eighth and Racine-sts. No provision has been made in the city zoning ordinance for additional neighborhood stores and data for and against favorable action by the aldermen may be presented by interested parties.

Transfer of taxes on the city water and light plant to the general fund, plus interest on the city's equity in the plant also will be considered in Tuesday's meeting. The transfer would add more than $23,000 to general fund resources and provide funds for a number of street and sewer extensions proposed by city officials. A resolution proposing the transfer was introduced at the council meeting on Feb. 17, but temporarily blocked for further consideration.

Plans for construction of a new bridge tender's house on the Mill-st bridge will also be considered, officials expect. The shanty previously used was partially destroyed by fire several days ago and later razed by city employes under the direction of Peter Kasel, city superintendent.

TWIN CITY DEATHS

MRS. PAULINA SUMMERTON

Neenah—Mrs. Paulina Summerton, 85, a resident of Neenah for the past 50 years, died Tuesday morning at her home on Winneconne-ave. Mrs. Summerton was born Feb. 1, 1846, at East Troy, Wis. Surviving are two sons and four daughters, Fred Summerton of St. Paul; George Summerton of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Florence Knudson of Stillwater, Minn.; Mrs. Daisy Hayes of Batavia, N. Y.; and Misses Lina and Mary Summerton of Neenah. The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home. The services will be conducted by the Rev. D. C. Jones, pastor of First Presbyterian church. Burial will be at Oak Hill cemetery.

MRS. MARTHA WRIGHT

Neenah—Mrs. Martha Wright, 46, former Neenah resident, died last Friday at Madison, according to information received here. The body was taken to Eau Claire where the funeral was conducted Monday. Surviving are a daughter, Veronica Wright of Neenah; the father at Eau Claire; four brothers and three sisters. Mrs. Wright left Neenah about a year ago.

MENASHA CAGERS IN SCRIMMAGE SESSION

Menasha — Scrimmage rehearsal Tuesday afternoon will complete the Menasha high school cage squad's preparation for their game with the Omro quint at Neenah Wednesday evening. Six teams are slated to play for berths in the district tournament, at Neenah March 13, 14 and 15.

Although the Menasha five has failed to notch the conference win column this season a win over the Omro quint has been predicted.

MENASHA KIWANIANS HOLD WEEKLY SESSION

Menasha—The Menasha Kiwanis club met in the Memorial building Tuesday noon. The luncheon was followed by a general discussion of club and business problems.

MOTHERS ARE LEARNING USES OF MAGNESIA

From the beginning of expectancy until baby is weaned. That's the time Phillips Milk of Magnesia performs the greatest service for many women.

It relieves the expectant mother's nausea, heartburn, "morning sickness," inclination to vomit; helps her digestion. Its mild but effective laxative action assures regular bowel movement.

Phillips Milk of Magnesia is better than lime water for neutralizing cow's milk for infant feeding. A teaspoonful of it does the work of a half pint of lime water. It is a mild laxative; harmless, almost tasteless.

All drug stores have Phillips Milk of Magnesia in generous 25c and 50c bottles. Always insist on the genuine, endorsed by physicians for 50 years.

DAVIS CLEARED IN NYE REPORT ON VOTE COSTS

But Committee Condemns Excessive Expenditures of Ticket

ining the amount of expenditures to be allocated to each individual candidate."

Cites Earlier Case

But it called to attention that the senate had condemned the $195,000 expenditure in behalf of former Senator Newberry, Republican, Michigan, and the $785,000 for the Vare-Beidelman Republican primary ticket in Pennsylvania in 1926.

Listing the expenditures for the general election slate headed by Davis as $494,720 and the total for both Republican primary and election as $1,117,648, the report added:

"Your committee is impressed by the size of these aggregate expenditures even when due regard is given to the area and population of Pennsylvania. It regards the expenditure of $622,000 as excessive and inimical to the public interest, whether such sum is expended on behalf of one candidate or a group of candidates in any primary election. Such a condition can not be permitted to continue unchallenged without the most serious consequences to the nation."

As in the case of Nebraska, the committee reserved for a later date, the submission of legislative recommendations to curb "such undesirable features as have been disclosed in the course of its investigation."

Chairman Nye, who had intended offering a resolution to unseat Davis on account of the expenditures, has announced he would not make this move, at this session at least.

Hits Cost at Polls

It also assailed the expenditure of large sums for Election day watchers and messengers, and for transporting voters to the polls, saying $98,263 or 70.4 per cent was spent for this purpose by 33 county committees.

Patterson in his report, said these expenditures were legal under the Pennsylvania law.

The majority report listed the expenditure in behalf of the Democratic senatorial candidate, Sedgwick Kistler, at $103,801, but made no comment on this. Neither did it comment on the listed expenditure of $420,701 for former Senator Grundy in the Republican primary.

The following table of expenditures in the primary was included in the report:

Davis-Brown ticket (headed by James J. Davis)—$622,928.

Joseph R. Grundy—$420,701.

Bohlen-Phillips ticket (headed by Francis H. Bohlen)—$167,393.

Webster Garfield Drew—$675.

Wisconsin Boy is Healthiest

"MY little son, John, had whooping cough," says Mrs. J. W. Clark, 3105 Mt. Vernon Avenue, Milwaukee. "He was having a hard time until I thought of California Fig Syrup and got him some. The first few doses regulated his bowels, brightened him up marvelously; even seemed to ease the coughing spasms a great deal.

"I have since used Fig Syrup with John during colds or upsets. It has been a wonderful help to him; has assisted in making him the strong boy you see—perhaps the healthiest one in our neighborhood."

For more than fifty years, mothers have praised California Fig Syrup. Leading physicians advise its use with bilious, headachy, constipated children, or to keep the bowels open during colds or children's diseases. Children love its rich, fruity flavor. It tones and strengthens weakened bowels; helps make children robust.

Look for the name California when buying. That marks the genuine.

DEFER ACTION ON TARIFF ON SUMATRA CROP

Cheap Tobacco Wrappers Needed by Wisconsin Cigar Makers

BY RUBY A. BLACK
Post-Crescent Washington Correspondent

Washington—Emerson Ela, counsel for the Northern Wisconsin Cooperative Tobacco pool, had the satisfaction of seeing his chief aim in visiting Washington accomplished while he was on the spot.

It is to the interest of Wisconsin tobacco growers to get Sumatra tobacco wrappers for cheap cigars as rapidly and as cheaply as possible. That is why they opposed an increase in the tariff duties on Sumatra tobacco, which was sought by the Connecticut and Florida tobacco growers.

Sixty-five per cent of the Wisconsin binder tobacco and practically all of the Wisconsin filler tobacco is used with Sumatra wrappers, Ela says. In fact, without Sumatra wrapper tobacco, some of the manufacturers of cheap cigars, using Wisconsin binder or filler, would simply have to go out of business, and the smokers of the country would be deprived of what the late Tom Marshall called the chief need of the country—a good 5-cent cigar, according to Ela.

Ela appeared before F. X. A. Eble, commissioner of customs, to oppose the proposed embargo of Sumatra tobacco, advocated by some on the grounds that Sumatra tobacco is produced by "convict labor." It probably is made by forced or indentured labor, and imports of such products are prohibited by the tariff act after next Jan. 1.

Blaine Is Bucker

This provision would keep the United States from having many automobile tires or other rubber goods and much coffee, if it were not for the saving clause that permits importation of goods made by involuntary labor if the products in question are not made in this country in sufficient quantities to meet the demand. Sen. John B. Blaine of Boscobel was one of the leading exponents of this measure.

Under the present law only the product of convict labor can be barred; after Jan. 1, the product of forced or indentured labor can be barred; under a bill which Ela meant to oppose in the senate committee on finance, the date for barring the products of forced labor would be moved up to April 1, and an additional definition would be added to existing law which would prevent the importation of goods loaded, unloaded, transported, or in any way handled by convict, forced, indentured, or other involuntary labor.

This measure was sought chiefly by lumber, pulpwood, hard coal, and manganese interests.

There is an unsettled question as to whether this provision would bar Sumatra wrappers. It probably would if Connecticut and Florida growers can convince the treasury department that they produce enough wrapper tobacco—no matter at how high a cost—to meet the domestic demand.

But the senate committee on finance indefinitely postponed consideration of the bill before Ela could get to the capitol from the treasury department to appear against it!

Anyhow, Ela left Washington Thursday with as much confidence as one can have in such a confused session of Congress that Sumatra tobacco would not be barred to the disaster of Wisconsin tobacco.

Won't Urge Parks

The National Park service has no intention of telling this Congress whether or not national parks should be made out of the Apostle Islands and out of the Upper Mississippi valley in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, and Illinois.

A survey was made of the Apostle Islands as a result of a bill introduced by Rep. Hubert H. Peavey of Washburn and passed by the last session of this Congress, but no report will be made this session.

A similar survey was made of the Upper Mississippi to a point above Lake Pepin, but similarly nothing is going to happen before next year.

Further legislation following reports on the surveys would be required to make a national park of either area.

A preliminary survey was made of the six eastern townships of the Menominee Indian reservation, too, although the Senate has never passed the bill introduced by Rep. George J. Schneider of Appleton and passed by the house authorizing a park survey of that part of the reservation.

This bill may not be pressed in the next Congress, as the imminent possibility of power development there might ruin the scenery and the fishing, seems to have vanished with the Wisconsin Power and Light company's relinquishment of its preliminary permit for five dams on the Wolf river without applying for a license.

Rep.-Elect Gerald Boileau of Wausau and his secretary, Frank G. Loesser, likewise of Wausau, have been in Washington this week "learning the ropes" and the congressman-elect attended the Republican caucus Thursday night.

Schneider Is Kidded

Rep. George J. Schneider of Appleton is getting considerable kidding from his colleagues because of the state senate's passage of the Cashman resolution reproving the Wisconsin congressmen—with the lone exception of Rep. Merlin Hull of Black River Falls, now a "lame duck"—for voting for the tariff bill when it first passed the house of representatives.

Some of the other Wisconsin congressmen insist that State Senator John E. Cashman of Denmark hopes that this move and the redistricting of Wisconsin will give him a chance to be elected to Congress to succeed Rep. Schneider, and that they have to suffer just because somebody wanted to attack Rep. Schneider!

Speaking of "lame ducks," all the Wisconsin congressmen voted for the "lame duck amendment," and all of them except Reps. John C. Schafer of Milwaukee, conservative, and Charles A. Kading of Watertown, progressive, voted against the Longworth amendment limiting the final term of each Congress to a definite adjournment date, May 4.

The only two Wisconsin congressmen who spoke for it, however, were Reps. Edward E. Browne of Waupaca, now a "lame duck" himself, and William H. Stafford of Milwaukee, who has been a "lame duck" three times but is not now. Rep. Stafford had a "lame duck" proposal of his own before Congress, but accepted the Norris-Giffor-1 proposal instead of pressing his own. Rep. Browne spoke against the Longworth amendment, and Rep. Stafford spoke against an amendment to lengthen the terms of Congressmen, now two years.

Rep. Browne said that the Longworth amendment to set a definite date for adjournment would be "a confession to the world that the greatest legislative body in the world is afraid to trust itself."

This got applause, but the Longworth amendment got the votes of the house.

"This is a time," Rep. Browne continued, "when the powers of the legislative branches not only of this government but of every parliament of the world are being usurped by the executive, and when the legislative powers are being encroached upon....The legislative branch of the government, the only branch which is directly responsible to the people, should protect itself and its sovereignty and not be a party to tying its own hands."

A party of about 160 boys visited Washington from Walworth, Waukesha, Racine, Milwaukee, and other counties in southeastern Wisconsin Monday and were addressed by Sen. John J. Blaine of Boscobel on the steps of the capitol, where they were also photographed.

Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, Jr., of Madison sent his regrets at his absence, enforced by a committee meeting.

David Lilienthal, new Wisconsin railroad commissioner, was admitted to practice before the bar of the supreme court of the United States at the session Tuesday at which the court held the eighteenth amendment constitutionally ratified, overthrowing the decision of Federal Judge Clarke of New Jersey.

LOCOMOTIVES NOW RUN WITHOUT FEAR OF LITTLE FISHES

Green Bay—(AP)— Tiny fishes will no longer balk the great locomotives of the Northwestern railroad.

Going out of the roundhouse several of the locomotives were found in the past to be literally foaming at the cylinders. After testing all the mechanical contrivances that might cause such action, the road's engineers inspected the water supply. It was found that the screen through which the roundhouse draws water from a flume had several holes in it. Then it was found that thousands of the fingerling fish the conservation commission plants in nearby waters had entered the flume.

The little fishes were being pulled through the hole and past valves and pumps in the engines, into the boilers, where, for some unknown reason, they caused "foaming," a condition that impairs the efficiency of the moguls.

A new screen was installed in the flume, and on complaint to the conservation commission, its workers removed about 250,000 fingerlings from the flume and re-"planted" them.

DON'T GO TO NATIONAL CAPITAL TO SEEK JOB

The civil service commission at Washington, D. C., in a letter to William H. Zuehlke, acting postmaster here, asks that widespread publicity be given to an appeal urging job seekers not to go to Washington. The commission explained that the District of Columbia committee on employment had called attention to a number of pathetic cases where persons have come from considerable distances expecting to obtain a government position on the strength of having passed civil service examinations, only to become stranded and in some instances become a public charge.

Appointments to federal positions, it was explained, are made only as the actual needs of the service require and that the presence of an applicant in Washington cannot improve or expedite any prospects of employment he may have.

Stubborn Coughs Ended by Recipe, Mixed at Home

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up a stubborn, lingering cough. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs little, but it gives real relief even for those dreaded coughs that follow severe cold epidemics.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. Thus you make a full pint of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it.

Not only does this simple mixture soothe and heal the inflamed throat membranes with surprising ease, but also it is absorbed into the blood, and acts directly upon the bronchial tubes, thus aiding the whole system in throwing off the cough. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of distressing coughs, chest colds, and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

13 FAIRS DREW BIG ATTENDANCE

Other Half of 869,055 Attendants Were Present at 66 Other Fairs

Madison — Wisconsin's 13 largest county fairs in 1930 drew approximately one-half the total attendance of the 76 county fairs in the state, announces Ralph E. Ammon, chief of fairs and state development. The 76 county fairs report a total attendance of 869,055, and of that the 13 leading fairs drew 448,397.

Elkhorn was again the leading county fair of the state from the standpoint of paid attendance with 65,893 paid admissions at the gate. Chippewa Falls was second with 52,086, and Madison a close third with 51,575 paid admissions. Oshkosh in fourth place was 12,000 behind Madison with 39,659 people paying admission at Oshkosh. La Crosse was reported fifth with 37,168, and De Pere sixth with 30,565.

Others of the thirteen lucky ones in order were Beaver Dam, 27,497; Superior, 25,731; Wausau, 25,185; Marshfield, 24,421; Monroe, 23,986; Manitowoc, 23,464, and Fond du Lac, 21,169.

Rice Lake and Mauston each reported approximately 16,400 paid admissions and Shawano and Menominee were each around 15,000. There were about 15 other fairs between the 10,000 and 15,000 paid attendance marks, Mr. Ammon reported. These 30 largest fairs had 75 per cent of the total paid attendance for the 76 fairs, the report states.

The United States forest service estimates that the Alaskan forests can supply 1,000,000 tons of newsprint annually in perpetuity.

PROTEST PROPOSED BADGER CHEESE LAW

Green Bay —(AP)— A warning that passage of two bills relating to the manufacture of cheese now pending before the state legislature may result in the closing of cheese processing plants through Wisconsin was given by Attorney Erwin Snyder, at a legislative committee meeting here Monday.

Attorney Snyder represented the Kraft-Phoenix Cheese company, Chicago, with branch plants in Wisconsin, in protesting against passage of the bills.

One of the bills seeks to eliminate the 1 per cent additional moisture now allowed in the manufacture of process cheese over the legal moisture in bulk cheese direct from the factory. The other bill provides that all cheese compounds have the same butterfat content and no more moisture content than process cheese.

Beware of the Cough That Lingers On

Stop It Today with Bronchuline Emulsion—65 cents a bottle

When "patience ceases to be a virtue" and you get tired of trying to stop that tough, old, weakening die-hard cough with sweet sugary syrups. That's the right time to ask Voigt's Drug Store, 134 E. College Ave., or any live druggist for a 65 cent bottle of Bronchuline Emulsion.

It's the contrary, obstinate, mulish, old time coughs that Bronchuline likes to conquer and the tougher they come, the faster they go.

So if you have one of these tight, persistent coughs that cause sleepless nights and days of torment just ask your dealer for Bronchuline Emulsion — It isn't a cheap medicine — the cheap ones are dear at any price — all druggists guarantee it. Adv.

CARLS WINNERS OF LOOP TITLE FOR 4TH TIME

Vikes Trail 30 and 5 With Five Minutes Gone in Final Half

NORTHFIELD, MINN. — Lawrence was Carleton college's twenty-seventh Midwest conference victim here Monday night. The score was 36 to 22.

Brilliant ball players, the Carls annexed their fourth consecutive conference crown with the ease of the champions they are. For 13 minutes the Vikings held the unerring five to a six to three score. But with a flood of buckets, coming in extremely rapid succession, the Carls ran up a 20 to 5 lead. In the short space of 32 seconds the score jumped to 12 to 3, and eight more points went up on the board in seven minutes.

The Vikings, fighting gamely, brilliantly, outscored the champions 17 to 16 in the final half but a fifteen point margin was too big a lead to hope to overcome.

It is easy to understand Carleton's unparalleled success. Tall, rangy and springy, Marshall Diebold's men pegged away at the basket with unfailing eyes dropping in counter after counter as five men played under the hoop. Lawrence was outclassed, man for man in individual ability, but never outfought.

Diebold Praises Vikes

Diebold characterized the Vikes' play in one sentence to A. C. Denney: "Lawrence is by far the best team we've encountered this year always aggressive, always battling, brilliant on defense." And the Vikes fought well, played brilliantly, but could not cope with the unerring sharpshooters who looped them in from everywhere.

Nielson was the only Carleton man who shot the ball with two hands. The others, especially Arney, a rangy sophomore, looped them in on lazy one handed tosses.

Eight of the starters last night, four from each team, were playing their last intercollegiate game. Crawford, lanky center, Perrin, Leach, and Nielson made a brilliant exit, climaxed by the award of gold basketballs after the game. Captain Biggers, Pierce, Fischl, and Laird made their exit not quite as auspiciously in the scoring column, but brilliant on the floor.

Lawrence was defeated the minute it got its hands on the ball. The Carleton forwards played Fischl and Pierce all the way down the floor—prevented Denney's slow plays, and demoralizing the Vikings' slow offensive. The Vikes played Carleton everywhere, checking men in perfect style, but there was no defense for those one handed tosses.

As related before, Carleton had only a 6 to 3 lead at the end of thirteen minutes of play, but the Carls ran up points in dazzling succession—never giving the Vikes an opportunity to score.

The score was 30 to 5 with five minutes gone in the final period, and at the midway point in that final half the score was 30 to 9. Three minutes later it was 34 to 11, and with 15 minutes gone the count was 34 to 15. Here Laird, Biggers, Rafoth, and Pierce combined to run to the 22 mark as Perrin got the Carl's final counter.

In the final period, the Vikings rolled up their court. As Biggers counted five times, Rafoth once on a one handed toss, Laird three times on followups, Pierce on a long arch, and Fischl on a pair of free throws.

Arney, Diebold's sophomore forward, counted 11 times for high scoring honors, while Crawford followed with 10. Laird had the big boy in check for the opening half, but four followups raised his total in the final spasm. Biggers, who followed Laird in the Viking column, failed to count until 35 minutes of the game had rolled away.

Bud Pierce played the best game of his career. He drilled away from Peerin numerous times, playing a dazzling individual game, and sank two long counters from the extreme corner. Fischl and Pierce located the hoop on every attempt, but the ball refused to drop. Had they done so, the score would have been much closer.

FESSENDEN NAMED IN BILLIARD MEET

New York —(AP)— Four players have been picked by the National Billiard association to compete in the national amateur 18.2 balkline championship to be held here starting March 16.

The field will include Edgar T. Appleby of New York, defending champion; Percy Collins, Chicago; Ray V. Fessenden, Madison, and Monrad C. Wellgren, Everett, Wash. Four more players will be selected later.

Here's a "Veteran" Bowling Team

The five men shown above are members of Grandpa's Kids, the oldest bowling team entered in the annual state Elks tournament which began Sunday afternoon on local Elk alleys when 20 teams took the runways.

Grandpa Langstadt, the youngster in the center of the lower row was the dean of the five because of his being a young fellow of 95 summers. Other members of the team are, standing, left to right, Joseph Koffend, Sr., 84, and J. E Stanton, 80. In the lower row the men are Arnold Peerenboom, 82, Grandpa and Martin Weyenberg 81. The ages of the five men total 422 years.

And what's more the records show the five turned in the highest score of the afternoon, 2448 pins.

The Clarke team in the K. of C. bowling league lost two games last night but the defeats failed to make any change in the standings and the team remains on top the heap.

R. Merkel hit 204 to give the winners, the St. John team, the first game by a big margin. The second game went to the Clarkes by five pins and the third went to the St. John quint by a like number of maples. R. Merkel had 204, 173, 190—567 for the St. John team, Strutz 203, 199, 163—565 for the Clarkes.

J. Balliet carried off all the high individual honors last night by getting 204, 169, 259—632 and pacing the Loyola team to a two game victory over the Trinity quintet. Balliet's 259 and Van Ables 208 gave the Loyola team a 1008 total for the final game.

Campion won two and lost one to the Holy Cross team. The Campion five won the first game when Schreiter rolled 202 and Greisbach of the losers got an 80. R. Bentz' 190 set the pace for the winners in the second game but in the third the Campion five slipped and cropped the decision by nearly 100 pins.

Georgetown gave the St. Norbert five the first two games with only ordinary opposition. In the third and last game the St. Norbert five became careless and the Georgetown boys eked out a win by 15 pins.

R. Gee got a 204 in the first game as the Notre Dame team won from the St. Thomas five and then dropped to 144 as his squad lost the next setto. The final game of the series went to the Irish with Gritzmacher's 191 setting the pace. Gritzmacher had 187, 214, 191—592 for the winners.

W. Timmers' 188 gave the St. Lawrence team its first game with the Fordham five while a flock of low scores lost the second for the Fords. In the third game they rallied with C. Mueller's 198 and copped the decision 977 to 924.

M. Monroe rolled 142, 172, 210—524 for the Marquette team and it won two games from the Regis five. The only game dropped was the first which went by the boards when Connelly rolled an even 200 score.

St. Francis lost the first game to the Creighton five but eked out a win in the second by one pin, 827 to 826 and felt so good about it that it copped the third game 939 to 862. J. Dohr had a 202 in the last game and G. Schommer a 208.

OLDER BOYS CONSIDER SOFTBALL SCHEDULE

Although it may be several days before the snow again will be gone and several weeks before the weather becomes warm enough to induce the boys to start playing softball, older boys at the Y. M. C. A. already are itching to get started in the spring sport.

Another Older Boy league will be organized this spring and as soon as weather is good the season's games will be started. Indications now are that the Theta Hi-Y team with a flock of good ball players among its members, will be the club to cop the title.

An organization meeting for the O. B. league will be called within a few days, according to C. C. Bailey, boys' work secretary, who directs loop activity.

Sports Question Box

Question—When was the first Wimbledon lawn tennis championship meet held? How many courts are there?

Answer—In the year 1877. Fifteen grass courts and nine dirt courts.

Question—Runner is on first base. Batter hits a high infield fly which the pitcher drops purposely to make a double play. Is this not an infield fly?

Answer—No. An infield fly out does not occur when a batter is on first only. A double play may be made if the fielder is smart enough to do it with only a runner on first.

Question—What is the best rule for an amateur to follow in his training exercises?

Answer—Moderation in all work. Permit at least two hours to elapse between periods of exercising.

Football Kicking Robot

E. C. Roberson, a Purdue football player in 1900, kicked seven goals from placement against Rose Poly. One was from the 35-yard line while two each were booted from the 30, 25 and 20-yard marks.

CATHOLIC PREP CAGE CHAMPS DEFEND TITLE

Chicago —(AP)— De La Salle Institute of Chicago, 1930 winner of the national Catholic high school basketball championship tournament, will defend its title in the 1931 tournament at Loyola University, March 18 to 22.

The champions, along with Bishop England high, Charleton, S. C., and St. Francis high, Athol Springs, N. Y., entered today.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

RIP COLLINS, fleet end for the Pitt Panthers, eleven last fall, claims the plain and fancy hog-calling championship or Alleheny county, Pennsylvania...He boasts that his "poule-poule-poule" has a three-mile wavelength...and that the porkers just can't resist.....Collins cultivated the art on his farm home near Sioux City, Ia.....A basketball player travels approximately two and a third miles during a 40-minute game.....Prof. Stephen M. Corey of De Pauw University figured this out, using Frank Graham, De Pauw floor guard, in the experiment.....The results showed Graham moving approximately a mile and a half on the offense....Among other things, it was learned that the ball changed hands from team to team at the rate of once every 26.1 seconds.

HIGH SCHOOL FIVE IN LAST HOME GAME

Meet Chairs at Armory G Friday Night; at Marinette, March 13

Appleton high school basketball team will make its last appearance of the 1931 season on the local floor Friday evening when it meets Sheboygan high school at Armory G. The game is one of two remaining on the Orange schedule; next week the club finishes the season with Marinette at Marinette.

The Chairs took a sound trouncing last weekend from Oshkosh, 30 and 15, but that shouldn't mean a thing as far as Appleton is concerned. The Chairs offered the Orange plenty of opposition down at Sheboygan, a couple weeks ago and as the highs have everything to lose Friday they've just got to crash through with a win.

With the West Green Bay game in the background and a couple days in which to rest up the Shieldsmen should be in fine condition for Friday night's encounter. They showed a great defense at the Bay but their offense failed to work excepting a few minutes in the third quarter.

Friday's game is the last appearance on the local floor for only one member of the squad, Russ Collins, a forward. He is the only senior on the team, the remainder of the gang being juniors and sophomores. Collins has been used as a reserve forward in late games but he no doubt will be given the opportunity to start against the Chairs, a practice usually followed by coaches when some youngster makes his final appearance on the home court.

LEVINSKY SAYS HE'LL BEAT TUFFY GRIFFITHS

Chicago —(AP)— King Levinsky, the ex-fish peddler, predicted today he would defeat Tuffy Griffiths by a knockout when they meet in their scheduled ten round engagement at the Chicago Stadium Friday night.

Meanwhile, the advance sale has passed the $30,000 mark, with indications that the gate will exceed $65,000.

CARROLL WALLOPS RIPON AND WINS BIG FOUR CROWN

Vander Muehlen Is High Scorer With 20 Points; Johnson Gets 16

RIPON,—Coach Red Martin's Ripon Redmen threw a big scare into the Carroll Pioneers for three quarters of their Big Four finale here Monday night, but succumbed in the last period after Vander Muehlen, Pioneer ace, engaged in a scoring spree. The Pioneers won, 46 to 35, to gain undisputed claim to their second consecutive Big Four championship.

Until Vander Muehlen sent a volley of perfect goals in the last ten minutes of play, the tilt was close. The Kenneymen held a one point lead at intermission, 20 to 19.

Scores 20 Points

In the second period, Vander Muehlen added six goals to bring his total to 20 points for the evening. He was closely followed by Glenn Johnson, Ripon scoring ace, with 16 points.

Along with Johnson, Capt. Martin and Falconer, veterans, two Ripon sophomores, Everett Meyer and Donald Klagge, displayed a brilliant game in their final home appearance. With Vander Muehlen and Capt. Hinckley setting the scoring pace, the remainder of the Pioneer quintet sparkled in their guarding of Falconer and Klagge.

Ripon Frosh Win

In the midst of the nip and tuck second period, Falconer, star Redmen forward, was dismissed from the fray via personal foul route. Chick Murray, another Redmen sophomore, was then inserted and turned in a good defensive display.

A preliminary tilt between Coach Cliff Halverson's Ripon yearlings and the Carroll freshmen, ended in a close decision for Ripon, 27 to 24. Holmes and Runyan, Ripon guards, were outstanding.

HUNDERTMARK WINS FROM ADOLPH EBEL

Green Bay—Billy Huntertmark, Green Bay, 144, won from Adolph Ebel, Manitowoc, 141, by a technical knockout in the fourth round of the final bout on an amateur card here last night. Lyman Thomas, Green Bay, 125, stopped Joe Biebel, Oshkosh, 122, in the fourth round of the semi-final.

Ebel left the ring when given a draw after three rounds of milling in which he knocked Hundertmark down twice for short counts. Biebel had the early edge over Thomas but wilted in the last round and was an easy mark when K. O.ed.

Leo Champeau beat B. Schueller, Kaukauna, in a thrilling go, after three rounds of furious fighting. Don DeLair was out pointed by F. Beyers, Sheboygan in another bout.

GEORGE LOTT WINS FLORIDA NET TITLE

Miami Beach, Fla., —(AP)— George Lott, of Chicago, today held the singles title of the pan-American tennis championships. He defeated John Van Ryn of East Orange, N. J., 6-2, 1-6, 6-2 6-4, in yesterday's finals.

It was the second year in a row Lott has carried off the singles title in the Miami Beach event. Last season he won from Johnny Doeg in the finals of the south Florida championships, which became the Pan-American tournament this year.

Major League Managers See Need For Pitchers

BY JOHN B. FOSTER
Copyright 1931

ENROUTE to California—(CPA)—Almost all of the major league managers seems to have focussed their minds on the necessity of having a strong pitching corps this year. That's one of the aims of Manager Bucky Harris of the Detroit Tigers, who are training out in Sacramento and to whose comp this correspondent is speeding today for the first stop on his annual coast-to-coast survey of the big league teams in their spring grind.

A visit around the training camps will provide some definite information of what can be expected from the hurling staffs this season. Most of the managers have already had their twirlers at work for almost a fortnight.

In 1930 two or three of the teams that lost out in the pennant chase laid their defeat to the weakness of their moundsmen. Naturally these teams have attempted this year to bolster their pitching departments. Detroit is one of these, the Chicago Cubs another, the New York Yankees a third, and all of the clubs training in Florida have added to the ranks of their hurlers men who they consider will do better work for them in 1931.

The major clubs this spring are divided into three groups for their training activities. One is in the extreme west, one in the Mississippi valley and the other in Florida. For the first time in baseball history California has snared three of the teams. The Tigers are paying their initial call at Sacramento, while the Pittsburgh Pirates and Chicago Cubs are returning to Paso Robles and Catalina Island, respectively. Also in this western group are placed the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox, both training at San Antonio, Texas.

The mid-section group is composed of Cleveland at New Orleans, Washington at Biloxi, Miss., and the Boston Red Sox at Pensacola, Fla. All three are on a direct railroad line between New Orleans and Jacksonville, Fla.

In the Florida group are the St. Louis Browns at West Palm Beach, the Philadelphia Athletics at Fort Myers, the Philadelphia nationals at Winter Haven, Cincinnati at Tampa, the Yankees and the Boston Braves at St. Petersburg, the Brooklyn Robins at Clearwater and the St. Louis Cardinals at Bradentown.

This present swing around the camps begins at Sacramento, continues down the California coast, thence to Texas, from there to the mid-section cities and on into Florida.

Bobby Jones Arrives In Hollywood For Movie Debut

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF. — (AP) — Motion pictures' newest star looked out yesterday to say: "So this is Hollywood."

Robert T. Jones, Jr., winner of 13 major golf championships, four of them making up the only grand slam the game has known, was on a new course today, teeing up for an ambitious series of 12 pictures.

Starting at the green with a picture on putting he will stand before the camera until he has made chip shots, niblick shots, mashie niblick, spade, mashie and four iron combined, three and two irons, two iron and spoon compared, brassie, driver, trouble shots, practice and finally, to ring down the curtain, a complete round.

Bob was asked as he prepared to start his work if there would be a comedy relief.

Will Stick to Golf

"If there is," he said, "somebody else will have to furnish it. I won't try to do anything I know I know nothing about. I'll stick to golf and hope for the best."

He said he had played lots of golf during the winter.

"I had to try to get on my game but didn't succeed. The last time I played I was not so good. I hope I'll be better when the shooting starts."

He was reminded that the director always can say "cut" and have the shot made over.

"Oh, yes, but I don't want to waste film. I want to cooperate by making these pictures at the lowest possible cost."

While in California the champion of champions will play in several four ball matches for charity.

He had no suggestion to offer as to the most likely candidate to succeed him as amateur champion.

"There are plenty of good amateurs," he said.

"Watch Charlie Seaver"

He was asked if he thought the younger generation included a prospect who might claim an especially brilliant place in the golf sun.

"There are some really great golfers coming up now with the youngsters," he said. "The question will be whether any one of them may develop consistency. We are all good at times, but it's hard to be reasonably good all the time. Charlie Seaver, the Stanford freshman, will bear watching."

Bob appeared in Hollywood with a new golf bag, one he has had since his last visit to England, where it was given him. He could not use it until he retired from competition for he dared not risk changing his luck by changing bags, and a dilapidated old club container went down the long golf trail with him and folded up only when he turned his back on championship play.

For the same reason he never played with steel shafted clubs. lately he used steel shafted irons in two rounds. Asked if he liked them he said yes and no.

"The shots were great when the ball was properly hit," he said. "but I missed some of them badly."

The work in the pictures will be done with the same old clubs he made do magic at home and abroad.

As a co-star in the first picture will be Calamity Jane, his famous putter.

NAME TEAMS FOR NEENAH TOURNEY

Kiel, Neenah, New London, W. DePere Among Those Picked for Meet

Marinette Wis.—Additional listings of participating high schools in the district high school basketball tournaments, leading to the state tourney at Madison, were announced Monday by Paul F. Neverman, secretary of the Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association.

At a meeting in Clintonville the participants in the Antigo, Marshfield, Nekoosa and Oconto district tournaments were selected. Mr. Neverman announced the Neenah district along with those picked Monday.

The districts and the teams taking part in the meets, not previously announced, follow:

Neenah: Kiel, Neenah, New London, West De Pere, and the winner of elimination contests between Plymouth and North Fond du Lac, Menasha and Omro and Kaukauna and Lomira.

Antigo: Antigo, Crandon, Eagle River, Hiles, Marion, Rhinelander, Tomahawk, and the winner of elimination games between Elcho and Matoon and Tigerton and Wittenberg.

Oconto: Crivitz, De Pere, Niagara, Oconto, Shawano and winner of elimination games between Mountain and Oconto Falls, and Suring and Wabeno.

RUMOR DETROIT WILL BUY WESTERN CLUB

Sacramento, Cal. —(AP)— With the Detroit baseball club in camp here, "farming out" rumors and reports that the Sacramento Senators of the Pacific coast league may be sold, were heard here.

Stanley Harris, manager of the Detroit club, denied a report that Gene Des Autels, his young catcher who worked during the latter part of the 1930 season, would be farmed out to Toronto this year. Harris said Des Autels promised to be one of his best catchers and he had no intention of getting rid of him.

Frank P. Navin, president of the Detroit club, was reported en route to Sacramento. It was rumored Navin would confer with Lewis Moreing, owner of the Senators. Moreing said he would be in a "receptive mood" if the easterner wanted to talk around the price Moreing thought his team was worth.

HUNDERTMARK AND AHL TO FIGHT HERE

Will Feature in Windup Bout of March 12 Amateur Card at Armory

Billy Hundertmark of Green Bay and Hans Ahl of Oshkosh will renew hostilities at the next amateur fight card sponsored by Oney Johnston post of the American legion. The program is scheduled for Thursday evening, March 12 and already has the approval of the state fight commission.

The fight will be the third in two seasons between the boys. Their first meeting last spring was at Green Bay where Hundertmark won. In their second battle at Appleton, Ahl gave Hundertmark a merry lesson in the gentle art of boxing and won the decision. The amateur season then came to a close and the boys haven't had a chance to fight since.

Hundertmark was injured in an automobile accident last September and returned to the ring but a few weeks ago. He won a decision over Harold Cotter in his first fight.

Ahl has been fighting regularly this winter and lost but one fight, to Ernie Weibel at Sheboygan about two months ago. He is anxious to again meet Hundertmark and promises to be in best condition.

The appearance of the two boys last spring created quite a furore in local mitt circles and a record crowd saw the fight. Announcement of the bout March 12 again is expected to appeal to popular fancy and a big demand for ducats will get underway soon.

J. C. C. CAGERS WILL BATTLE OSHKOSH FIVE

Appleton junior chamber of commerce basketball team will take on the Oshkosh J. C. C. team at the Y. M. C. A. Friday evening, according to reports. The Appleton J. C. C. has several good basketball players among its member but the squad will be playing its first game.

NORTHWESTERN WINS BIG 10 CAGE TITLE; PURDUE DOWNS U. W.

Win Over Badgers Gives Boilermakers Tie for Second Place Honors

Chicago —(AP)— Northwestern's second major championship team of the current college year-Coach Arthur Longborg's basketball five-today had nothing to do but elect a captain for 1932.

The Wildcats finshed their season last night, and although they didn't exert themselves much, gave the home fans a 41 to 16 victory over Iowa for their eleventh triumph of the campaign. The Hawkeyes were unable to cope with the hot shooting of the whole Northwestern lineup, and the Wildcats took advantage of their superiority to clown a little.

Illinois completed its freak campaign with a 36 to 30 victory over Chicago, in which Caslon Bennett, with eight field goals, led the Illini pack. Illinoi stumbled around for five games, losing them all, then suddenly came to life and won their last seven games in easy style. The Illinois also had the distinction of giving Northwestern its only beating of the season.

Purdue went into a tie with Minnesota for second place by a 24 to 17 win over Wisconsin, to wind up the Badgers' most disastrous season since 'way back when. Usually right up among the contenders and with a record of numerous championships, Wisconsin won only four games out of 12 Purdue and Minnesota each have one more game to play.

Ohio State created an upset by walloping Indiana, 31 to 15, at Columbus. The Buckeyes displayed their best offensive of the season.

MILLER CORDS, SWEDES SHOW IN PRO BATTLE

Invading Cagers Rated as Country's Best Traveling Basketball Team

PRO baseball fans tonight will see one of the greatest traveling teams in the country when Olson's Terrible Swedes invade armory G for a game with the Miller Cords, Appleton professional cagers.

Rated one of the strongest clubs in the country, a team that travels throughout the year, the Swedes are playing in Appleton for the first time. They have visited Wisconsin on several other occasions, however, playing teams like the Beloit Fairies, Port Washington pros and Neenah Boosters.

The Swedes will show one of the tallest teams, man for man, that ever has stepped into the armory. The men all are veteran cagers who won their reputation in big time cage circles. One of the men, Ray Dickerson, a guard, is a former member of the Cleveland pro league team which should rate him as one of the country's best.

Fans may expect to see something out of the ordinary tonight, back hand passing of the ball, another trick method of tossing the leather about the court. The Swedes claim they are the only team to pull this little stunt with success enough to write about it.

During the current season the Swedes were reported to have played about 40 games, winning 23 of them and losing 17.

Opposed to the Terrible Swedes will be the usual Miller Cord combination. Zeke Remmel will match his left handed tosses with the back hand efforts of the Swedes while Jerry Slavik will attempt to get a flock of baskets and do some guarding in between times.

Frank Schneller and Ole Jorgenson will draw the center posts, according to reports. Schneller, with his height and size, should be a good match for the big fellows on the Swedes' team. Jorgenson will play forward when not at center and can hold his own with any of the boys traveling in pro circles.

For guards, the Cords will show "Baldy" Eggert and Milt Scheurle. Both men have proved themselves as guards and are good enough shots to score a few points from the field.

Training Camp Notes

BRADENTON, FLA. —(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals will hold no practice games among themselves.

"I believe that's a waste of time and effort," Manager Gabby Street said today, "and that more can be accomplished by staging morning and afternoon practices."

Pitcher Dizzy Dean was to undergo an operation today for the removal of his tonsils. Manager Street had two teeth extracted yesterday.

Avalon, Cal., —(AP)—One more day of Rogers Hornsby's course in baseball strategy and the Chicago Cubs will engage in four games by the first of next week.

Hornsby held a class in strategy for pitchers and catchers and planned to repeat it today. Tomorrow and Thursday the regulars and irregulars will meet, and Saturday and Sunday Joe Brown's team of movie actors will oppose the Cubs.

San Antonio, —(AP)— All the Chicago White Sox except Moe Berg, Smead Jolley and Carl Reynolds were present for today, but unless there was much less wind than yesterday, another session of throwing was on the program.

Berg and Reynolds are listed as holdouts over salary figures, while Jolley has a boil on his left leg.

Biloxi, Miss., —(AP)—Walter Johnson is counting on Lloyd Brown, agile little left hander from Corpus Christi, Texas, to get the Nationals off to a flying start this season as he did last year.

Brown, who believes in the early bird adage, has been here about a month, golfing, fishing and hiking to get in shape.

"Brownie was a life saver for us at the start of last season," Johnson observed. "If my pitchers were all like Brownie we would get so far out in front in the first two months we never would be caught."

Pensacola, Fla., —(AP) — Wilcy Moore, the former Yankee game-saver, comes pretty close to being the hardest working man in the Red Sox camp.

Cy thought he was done for when his arm went back on him while with the Yanks, but a year with the St. Paul club of the American association has given him a new start. He weighs 205 pounds, stands six feet tall, and is 33 years old and has to work mighty hard during the training season to get in trim.

Paso Robles, —(AP)— The Pittsburgh Pirates expect two of their star outfielders, Paul Waner and Adam Comorosky, to report in camp next week. Waner has been a patient in a St. Louis hospital and Comorosky is under medical attention in Pittsburgh.

West Palm Beach, Fla., —(AP)— Manager Bill Killefer of the St. Louis Browns was hopeful today for a break from the weather man. Except for last Friday, when the sun broke through in good style, it has rained every day since the Browns reached camp.

Eddie Grimes, slated to understudy "Red Kress at third bage this season, had developed a sore arm, but trainer Tommy Brammell believes it will be O. K. soon.

Weather permitting, a practice game between the "Regulators" and "Rookies" will be played today.

San Antonio, Tex. —(AP) — Freddy Lindstrom has turned up in the New York Giants' training camp with a waistline of close to aldermanic proportions. Somebody wanted to know where Freddy had found so much excess weight.

"In Chicago," he said. "It's a great climate. They told me I was going to be an outfielder this year so I wanted to look like Babe Ruth and Hack Wilson."

Swan Wins Praises Of Eastern Sport Writers

MADISON—In Fred H. Swan, whose appointment as line coach of the University of Wisconsin football team was confirmed Saturday by the executive committee of the board of regents, the Badgers have made an important coaching acquisition, if eastern opinion of Swan's work at Colgate is to be credited.

Newspaper comment by eastern football writers all suggests that Swan, in their judgment, is one of the outstanding line tutors of the east. The following was written by George Ahearn, in The Syracuse Post-Standard:

"Swan has turned in two exceptional coaching performances at Colgate. His lines have never met a superior although they have faced some of the strongest forwards in football. One wouldn't give a nickel for Colgate's line play on opening day last fall. But less than a month later it was one of the toughest problems on the gridiron.

"Swan lost Cox, Huntington, Haines, Stramiello and Gilson of the 1929 eleven, all of them outstanding ability. With the regulars went most of the seasoned reserves.

"There were holes at both tackles, center, guard and end when he set out to build the 1930 line. It looked like a hopeless task. But Swan probed through his squad and came out with a couple of unknown scrubs.

"One of these, Paul Marsland, he placed at center ahead of all who had previously been doped as candidates to succeed the great Johnny Cox. The other, Burt Ellis, he paired up with Art Schiebel to replace Huntington and Haines, the east's best tackle pair of 1929. Gilson's shoes were filled in turn by Ralph Lockwood and Joe Franklin, who were set down by opposing scouts as to big and slow to run interference, an important matter in the success of the Warner attack.

"This mixture of subs and scrubs was welded into a line that performed as capably as the veteran array of the year before, and Swan packed it up with reserves developed from the raw.

"I don't know a coach who has produced such big results in so short a time and when Swan goes to Wisconsin, Colgate will lose one of the ablest teachers of football it ever had the good fortune to secure".

INSECTS TASTE SWEET BY SENSITIVE LEGS

Minneapolis —(AP)— Here is another of the "advantages" which insects have over men:

The honeybee can taste sweets with the tips of his antenna. Moreover he can taste them with his forward pair of legs, says Dwight Elmer Minnich of the University of Minnesota, in a report to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

But the real wonder in tasting sweets with his legs is the monarch butterfly. Alameda Anderson, also of Minnesota, finds that his legs are sometimes 1,600 times more sensitive than the human tongue in recognizing sugar.

FRUIT CANNING FIRM ABSORBED BY UNION

New Joint Concern to Own and Operate Its Own Plants in Door-co

Sturgeon Bay — (AP)—The Fruit Growers Canning company was being absorbed Monday by the Fruit Growers union, a cooperative cherry growers' marketing organization. The company stockholders voted unanimously Saturday to join the co-op. Both were separately owned, but jointly managed.

The unified body will own and operate its own canning plant in Door-co, as it has in Michigan since the growers' cooperative and the union merged last year, with Federal Farm board sanction and financial aid.

Stock owned by persons not delivering fruit to the new cooperative will be retired on a revolving plan, at the rate of 10 per cent per year, so that all stockholders in the cooperative will be participants in its sales and profits, and no others.

H. W. Ullsperger, general manager, said the cooperative's first operations in Michigan were so successful that the required assessment on growers there, based on the number of pounds of their cherries marketed, raised not only enough for the first payment to the farm board, but much of the second one.

A. W. Lawrence, head of the former canning company, was elected president of the new organization, Assemblyman M. G. Goff, former president of the canning company was elected vice president, and Mr. Ullsperger, treasurer, and John Boler, secretary, were reelected.

New "Gull Wing" To Aid Vision Of Plane Pilots

Washington—(AP)— Military aviation is learning lessons of design from the sea gull.

Replacing the conventional straight wing in several experimental combat ships being tested by the army air corps, and a new metal monoplane being developed, is a wing with a depressed center section.

Called the gull type, because of its similarity in lines to a bird in flight, it was designed to increase a pilot's vision by eliminating in part the "blind angles" caused by expanses of wing in line of sight.

One of the ships with the depressed center section is a Berliner-Joyce pursuit biplane being tested by the air corps at Wright field, Dayton, O. A new one under development is being built on the west coast by the Douglas Aircraft company.

The Douglas will be a metal monoplane, designed as an all-purpose military ship having a high ceiling, high visibility, and a theoretical speed of 180 miles an hour.

It is believed the first ship that will have a single gull wing. Carrying a pilot and observer the plane will be suitable for observation and attack missions.

The Berliner-Joyce company which also supplied a new type of plane to the navy for experiments, has recalled the ship to modify the wings to the gull type for reasons of vision.

"There is no doubt that the upper wing of a conventional biplane, no matter in what position forms a very bad blind angle in combat and invariably at a time when you are closing in on your adversary," said Temple Joyce, war pilot and vice president of the company.

"To make a wing eliminating the blind angle, however, and still maintain efficiency and strength, without too great increase of weight, has been a difficult engineering problem.

"A relatively light structure has been found possibly by the use of high tension, heat treated steels. There still remain a decrease in lift and increase in drag, but good engineering—through wind tunnel research—will almost balance them.

"The gull wing, if properly engineered, will be slightly less efficient than a conventional wing arrangement, factors that may be of such small quantity, though, as to be counterbalanced by the increase of vision."

...NY ATTEND FATHER, SON DINNER PARTY

Former Canadian Officer Tells Group About Horrors of Warfare

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Waupaca—About 150 fathers and sons attended a 6:30 dinner Thursday evening at the Methodist Episcopal church. A seven piece orchestra furnished music. Tables were prettily decorated with red and blue candles and many little flags. The dinner was served by the Ladies' Aid society of the church.

After the dinner, the following program was given: Stunt songs, led by Dr. H. I. Lewis and the Rev. E. T. Soper; remarks by Professor G. E. Watson, who acted as toastmaster; welcome from the "Dads" by Roy Holly and response from the "Sons" by Howard Nusz.

The speaker of the evening was A. E. Atwood, former lieutenant of the 13th Battalion Canadian Scottish Light Infantry. His address was on "A Canadian Officers Experiences on the Western Front." In a vividly descriptive manner, he stripped war of all its glamor and showed it up for what it actually was, a hideous and repulsive thing.

He described it in one trenchant sentence when he said: "War is simply murder dressed up in uniform." Mr. Attwood said that he felt that if he could make the boys realize war in all its barrenness and hideousness he might be making a little contribution to the great cause of world peace and brotherhood. The speaker was roundly and vigorously applauded at the close of his address.

Manawa defeated Marion in a basketball game played at Iola Friday night by a score of 17 to 15. The game to decide the championship of the Central Wisconsin conference. Manawa was the winner of the southern division and Marion of the northern division.

YOUNG CHILTON PRIEST READS HIS FIRST MASS

Elaborate Program Conducted at St. Mary Church and Parish School

Special to Post-Crescent

Chilton — The Rev. William J. Roell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Roell of this city read his first mass at St. Mary's church at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Father Roell was ordained to the priesthood at St. Francis Cathedral by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Paul Rhode on Feb. 23.

The sanctuary of St. Mary church was beautifully decorated with ferns, palms and cut flowers. The celebrants entered the church and marched down the center aisle in the following order: Leonard Woelfel, a student to the priesthood, who carried the Crucifix, accompanied by two fellow students, Herbert Hertel and Mr. Fredericks; then came 44 acolytes, followed by seven clergy friends, Edward Wagner of Oshkosh, James Wagner of St. Norbert's college, De Pere, Claude Hugo, Two Rivers, Theodore Kersten, Manitowoc; J. P. Gluckstein, New Holstein; Francis Heimann of Jericho and Alfred Pritzl of St. Isadore, who acted as escorts.

His cortége was as follows: Marcella and Gertrude Schneider, cousins of the Rev. Roell, Helen Roell, niece of the Rev. Roell. Next came Deacon Longinfeld of Milwaukee, Sub-deacon LaBuwi of Hartford, the Rev. W. J. Roell, the celebrant, the Rev. H. E. Hunck, Presbyter and the Rev. Alfred Schneider, master of ceremonies.

The Rev. Roell read the mass, and the Rev. Alfred Pritzl read the gospel, then called on the Rev. Roell to bestow upon the assemblage his first blessing as newly ordained priest. The Rev. Pritzl delivered a short sermon on the transfiguration, following with a talk on the life and duties of a priest. The Mass was followed by benediction of the blessed sacrament administered by the Rev. Roell. The choir, under the direction of John Ecker presented a program. Mrs. Frank Klinker played the organ.

After service 300 relatives and friends of the young priest, were entertained at a banquet in St. Mary hall, served by the Christian Mothers of St. Mary church. The program was carried out under the direction of Mr. Klinkner.

The Rev. John McGinley of St. Augustine church was a guest at the banquet. Sister M. Petrella of Marshfield, a sister of the Rev. Roell and Sister M. Proia of Milwaukee, her aunt, both nuns of the Notre Dame order, were present at the mass. In the evening supper was served to relatives.

William J. Roell was born in Chilton Feb. 14, 1905. He attended St. Mary Parochial school from which he was graduated in June, 1919. He completed the classical course of St. Lawrence college at Mt. Calvary, and then went to St. Francis seminary, where he took courses in philosophy and theology. In January, 1928, he was given the degree of bachelor of arts and in January, 1931, he received the degree of Master of Arts. He received minor orders at the seminary and was made sub-deacon by Archbishop Messmer in June, 1930. In December, 1930, he received the deaconate from the present Archbishop of Milwaukee.

An exhibit of pictures of Wisconsin artists was held in the Masonic Temple on Monday afternoon under the auspices of the Chilton Woman's club. It was an open meeting and the public was invited to attend and view the pictures.

STUDENTS TO GIVE LITERARY PROGRAM

Will Present Plays Which Won Places in the Recent Class Contest

Special to Post-Crescent

Hortonville—A literary program will be given at the high school at 2:30 Friday afternoon. Three one-act plays, winners of the Sophomore-Junior play writing contest will be presented. The casts were chosen and the plays directed by the students who wrote them.

The program follows: Piano solo, Wilma Roesler; one act play, written by Lester Lerke; songs by glee club; locals, Lester Lerke; dance, Francis Beschta and Della Komp; one act play, written by Gilbert Abraham; piano duet, Dolores and Mary Olk; dialogue, Gerald and Orville Gitter; music, Oliver Leitzke; debate, Oscar Bohren, Walter Kuehn Hope Hoffman, and Lois Griswald; dance, Bernice Behrend and Fern Tellock; locals, Florence Buchman; one act play, written by Dolores Olk and songs by the boys.

Work was received here of what appeared to be an attempted kidnaping of five year old June, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Diestler, who moved from here to West Allis a year or so ago. Last Monday as the child was playing in the yard a strange man coaxed the child to take a street-car ride. It was some time before the mother noticed the child's disappearance and search was begun at once.

A few hours later a nurse at the Soldiers' home found the child crying and wandering about the grounds. The man had placed the child in a shed where lawn mowers were kept and told her to wait until he returned. The nurse returned the child to her home unharmed and search was begun for the man. Three suspects were apprehended, but the child failed to identify her abductor.

Word has been received here that Francis Carroll son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Carroll, has received his degree of bachelor of science from the state university at Madison. He will continue his studies, working for his masters degree.

SHIOCTON CONCERNS IN NEW QUARTERS

Recent Fire Forces Business and Professional Men to Move

Shiocton — Fire which recently swept through the large building owned by Mrs. Ida Becker and partially destroying it cause a nubmer of the business men occupying rooms within to seek other quarters.

Dr. A. E. Wilkes is now occupying rooms above Morral Hiller's pool room. Dr. G. M. La Croix moved into the second story of his residence.

William Krueger, who operated a butcher shop has moved temporarily into the show room of Paul Sielaffs garage. All of the above suffered heavy losses through the fire.

Howard Palmer who operates a general store and whose rooms were not damaged by fire has returned his stock which was removed from the building the night of the fire, back to the building.

The stock in the warehouse which could not be removed was ruined by smoke.

Harry Strong and Desmond Streede who operate a restaurant and barber shop and whose equipment was removed from the building have returned to their place place of business. The fire not having reached that part of the building.

F. O. Towne, druggist, whose stock could not be removed on account of the dense smoke and water and who suffered a heavy loss in occupying the front part of the rooms used by him, the rear being destroyed by fire.

Mrs. Becker, owner of the building and whose apartment was in the rear of the second story, which was almost entirely destroyed by fire also suffered the loss of all her household furnishings by fire and water.

Mrs. Becker is undecided at present as to what improvements she will make on the building.

HONOR COUPLE ON 25TH ANNIVERSARY OF THEIR WEDDING

Clintonville Pair Feted at Party Saturday at Hotel Marson

Special to Post-Crescent

Clintonville — The twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Roger T. Marson was celebrated Saturday evening, Feb. 28, at the Hotel Marson. A dinner was served to 45 guests. Bridge furnished entertainment during the evening and 11 tables played. Honors were awarded to Mrs. D. J. Rohrer, Mrs. J. D. Cotton, Mrs. Harold Olk, Harvey Theilke, Dr. J. W. Devine and Julius Spearbraker. Those from out of town who attended were, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hanson of Antigo, Mr. and Mrs. B. Richter, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Olk of Stevens Point.

Boy Scouts from the three Clintonville troops turned out almost 100 per cent to attend the third annual Court of Honor of the Valley Council held in Lawrence Memorial chapel, Appleton Sunday afternoon. Troop No. 2 of which John Buehrens in scoutmaster, had every member present. Troop No. 1 with Charles Wood, scoutmaster and Troop No. 3 with Martin Peterson, Scoutmaster, also received the honor ribbons for having over 90 per cent of their members present. Deputy Commissioner Percy Hughes of this city, assistant scoutmasters, troop committeemen and a large number of the parents also accompanied the scouts to Appleton. LeRoy Hughes, Rodney Dodge and Stanley Fox of this city were among those who received the high honors of becoming an Eagle Scout. There are at present over 60 boys enrolled in the three Clintonville troops. Those who were advanced at the court of honor were: Robert Donley, Henry Sengstock, Woodrow Williams, Franklin Haven, Lowell Walch, Lyman Tanty, Joseph Schwalbach to star rank; Harry Miller, Robert Woodland, Maurice Bentz, David Joswiak to first class; Ivan Nordstrand, Donald Rindt, Robert Leyrer, Elmo Halla, Homer Churchill and Howard Abrahamson to second class. Over 500 scouts took part in the ceremonies which included the 26 troops of the Valley Council.

Due to a misunderstanding in the arrangements, only half of the cage battle between the Clintonville Athletics and the Milwaukee Badgers was played at the local Armory Saturday evening. Coach Mantin's Athletics led throughout the period and the half ended 17 to 15 in their favor.

A preliminary was played between the juniors and freshmen of the high school, resulting 14 to 13 in favor of the Juniors.

The Athletics will participate in a basketball tournament to be held at Tigerton, March 5, 6 and 7. This is being sponsored by the Central State Basketball association. Other teams playing will be Shawano, Wittenberg, Tigerton and others.

The Clintonville F. W. D's are taking part in the Wittenberg tournament being held there Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, March 2, 3 and 4. Other teams entered are from Rothschild, Birnamwood, Schofield, Marion, Rosholt and Wittenberg.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schlinger entertained at bridge at their home Sunday evening. Three tables played and a lunch followed. Honors were won by Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Joswiak, Mrs. Nick Geiger and Herman Kuehne.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ewer entertained friends at their home on route 4, Saturday evening. Bridge was played at two tables and luncheon was served. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. T. A. Patterson, Edward J. Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Korb.

Friends and relatives of Mrs. Herman Kroll gathered at her home Saturday evening to help her celebrate her birthday anniversary. The time was spent socially and a lunch followed.

This Great Healing Oil Best For Pimples and Skin Troubles

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well.

You've probably been, like a lot of other people, convinced that the only thing to use was an ointment or salve (some of them are very good) but in the big majority of cases these sticky salves simply clog the pores and the condition primarily remains the same.

Go to Schlintz Bros. Co., 3 Stores, Voigt's Drug Store or any other good druggist today and get an original bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil — an 85 cent bottle lasts 2 weeks.

The very first application will give you relief and a few short treatments will thoroughly convince you that by sticking faithfully to it for a short while your skin troubles will be a thing of the past.

Remember that Moone's Emerald Oil is a clean, powerful, penetrating Antiseptic Oil that does not stain or leave a greasy residue and that it must give complete satisfaction or your money cheerfully refunded.

CITY TO ELECT FIVE ALDERMEN, 5 SUPERVISORS

Two School Commissioners Also to Be Selected Next Spring

Kaukauna—Five aldermen, five supervisors, two justices of the peace and two school commissioners will be elected here at the spring election on Tuesday, April 7. Little interest has been manifested in the coming election and indications are that it will not be as interesting as last year when a mayor was elected.

One alderman and one supervisor from each ward in the city will be elected, while two justices of peace and commissioners will be elected in the city at large. A new mayor, city clerk, assessor and treasurer will not be elected until spring of next year. L. J. Brenzel and H. T. Runte's terms as school commissioners expire.

Aldermen whose terms expire this spring are Bernard Faust, First ward; Otto Luedtke, Second ward; E. R. Landreman, Third ward; George L. Smith, fourth ward; and Frank Gertz, Fifth ward. Supervisors will also end their terms. They are John Niesen, First ward; Sylvester Esler, Second ward; William H. Powers, Third ward; Arthur Mayer, Fourth ward; and Fred Reichel, Fifth ward.

Louis Wolf, city clerk, will soon begin compiling the voting lists. Registration cards have been sent out to a large number of voters who must re-register because of failure to vote in the last two years. A small number of these already have been returned to the city clerk.

The terms of Nick Schwin and E. E. Zekind will expire as justice of peace. Mr. Zekind has moved from the city, so a new candidate will be named. Mr. Schwin probably will run for reelection.

ECONOMIC OUTLOOK SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Geneva —(AP)— Since the beginning of the year the economic situation in the United States has tended to improve but few are willing to say whether the improvement is temporary or permanent, Edward E. Hunt, secretary of President Hoover's committee on recent economic changes, said Monday.

Addressing a meeting of representatives of official and semi-official government agencies dealing with economic matters, which under the auspices of the economic organization of the league of nations met here to consider the fundamental causes of the present depression, he said that while there were no accurate unemployment statistics in the United States, there were apparently between 4,500,000 and 5,000,000 jobless.

It was expected that the meeting of agencies representatives, which was called by the last assembly of the league of nations, would last three or four days.

BIG CIGAR FOR HOOVER

Washington —(AP)— If President Hoover wishes to settle back after March 4 and take a good long smoke he has the cigar.

Robert Buck, 17, New Jersey aviator, presented it to him Monday in the presence of Assistant Secretary Young of the commerce department, Senators Morrow and Kean of New Jersey, and Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Buck—his parents.

Twelve inches long, the cigar was brought from Cuba by Young Buck by airplane.

27 SCHOOLS STILL LEFT IN STATE DEBATE MEET

Madison —(AP)— Nine of 27 Wisconsin high school debating teams will emerge from contests this week to be represented in sectional debates.

The chain store question is the subject for the debates. The champion team from each section will meet here March 26 to determine the state champion. Lieut. Gov. Henry Huber, Assemblyman Charles B. Perry, speaker of the assembly, and Justice Chester A. Fowler of the supreme court will judge the state finals.

About 400 high schools are participating in forensics this year, according to Miss Almere Scott of the department of debating and public discussion, University of Wisconsin extension division.

The following schools are represented in the semi-final sectional debates:

Northern: Chippewa Falls, Owen, Stanley, Hammond, Hayward, New Richmond, Baldwin, Spooner Washburn.

Central: Baraboo, Marshfield, Neenah, Rhinelander, Stevens Point, Oconto Falls, Menasha, Wausau, Wautoma.

Southern: Ablemans, Beaver Dam, Richland Center, Deerfield, Kenosha, West Bend, Hartford, Rudolph, Milwaukee (Washington).

STOCKS OF FEED GRAINS INCREASE

Large Oat Crop in 1930 Boost That Grain by 20 Million Bushels

Madison—Stocks of feed grain on Wisconsin farms are larger now than they were a year ago. Because of a rather large oat crop in 1930 the stocks of oats are estimated to be nearly twenty million bushels higher than they were at the beginning of 1930. Supplies of barley are also estimated to be rather large. Corn and hay stocks are only about average, according to the crop reporting office of the Wisconsin and United States departments of agriculture at Madison.

Feeding began earlier than usual last fall because the dry weather greatly reduced pastures. On the other hand the present winter has been unusually mild and it has been easier to winter livestock. Feeding requirements during a mild winter are somewhat less than in other years. Demand for commercial feeds has been less than usual and according to the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics prices on commercial feed stuffs during this winter have been at the lowest level since before the war. This is attributed principally to slow demand arising out of lower farm prices and reduced farm income as well as the milder weather.

The outlook for feedstuffs for the remainder of this season will continue to be influenced by the reduced demand, according to the Annual Outlook Report of the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Prices of by-product feeds are expected then to continue the present low levels during the remainder of this winter season because of the material reduction in income of those who normally buy feeds. Unusually severe winter weather during the late winter and spring, low carrying capacity of spring pastures, or poor condition of early feed grain crops might strengthen the market and bring about some advance.

WOOL POOL TO HOLD SERIES OF MEETINGS

Madison—(AP)—A series of meetings on the Wisconsin wool pool will be held in Walworth, Rock and Iowa-cos this week, Commissioner William F. Renk, of the department of agriculture and markets, and R. E. Richards, secretary of the Wisconsin Cooperative Wool Growers' Association, said in a joint announcement today.

C. M. Allen, of the national wool pool, will address the meetings, which will be held at Elkhorn and Burlington Tuesday, Darien and Richmond Wednesday, and all-county meetings at Dodgeville and Janesville Thursday and Friday, respectively, they said.

Commissioner Renk said plans are under way to hold a further series of meetings on the wool pool in Waukesha, Green Lake, Winnebago, and Fond du Lac counties, dates for which will be announced later.

STATE RANKS FIRST IN BEET CANNING

Total of 1,096,880 Cases Canned from 5,330 Acres of Plantings

Madison—Wisconsin ranked first among the states in the canning of beets in 1930 with a pack of 1,096,880 cases from a total reported area of 5330 acres, according to the crop reporting service of the Wisconsin and United States departments of agriculture at Madison. The production of canning beets last year was an increase of 15 per cent over that of 1929. Wisconsin has held first place in beet canning every year since production figures are available.

In 1926 the Badger state put up 45 per cent of the nation's canning beets with 552,373 cases as shown by figures of the National Canners' Association. A decrease of 15 per cent occurred in the pack of 1927, as compared to that of 1926. Since that time, however, production of canning beets has been increasing steadily each year. In 1930 the increase in Wisconsin's canning beet production was relatively greater than that of the United States and the state packed close to 38 per cent of the country's entire production as compared with 36 per cent in 1929.

The state of New York, which ranks second, is the nearest competitor in the canning of beets with a production of 677,626 cases in 1930, or about two-fifths less than the Wisconsin pack. Other important producers of canning beets are New Jersey, Oregon, Colorado and Maryland, each of which produced more than 100,000 cases in 1930. About 14 states have been canning practically all of the nation's beets. The production of canning beets in the United States in 1930 was 2,923,063 cases, as compared with 1,233,622 cases in 1926.

MYSTERIOUS WAYE

STRANGE ILLNESS

MELLOW afternoon sunlight flooded the beautiful yet austere consultation room. As the clock struck two, Dr. Charles, followed by his secretary, a young woman, entered. Seating himself in his own corner, the Doctor swiftly signed the letters placed before him and then, with the words:

"Miss Lauderdell in five minutes," dismissed the secretary.

Dr. Charles, drawing from his packet a bunch of keys attached to a gold chain, unlocked a drawer, produced a book, unlocked the book and leaning back in his chair, studied the last entry that he had made in it.

Dr. Charters, proprietor and chief physician of his famous Nursing-Home, was quite unlike the popular conception of an eminent physician.

A tall, well-built and well-dressed man, he wore mustache, whiskers and beard, in addition to luxuraint locks.

Nor were the Doctor's hands of the type usually associated with physicians, for they were hairy and heavy, the fingers short and blunt.

The Doctor touched a button beside his desk; the door, or to be exact, two doors opened and a beautiful girl, accompanied by the secretary, entered the room.

"Miss Lauderdell," said the secretary and departed, closing the heavy doors silently behind her. As she did so it could be seen that a quietly dressed man sat on a heavy oak seat, once a monkish stall, beside the outer door which opened into a stone-flagged hall.

"Good afternoon, Dr. Charters," said the girl, seating herself.

"How are you felling today?"

"A little better, I think."

"Evidently the medicine is agreeing with you."

"Yes and the other was not. I felt worse every time I took it."

"How are you sleeping?"

"Much better again, since we changed the medicine and since—" she hesitated—"since I refused to have anything more to do with Dr. MacAdoo and his treatment. He wasn't doing me any good, doctor."

"Well, you're in my hands now; and we're going to be all right now eh? And you'll do whatever I tell you and take whatever I give you with implicit obedience and faith, eh?"

"Yes, Doctor," replied the girl after an almost imperceptible pause. "I can't understand it. I was never ill in my life. Until I had to go and live with my uncle and aunt. It began then suddenly."

"Do you suggest that your uncle's house is unhealthily situated? Anybody else ill there?"

"No, Doctor. Only I."

"It couldn't have been the house or the place then. And of course you're no better here—yet."

"No. A great deal worse, if anything. I want either to go away, or to have Dr. Studley. I'm not getting better and I hate that man at the door."

"Your going or remaining is for your uncle to decide. Your changing from Dr. McAdoo to Dr. Studley is for me to decide. And you'll best do that by helping instead of hindering us.

"However," continued the Doctor, "I'll tell your uncle what you say. He's probably here now. That was why I sent for you."

"I should like to see him."

"I'll bring them to your room at 2:30."

"Is my aunt coming?"

"Do you want to see her if she's here?"

"No."

"Very well. I'll see you again on Thursday at three o'clock."

Dr. Charters touched a bell-button and a tall, powerful woman, dressed as a nurse, entered the room.

"Miss Lauderdell will go to her room now, Nurse Jones. Her guardian will see her in a few minutes and then I think perhaps she'd better go to bed."

"Yes, Doctor. Come along, dear," and, smiling effusively, the nurse wafted the girl away.

The Doctor touched another bell-push and the secretary appeared.

"When does Sister Weldon return? Tomorrow, isn't it?" he asked.

"Yes, Sir. In the morning."

"Mr. and Mrs. Lauderdell here?"

"Yes, Sir."

"I'll see them in three minutes."

Summoned by Charters, Mr. James entered, leaving his seat in the hall. This was he of whom Marjorie Lauderdell had bluntly expressed her hatred. As he carefuly closed both doors, it was evident that he was something more than persona grata to Dr. Charters, whose face beamed in a genuine smile. Not so that of Mr. James.

"Stand by for boozy old Lauderdell, Jimmy," said the Doctor. "Take him for a walk in the grounds ten minutes from the time he comes on from here."

With an imperceptible nod, Mr. James retired, reappearing a minute later to announce Mr. and Mrs. Lauderdell.

Mr. Lauderdell, a weak, feeble-minded country gentleman, stupid, beery and handsome, greeted Dr. Charters.

"Well, Doctor, and how's my little Marjorie going on?"

"Rome wasn't built in a day—and Marjorie won't be rebuilt in a day—or a week. Or a month, I'm afraid.

"What the devil is the matter with her?" Lauderdell asked suddenly.

"There may be deep-seated and obscure nervous lesion, difficult to explain. I'll have a quiet talk with your wife in a minute," hedged the Doctor, and incontinently Mr. Lauderdell sprang to his feet.

At the door Mr. Lauderdell was received by Mr. James, and shepherded to the beautiful grounds which surrounded The Monastery on all sides.

For an appreciable number of seconds, the gaze of Dr. Charters met that of Mrs. Lauderdell, as the blade of one fencer holds that of another, in silence and stillness, as each watches and waits.

The silence was broken by the woman.

"Is she getting better, Doctor?"

"I wouldn't say that."

"But she's going to, Doctor?"

"A difficult question. It depends on so much.

"On very much, Doctor?"

Dr. Charters slowly nodded his head.

Without speaking, she opened her hand-bag, and from it took a memorandum-case. She scribbled on one of its leaves, and handed it to the Doctor.

"A thousand thanks," he said.

"Ten thousand," smiled Mrs. Lauderdell. "She's a dear girl."

"Yes, she's a dear girl," agreed Dr. Charters, rising. "When is her birthday, by-the-way? We must have a little celebration."

"Oh, how nice of you! The first of September. An easy date to remember. Twenty-one, on the first of September.

"September the first," nodded the Doctor, and added, "Partridge-shooting begins."

"Yes," smiled Mrs. Lauderdell, as her husband, accompanied by Mr. James, approached.

Up a flight of stairs the Doctor led his visitors, while Mr. James again seated himself in the chair by the consulting-room door.

Marjorie admitted them to her room.

"Hello, Uncle," she said, going to Mr. Lauderdell and returning his kiss. I'm so glad you've come."

"Good afternoon, Aunt Maud," she added, without offering her hand.

"How are you, darling child?" replied Mrs. Lauderdell, kissing her.

"Uncle," she replied, "I want to come away from here."

"Oh, how splendid," cried Mrs. Lauderdell with obvious relief. "Then you must be better, Marjorie. But we musn't be hasty."

"No, no, Marjikins," agreed Mr. Lauderdell, pinching her cheek.

But Marjorie remained rebellious, and the slightest cloud cooled their usual friendly regard as, almost tearfully, she kissed her uncle good-bye and less affectionately bade his wife farewell.

Entering his consulting room and closing both doors, Dr. Charters proceeded to make upon the case-card of Miss Marjorie Lauderdell entries showing a swift downhill progress accompanied by marked mental deterioration. Suddenly raising his eyes, he realized that a tall, broad-shouldered, gray-haired man stood between himself and the open window. On his face was a look of menace and hatred.

In utter amazement the Doctor stared as the intruder exclaimed:

"Half-hung Simon!"

Threatening death, aggravated by a broken limb! This memory—and more—surges against Dr. Carters tomorrow as his visitor continues.

RETIRED CHIEF OF ENGINEERS DIES SUDDENLY

tion that these projects merited. Since the army engineers had been used as the field force of the secretaries, he turned to a former chief of that branch of the military service for the chairmanship of the new commission.

Had Excellent Record

In picking Gen. Jadwin he selected an officer of proved skill and energy. His record included work on the Panama canal and on many river and harbor projects, reaching its height when the "Jadwin plan" was applied to the Mississippi.

This was one of the largest single projects ever undertaken by the American government. It called for expenditure of $325,000,000 and was brought before congress after a series of disastrous inundations had focussed national attention on the flood problem along the country's greatest waterway. It provoked months of bitter controversy, struggling for approval with a counter-plan urged by the Mississppi river commission and involving a cost of $775,000,000.

Administration support was given to the Jadwin scheme and it went through congress. It passed the senate, in fact, without a dissenting vote, although minus a proposal by President Coolidge that the states and communities directly benefited should bear a fifth of the cost.

When the plan was formulated, General Jadwin was chief of army engineers with the rank of major general, a post he had filled since June 27, 1926. His plan approved and the groundwork laid for actual construction, he retired August 7, 1929, with the rank of lieutenant general and took up residence at Sewickley, Pa., a suburb of Pittsburgh.

Mississippi river flood control was not the only major project with which General Jadwin was concerned. Canalization of the Ohio river, acclaimed as a project likely to revivify river transportation in the great manufacturing and agricultural territory tributary to that stream, was finished under his administration. He also had credited to his record the building of the massive sea wall at Galveston, Tex.; construction of the breakwater at Colon protecting the Atlantic entrance to the Panama canal, and excavation of the sea-level stretch of the canal from the Atlantic to Gatun. He was responsible too for providing the thousands of tons of rock and sand used in construction of the locks and spillway at Gatun.

His war experience was confined to engineering work rather than with combat troops. He commanded the battalion of "Matanzas mule" fame in Cuba after the American bombardment of that town and was responsible for the sanitation work there after the close of the Spanish American war.

In the world war he organized and commanded the Fifteenth Engineers, a railway unit and the first American contingent to pass through England under arms. In France he first was director of light railways and roads for the A. E. F. and later was director of construction and forestry. At one time he commanded 160,000 men engaged in building roads, bridges, barracks, warehouses and hospitals.

General Jadwin was born at Honesdale, Pa., August 7, 1865. He put in two years at Lafayette college, Eastern, Pa., then went to West Point where he graduated at the head of his class in 1890.

He was a first lieutenant when the Spanish-American war broke out and he emerged from the conflict as lieutenant-colonel of volunteers. By 1913 he had attained that rank in the regular army, was a temporary brigader general in the world war and achieved his major-generalship when made chief of the engineer corps.

He was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal by the United States, made a Companion of the Bath by Great Britain and a commander of the Legion of Honor by France.

General Jadwin was married Oct. 6, 1896, to Miss Jean Laubach whom he met while he was a student at Lafayette college.

TWO BADGER CITIES HAVE GOOD BUSINESS

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Two Milwaukee suburbs—Wauwatosa and South Milwaukee—had retail business of approximately $7,600,000 and $4,000,000, respectively, in 1930, the bureau of the census, U. S. Department of Commerce, announced today.

The department also announced that the retail business in Waukesha in 1930 was approximately $11,000,000. Waukesha, with a population of 17,176 had 268 retail stores with a total annual business of $10,912,369, a yearly payroll of $1,005,011 and fulltime employment of 661 men and women. Merchandise in stock for sale at the end of 1929 had a cost value of $1,429,886.

The 148 retail stores in Wauwatosa had a total annual business of $7,659,743, a yearly payroll of $768,341, and fulltime employment of 442 men and women. Cost value of merchandise in stock at the end of 1929 was $497,876.

In South Milwaukee the 180 retail stores did a total annual business of $3,953,658 and had a yearly pay roll of $282,238. Full-time employment was given to 219 men and women. Merchandise in stock for sale at the end of 1929 showed a cost value of $453,827.

There were two national chain stores in South Milwaukee. In Wauwatosa national chains had three stores while in Waukesha there were six national chain stores.

Plan Fight To Protect Mussels From Pollution

(Post-Crescent Washington Bureau)

Washington—The blood pressure of mussels is of interest to Wisconsin for Lake Pepin is the greatest producer of mussels in the country, and the propagation of these lowly bi-valves is of interest to the nation, according to Commissioner Henry O'Malley of the bureau of fisheries.

Anyhow a new publication of the bureau which bears the quaint and long-winded title, "The Blood of North American Fresh Water Mussels Under Normal and Adverse Conditions," has awakened a new interest in mussels in the breasts of the bureau scientists. They are going right out and see just what they can do to help the mussel and to protect it from pollution such as it finds in the upper Mississippi. This part of the great river, they say, is "no-man land" for the mussel, for it is buried and suffocated by silt and strangled by sewerage and city refuse.

This is inspired by mercenary and commercial motives, for like the ostrich and his feathers, the mussel is valued only for his shell. The $6,000,000 pearl button industry depends upon a large supply of mussel shells.

Make Blood Tests

Scientists M. M. Ellis, A. D. Nerrick and Marion Ellis of the bureau of fisheries set out to make blood tests of the mussels and they have determined the most normal and have also discovered that the blood of mussels may be used as an index of the physiological condition of fresh water mussels. This discovery will aid materially in the replacement of the supply of mussels and will make easy the work of selecting the best brood stock for propagation purposes, according to M. M. Ellis.

Wisconsin is not one of the six great pearl-button states, but it should take pride in the fact that it forms one border of Lake Pepin which is bounded on the west by Minnesota and which has yielded a greater quantity of mussel shells per mile than any other stream or portion of a stream in the country.

Muscatine and Davenport, Iowa, were once the centers of the mussel industry, but overfishing, a peril second only to pollution, sent searchers for raw materials elsewhere. The Wabash, Ohio, Illinois and Arkansas rivers have all been centers of the industry at one time.

Over-fishing is not as great a danger to the industry as pollution since many states have regulating laws on over-fishing.

In 1929, the latest year for which statistics are available, 20,205,073 gross of pearl buttons valued at $5,800,000 were produced from mussel shells. Side products such a poultry feed, lime and stucco were also produced. Commissioner O'Malley says that the bureau of fisheries will do everything it can to aid the industry's growth.

So the American flag is unfurled, the armies of scientists are ready for the fray—the mussel must be preserved!

4 RURAL SCHOOLS REPORT ATTENDANCE

Many Pupils Neither Absent Nor Tardy During February

Four rural schools have reported to A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools, the names of pupils who were neither absent nor tardy during February. Following are the reports:

Elm school, town of Hortonia, Miss Almyra Kohl, teacher, Loretta Rohloff, Edward Sullivan, Arthur Rolfs and Helen Rolfs.

Triangle school, town of Grand Chute, Miss Evelyn Solie, eacher; Doris Lodholz, Theresa, Agnes, Raymond, Mary and Julianna Stoffel, Melvin and Marie Miller, Eugene, Howard, Shirley and Robert Maas, Mayme Kofler, Ludwig Freund, Ruth, Eugene, Margaret and Leonard Abendroth.

FLASHES OF LIFE

Washington — Representative Snow of Maine has an idea as to who is the source of more joy, contentment and cheer to the people of this country than any other individual. He so characterized Philips Lord of Jamesport, Me., in presenting him to the house. Lord is known on the air as Seth Parker.

New York — Alfred Gauthier is trying out a 91,000,000-candlepower searchlight which he believes will have a range of 50 miles. He hopes to project advertising matter into the skies. His experiments have led police to call upon him because of his tips that bootleggers were signalling to ships.

London — A canny Scot M. P. knows that mermaids really are. F. A. MacQuisten has informed the house of commons that the foundation of the legend of the mermaid and also of much fairy lore was the gray seal basking in the sea. Light came during debate on a bill for protection of gray seals.

New York—The adjective "American" is misused, in the opinion of Professor Frederick J. E. Woodbridge, formerly dean of the graduate faculties at Columbia; it is thrown with a scope mounting to 100 per cent at art, culture, morals, money and murders, and is a disturber of steadiness of mind.

WOMEN OUTDISTANCE MEN CULTURALLY, PROFESSOR WARNS

New York—(AP)—Dr. Charles Gray Shaw, author of a best seller on culture and for thirty years a professor at New York university, warns American men that their women folk have outdistanced them culturally.

Men have gone in for physical culture and business, he says, while what used to be the weaker sex has developed artistically and mentally as well as physically.

"If this goes on in another generation women will supplant men in creative culture. Today our men of culture are all women."

Dr. Shaw means women will soon be writing the best books and painting superior pictures while the men play squash and tend to business.

This state of affairs is a distinctly American phenomenon, he believes, an outgrowth of women's freedom from household drudgery, large families and economic responsibilities—plus an aptitude for appreciation.

The professor observes that in American colleges women take cultural courses and men elect vocational subjects. Men began turning away from cultural education a generation ago, Dr. Shaw says.

"Our one-time poets and sculptors are now designing skyscrapers and building bridges," he laments.

An ancient Roman flour mill uncovered near Pompeii has been restored and placed in the Field Museum, Chicago.

ELECT JUDGES IN SPRING FOR SIX CIRCUITS

One Supreme Court Justice Also to Be Named in April Election

BY EWALD L. ALMEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Madison—(AP)— A supreme court justice, and judges for six circuit courts, two civil courts, 12 municipal courts, the several county courts and a district court will be elected at the judicial elections April 7.

At least two candidates will go to the mat with a seat on the supreme court bench as the prize. Justice Chester A. Fowler, Fond du Lac, will seek election to a full term of 10 years. Attorney General John Reynolds, Green Bay, will attempt to displace him.

The struggle for the supreme court post is little changed from that which existed a year ago. In the April, 1930 judicial election both Fowler and Reynolds were candidates. Raymond Cannon, Milwaukee, who was disbarred as an attorney by the supreme court for professional misconduct, also was in the race.

Justic Fowler was appointed to the supreme court by former governor Walter J. Kohler to succeed the late Chief Justice Aad Vinje. Under the statutes, Justice Fowler was forced to be a candidate last April for the remainder of his predecessors's term. This year he will run on his own for the full term.

Attorney General Reynolds polled 134,317 votes in the 1930 election as compared with 198,572 votes for Justice Fowler. Post election studies of the results indicated that the attorney general would probably have won the race if Cannon had not been a candidate. Cannon polled 96,908 votes despite his standing with the bench. Still under the court's ban, he will oppose Circuit Judge Aaron of Milwaukee for election to the bench in the eighth branch of the second district.

The five other circuit judges whose terms expire in January, 1932, and whose posts will consequently hang in the balance on April 7 are:

Ellsworth B. Belden, first judicial circuit comprising Racine and Kenosha counties; John C. Kleczka, sixth branch of the second judicial circuit, comprising Milwaukee county; August E. Braun, seventh branch of the second circuit; August C. Hoppmann, second branch of the ninth judicial circuit, comprising Dane and Sauk counties; Henry Graass, 14 judicial circuit comprising Door, Brown and Kewaunee counties. All terms are for six years.

The two civil court judges whose terms expire are A. J. Hedding and Michael F. Blenski, of the first and third branches, respectively, of Milwaukee county. Judge George E. Page is the only district judge whose term expires. He serves in the district court of Milwaukee county.

The municipal judges whose terms expire are:

Lawrence S. Coe, Barron county, second branch; Earl S. Risberg, Barron county, third branch; Emerson C. Hart, Bayfield county, first branch; George A. Shaughnessy, Milwaukee county; Theodore Berg, Outagamie county; Alex Higgins, Vilas county; William E. Pors, Washburn county; Thomas W. Parkinson, Waukesha county, (east); Newson W. Evans, Waukesha county, (west); and Silas L. Spengler, Winnebago county. Judge Shaughnessy's term expires in January, 1932 and Judge Spengler's term expires in April, 1931. The terms of the others expire in May.

Two municipal judges will be chosen to succeed men appointed to fill unexpired terms. One will be for the municipal court of Dunn county, now filled by C. F. Freeman who succeeded the late Judge Peleg B. Clark. The other is for the Sawyer county bench now occupied by Harley O. Moreland, appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the deatht of Judge John F. Riordan.

The terms of county judges expire the first Monday in January, 1932. Judges elected to these posts on April 7 will serve six year terms.

WANTED P. D. Q., PIED PIPER IN AUSTRALIA, TO RID AREA OF MICE

Melbourne, Australia—(AP)—Millions of mice suddenly have invaded the Nullabor plains along the Trans-Australian railway.

The station master at Loongana today reported that miles of the country served by the railway were infested with the rodents. While he was attending a passenger train thousands entered his office and soon began eating a roll of pound notes.

He said that every house in the district had been invaded by the pests which were attacking even the furniture and the bedding.

RECEIVE 2ND SHIPMENT OF BABY CHICKS HERE

A second shipment of baby chicks was received this morning at the Appleton post office. The first shipment of the season arrived about a week ago. From now on they are expected to continue to arrive in large numbers throughout March and April. The shipment this morning consisted of 1,000 chicks. It was to be delivered to an Appleton chicken raiser. Shipments of baby chicks started several weeks earlier this year than last.

EIGHT STUDENTS ON SCHOOL HONOR ROLL

Eight pupils of the Pleasant Dale rural school, town of Center, were placed on the honor roll during February, according to a report received by A. G. Meating, county superintendent of schools. Miss Sylvia Spaude is teacher of the school. The pupils with averages of 90 or above are: Harold Kuba, Willard Krueger, Emil Kuba, Dorothy Werner, Marion Wieckert, Mildred Willenkamp, Carleton Wieckert and Edna Wendt.

BUILD GOOD HERDS NOW FOR PROFITS IN FUTURE YEARS

County Agent Tells How to Improve Dairy Animals by Testing

The kind of herds that dairymen are building right now will determine their degree of success during the next few years, declares County Agent Gus Sell.

Today, with the prices of dairy products down, only the most economical producing cows are returning their owners a profit and it is that type of cow that must be selected as the foundation for the profitable herds in the years that lay ahead.

Right now is an excellent time to build a good dairy herd, but to do it intelligently dairymen must look ahead, bearing in mind that prices are apt to continue low, and select and breed from those individuals that can return their owners a profit in spite of low prices, he believes.

High prices during the past few years covered up the inefficiency of the poor cow, but now with prices down, that type of cow is easily detected when under test, and should be taken out of the herd in order to build up a herd that will produce profitably during the coming years. The herd that can return a profit during low prices certainly will return greater profits should prices go up.

Steps in testing for production which dairymen can take in building a more efficient herd are better feeding, followed by a culling of the low producers, and then breeding only from the higher producing individuals.

The selection of the sire that heads the herd is equally important and must be done with great care for the ancestry of these sires will determine quite largely what he will do, and as an individual he must be well grown and healthy. A sire can only be selected intelligently, however, when the records back of the sire, or those of his daughters, are known.

The average production of all of the dams of that sire should, according to Roy T. Harris, in charge of dairy records at the Wisconsin college of agriculture, average at least 300 pounds of butterfat in a year, and the production of the sire's dam should be at least as good as that of the best cow in the herd if improvement is to be expected in the herd from the use of that sire.

With a large available supply of reasonably priced, good cows from which to choose foundation animals, as well as a plentiful supply of sires whose dams have high records, the county agent suggests that now is a good time for Outagamie-co dairymen to carefully build that type of her that will make its own a profit in the period that lies ahead and in spite of relatively low dairy prices.

To find out which cows to keep and which to cull, the county agent suggests that dairymen put every cow in their herds on a monthly test for production for at least a year. Such testing will show them which are their high producing cows from which they will want to raise calves for their future herd. It also will show them the low producers which they may want to get rid of. A little planning and systematic effort along this line, coupled with the previous suggestion of feeding, according to production and using only good herd sires, can in a few years make a marked improvement in any average herd. The county agent said he would be glad to go over individual dairy problems of this kind and help work out an improvement plan.

Shovel Gang Hunts Cash In Robbery

Oakland, Calif.—(AP)—Deputy sheriffs formed a pick and shovel gang today to search the ranch of J. B. Palmer near Hayward, Calif., for $44,300 taken from the Oakland branch of the Bank of America yesterday, allegedly by a cleverly engineered robbery.

Palmer, meanwhile, was held on an intimidation charge as the result of a story told by J. W. Cardoza, manager of the Hayward branch of the bank. Cardoza asserted Palmer had forced him at the point of a gun to indorse a $44,300 check presented the Oakland bank. The rancher, however, asserted Cardoza had held the gun and had forced him to sign the check.

Cardoza said Palmer summoned him to his ranch on the pretext that he wanted advice in a real estate deal and then, with a gun concealed in his pocket, forced the banker to go to the Oakland branch and approve the check. The banker said Palmer told him he had planned to divide the money among members of his family and then commit suicide.

Officials of the Oakland bank sensed something unusual and called police. Palmer was arrested at his ranch later. A preliminary search disclosed no trace of the money.

Investigators said Palmer recently lost $44,000 in a deal with the bank.

Many of the Swiss watch balance wheel shafts used in the United States are made in a small one-man shop at Jump River, Wis.

STOCK MARKET SQUELCHED BY NEW MOVEMENT

Bears and Bulls Continue to Move Cautiously—Price Trend Is Lower

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Editor

New York—(AP)—The stock market was a pale and unimpressive affair today.

Speculative enthusiasm appeared to have been squelched by the sharp decline of the previous session, but bears as well as bulls were cautious. Price trends were in the main lower, but changes were narrow and principal shares held fairly steady. Trading slackened. The market was inclined to pay more attention to earnings statements, dividend actions and trade news than of late. Traders were rather apprehensive over tomorrow's weekly steel trade reviews.

Utilities, amusements, chemicals and several industrial specialties were under considerable pressure.

North American, United Carbon, Columbian Carbon, North American, Purity Baking, Western Union, Case, Johns Manville, Remington Rand and Montgomery Ward were among issues losing 2 to 3 points. Losses of a point or so were numerous, embrasing such issues as U. S. Steel, General Electric, American Telephone, Radio Corp, Warner Bros., Paramount, Baltimore and Ohio, American Water Works and National Power and Light.

Comment on the business situation by Gerald Swope, president of General Electric, who said that he expected conditions to get "no worse" summed up the attitude of several important interests in the financial district, which appears to have tempered speculative sentiment.

Dividend omissions by Remington Rand and United Carbon were responsible for selling of those issues, while Johns Manville's report showing 1930 net of only $3.66 a share, against $8.09 in 1929, brought some selling into that issue. Montgomery Ward's decline followed yesterday's report of Sears Roebuck's sales for the second period of its 13-month calendar, showing about the same decline from last year as was reported for the first period. This did not tend to forecast a favorable showing by its chief competitor.

Credit conditions were still a little firmer, with the month end settlements taking up the slack in the call loan market. There were no funds offered in the outside market under the loan desk rate of 1½ per cent. The consolidated condition statement of weekly reporting member banks, however, was favorable, showing a reduction of $13,000,000 in loans on securities, in the period in which, brokers loans advanced $26,000,000.

BOND MARKET FAILS TO RESUME PROGRESS

New York—(AP)—Bonds continued to move in a narrow range today and the list made little headway in either direction as investors remained lukewarm toward domestic obligations. The foreign section was spotty but inclined toward higher levels as it has been for a fortnight or more.

Latin American issues gave a display of strength with some of the leading government and municipal loans accumulated at good fractions above the previous close. Bonds of Argentin, Brazil, Colombia and Peru joined the advance. European governments that have pushed upward to the best prices of the year were fairly stable.

While investment bankers have been encouraged by signs of a revival of interest in foreign loans, present indications are that no additional capital will be sought by foreign governments here until demand broadens considerably. Aside from several Canadian issues, there have been no foreign lons floated in this country this year and little was done in the last half of 1930.

Widespread interest in the sale of the $100,000,000 New York City bond issue scheduled for Wednesday is reported by bond houses, as the offering will give the market for tax exempt bonds the severest test of the year, municipal bond houses will watch its reception closely, and it probably will influence to a considerable degree the activity in that market in coming weeks.

Although the offering syndicate already has announced the oversubscription of the $12,500,000 Southern California 4½ per cent issue, it was publicly offered today.

United States government obligations were little changed. Liberty bonds showed a tendency toward softness in dull trading while long term treasuries were steady. Legal railroad loans fluctuated narrowly, giving no indication of definite trend. Utilities were steady to firm.

WHEAT PRICES MAKE SLIGHT UPWARD GAINS

Speculation Helps Boost Rates — Corn Mart Shows Independence

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor:

Chicago—(AP)— Wheat prices advanced late today as a result of speculating operations in which July was bought and May sold. A difference of about 18 cents a bushel between the two deliveries was the motive, furnishing an attractive profit for milling interests and others in a position to replace may at the heavy discount prevailing for new crop wheat. The first cargo of corn for shipment from Chicago at the opening of lake navigation was purchased today.

Rains in Texas and snows in Kansas and Nebraska tending to encourage wheat selling and there were Liverpool advices that exporting countries led by Australia had begun pressing wheat upon European purchasers. United States farm board subsidiaries were also reported as having disposed of moderate quantities of wheat to Antwerp at the lowest prices so far, 12 to 12½ cents under Chicago may Gulf of Mexico no 1 hard.

Scarcity of corn offerings after price setbacks led to a show of independence by the corn market, ensuing advances in corn were also associated with a falling-off in the volume of primary receipts. Total arrivals were 892,000 bushels, compared with 1,407,000 a week ago. Chicago had 178 cars, against 286 last week. Oats followed wheat rather than corn.

Provisions responded to a rise in hog values.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCKS

Chicago—(AP)—More optimism was seen around the stockyards today than has appeared for several weeks. In all sections of the livestock market better prices, from the point of view of the selling side, were in order. The run of 20,000 head of lambs was so large that some fear was felt in that sector, but prices advanced so sharply late yesterday that steady quotations were considered satisfactory.

The hog market opened up with an active buying demand from all sources, and in the first hour of trade the scale of prices moved up 10c above yesterday. Good to choice 150 to 200 lb. lights sold at 7.35 to 7.40 readly, while bids of 7.50 for 190 lb. selects were rejected. The main reason for all this activity was the fact that supplies were 8,000 smaller than the advance estimate, and a similar curtailment took place at other markets. Chicago received 16,000 head of hogs, compared to 28,000 last Tuesday, and the eleven primary markets took 77,000 against 163,200 a week ago.

Better demand for beef locally, coupled with higher prices in the east, brought the first sign of substantial improvement to the cattle market today. Previous advances last week were rather the result of cutting supplies. Common steers, fat cows and calves faced a stronger buying urge today, and early quotations were slightly higher. Low prices of by-products made packers more interested in low priced cattle than in the best heavy grades on sale selling at 7.50 to 9.50 began first.

Good to choice fat lambs weighing around 85 lbs. were offered for sale today at 9.25, even with the late top set up yesterday, but with so large a run on, many buyers were in the stronger position. Earl sales at 8.50 to 8.75 for weights above 90 lbs. were steady with yesterday.

Chicago—(AP)—U. S. Dept. Agr.—Hogs 16,000 including 3,000 direct; slow; mostly 10-15c higher than yesterday's average; packing sows strong although bulk sales 15-25 7.25-7.40; top 7.50; 220-320 lbs. 6.60-7.30; pigs slow 6.25-6.75; packing sows 6.00-6.25.

LAME DUCKS IN CONGRESS NOT BIG INFLUENCE

Vote on Bonus Measure Shows Little Tendency to Independent Action

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1931 by Post Pub. Co.

Washington —(CPA)— Just how much power and influence does the lame duck wield? The latest vote on the soldiers bonus legislation shows that out of the total of 79 votes cast in the house of representatives to sustain the president's veto, 24 were lame ducks, namely members whose terms expire this week.

It has been assumed that members of congress voted for the bonus for political reasons and that those who were sustaining the president really voted their convictions. This, however, is not borne out by an examination of the total vote to override the president's veto. Out of 328 affirmative votes cast 47 were lame ducks. Thus just about twice as many of those who are retiring from office voted against the president than those who stood with him.

In the senate, three lame ducks voted to sustain the veto while there were nine lame ducks who voted to override the veto.

The general impression has been that members who were defeated in a congressional election voted with the administratration either in order to make sure of some future appointment or because they wanted to preserve their party regularity.

Vote by Parties

But analyzing the vote by parties, it will be found that of the 47 lame ducks who voted to override the veto 39 were Republicans and 8 were Democrats, while in the senate of the 9 lame ducks who did not stand with the president three were Republicans and six were Democrats.

The proposal sponsored by Senator Norris of Nebraska to bring a new congress into session in the month of January immediately following a November election has had as its chief argument that members defeated at an election or retiring from office should not have a voice in future legislation, the assumption being that they were not given a vote of confidence by their constituencies. This proposed amendment had the necessary two-thirds vote in the senate but it was modified in the house so as to provide a definite termination date on March 4. This raised objection from the senate conferees, who felt that continuous sessions of congress without a definite limitation date would prevent filibusters. Nothing more will be done with the proposal at this session of congress, which means that it will have to go through both houses again.

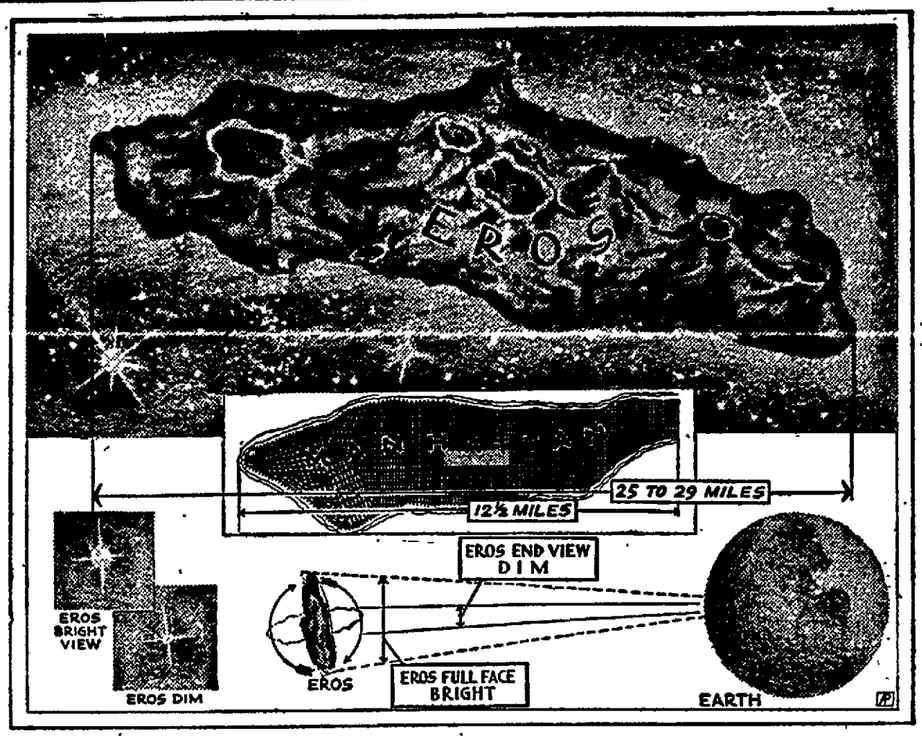
The lame duck argument has been used again and again to advance this constitutional amendment, but its principal strength has been the effort to cut down filibusters. The present short session of congress is winding up without a filibuster because of the pressure of public opinion. And lame ducks have not affected the course of legislation either. This doesn't mean however that both defects in the legislative machinery will not recur. Certainly sentiment in favor of shortening the gap between the November election and the convening of a new congress is growing.

TO PROTECT WHALES

Washington — The wholesale slaughter of whales for commercial purposes which is killing off this huge animal will cease if a bill presented to the League of Nations is passed, according to a report from the U. S. Department of State. It is hoped that by instituting a partially "closed" season on whales, similar to that instituted by the United States on seals, the number of the former will greatly increase in the next few years.

For the first time in nearly two decades, Kansas women failed to show a gain in the number of offices they won in the last election.

Planet Eros Is Cylinder Shaped, Not Much Larger Than Manhattan



The little planet Eros has been found to be a world of cylindrical shape (above), not much larger than Manhattan Island. Sketch below shows how Eros dims and brightens as its oblong shape whirls in space, millions of miles from the earth.

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)

Cambridge, Mass.—(AP)—The tiny planet Eros is shaped like a flashlight—a long, cylindrical world.

He may even have the form of a dumb-bell, and if so is "Dumb-bell the First" in the planetary family.

His elongated shape is the first major discovery of the present approach of the tiny planet, a visit lasting until the end of February. It is a shape that has been suspected for years.

Beyond the general proportions—length 25 to 29 miles, breadth 8 to 10 miles—announced at Harvard observatory, the details are unknown. His general proportions resemble the map of New York City, Manhattan Island, and are not much larger.

The question of dumb-bell shape—a detail that may await the bigger telescopes of 1975 when Eros next comes very close—is based upon certain scientific theories.

This form might be considered an example of arrested "fission." This is a method of star division, whereby a rotating liquid or semi-liquid body, first flattens at its equator, then becomes pear-shaped, then a dumb-bell, with one knob much the smaller and finally separates into two stars whirling about each other.

The theory that he may be already broken in two has been published in Europe during the present series of inspections.

The peculiar shape of Eros might also be accounted for on the well known scientific hypothesis that he is one of the fragments of a broken planet that once revolved between the orbits of Mars and Jupiter.

More than 1,000 of these fragments already have been identified and named. Some are as big as the British Isles. Most seem circular, but others, like Eros, are suspected of being irregular fragments.

This suspicion is due to the way they reflect light. Eros is believed to be whirling end over end, pointed like a thrown knife with his sharp end toward earth. When seen end-on he reflects little light, but when his full length stands across the sky he reflcets much more.

The Harvard figures, based upon these light fluctuations, give his rotation period as five hours, 16 minutes and 12.94 seconds. That is a "24-hour day" on Eros. Twice in that period he points end-on, and twice full-face.

A person sitting on one end would be traveling a little less than 20 miles an hour in this motion of rotation.

Your Birthday

"PISCES."

If March 4th is your birthday, to best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 a. m. to 10:45 a. m., from 1 p. m. to 3 p. m. and from 8 p. m. to 9:30 p. m. The danger periods are from 11:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and from 5 p. m. to 7 p. m.

A rather unsettled atmosphere overshadows the morning hours of March 4th. The afternoon is good for seasonable action and activities Some unexpected changes in your life may be anticipated. Such favorable conditions as exist chiefly benefit those engaged in official or artistic work.

A child born on this March 4th will have a winning disposition which, as time advances, will develop into a sympathetic personality. It will not achieve much along material lines, but will always be unselfish and considerate of others, and will radiate happiness and sunshine.

If you were born on March 4th, you are deservedly popular wherever you may go. You realize that nothing is saved by being economical in kindness. You give freely of yourself and your efforts to others, and rarely spend a thought on building up your personal interests. In every little action of life, you demonstrate clearly that your first thought is always for others. If misfortune overtakes you, your first reflection is how it will affect those who depend upon you. If success awaits you, your first reaction is to help others.

You are studious, without being a book worm. You are a hard worker, without being a drudge. You are good tempered, without being an extreme pacifist. You are intelligent without being intellectual. You are good, without being a prig. You are conscientious without being a martyr to convention. You do not participate actively in outdoor sports, although taking a keen interest in them. You are probably not an executant in music, although gifted with a keen musical sense.

Your horoscope does not presage any spectacular material achievement. It does, however, denote a life well and fruitfully spent, and full of sunshine and encouragement. As a husband or wife, and as a parent, you are destined to enjoy to the full the pleasures of a happy married life, undimmed by recrimination and undisturbed by jealousies and envy.

Successful People Born March 4th

CLUB TO DISCUSS PLANS FOR RACES

The monthly meeting of Appleton Yacht club will be held at 7:30 Thursday evening in the club rooms on S. Pierce ave. The group will continue its discussion on regattas and speedboat races for next summer. A social hour will follow the business meeting.

DEATH RATE FROM CHRONIC DISEASES SHOWS INCREASE

Mild Form of Influenza Helped Boost Rate During January

New York — Attendant on the widespread prevalence of a mild form of influenza, the January death rate for the more important chronic diseases, especially heart disease, cerebral hemorrhage and cancer, showed a marked increase during the month. Yet the January health record, according to the statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, is not a bad one, the mortality rate among the company's millions of Industrial policyholders being only 5.3 per cent in excess of that for the previous January, which was the lowest ever registered in the first month of the year. It was lower than that for the month of January in 1929, 1926, 1924, 1923 and 1920. Among the company's Industrial policyholders in Canada, the January mortality rate this year was actually 12.3 per cent lower than the same month in 1930.

Reports relating to the general populations of twenty states of the United States, received by the insurance company, show that 14,454 cases of influenza were reported during January, as compared with only 4,273 in December, 1930. The rise was general throughout the country, but the Atlantic Coast was affected most seriously, with the more noteworthy increases occuring in New Jersey; Maryland and South Carolina. In New York city there were 2,651 cases of influenza reported in January, as compared with only 68 reported in December.

Suicide Mortality Down

There was a considerable drop, during January, in the suicide mortality and there were smaller declines for homicides and accidents; but the year has started inauspiciously with respect to automobile fatalities. The January death rate is higher than has been registered during this month in any previous year among the insurance company's Industrial policyholders.

There are a number of distinctly encouraging items in the January mortality report, according to the insurance company's statisticians. The death rate for diphtheria was at the very low figure of 6.8 per 100,000. This has never been even closely approached in any previous January. Prior to 1931, the minimum was 10.9 per 100,000 which was in 1920.

"Even with above-average prevalence of influenza, which would lead us to expect an increase in mortality, the tuberculosis death-rate was more than two per cent lower than the previous minimum for the month, 79.7 per 100,000 in 1930," says the insurance company's Statistical Bulletin. "This decline is all the more noteworthy in view of the unfavorable economic conditions that have prevailed. The improvement has been limited, however, to policyholders in Canada and to those in the United States who live west of the Rocky Mountains. The deathrate for puerperal diseases was only 11.1 per 100,000, as compared with 12.0 in January, 1930."

PLUMBERS TO MEET AT TRADE SCHOOL

Appleton plumbers will meet at 7:30 Wednesday evening in the Appleton vocational school auditorium, according to M. M. Hanson, itinerant instructor of the plumbing trade. C. H. Runge, Green Bay, sales and repair specialist, will complete his discussion salesmanship, and C. J. Marsh, counsel for the Wisconsin Master Plumbers' association, will give a short talk on plumbing problems.

That's why millions of women prefer this modern sanitary pad

Kotex is safe

BECAUSE Kotex absorbs by a scientific method, it is safer than ordinary sanitary protection. It is soft—not merely an apparent softness that soon packs into chafing hardness, but a delicate, lasting softness. That's because it absorbs laterally, giving it a larger area of protection than ordinary pads.

Kotex may be worn on either side, with no possible danger of embarrassment. It is adjustable. You can remove layers of the filler as your needs change. It is treated to deodorize. It gives safe, secure protection. And it is, of course, disposable.

Last year 85% of our great hospitals bought Kotex absorbent in great quantities. What a tribute to its hygienic superiority!

NATURE'S RIVAL

PRESENTING Princess Nariva, a new foundation for Fall

Have you found a foundation that moulds your figure to fashionable lines, yet allows complete freedom and comfort? Then you must see this new Nature's Rival—the Princess Nariva design. A jaunty, youthful model—it is made up of pointed sections which form, by some miracle of cutting, a garment of graceful curves. The elastic hip section rises to a point, busts are accented in the pointed manner, even the low-cut back shapes to a pretty vee.

Do the Fat Love Fat?

If not, there is small excuse for excess in these scientific days

Science has determined that excess fat is largely due to a weakened thyroid gland. That gland secretion is a premier factor in nutrition. It helps turn food into fuel and energy which otherwise goes to fat.

After countless experiments on animals and human beings, the consensus of opinion is that this lacking factor must be fed. Physicians the world over now accept that doctrine and employ it. As a result, excess fat has disappeared by tons in late years. And without starvation, over-exercise or harmful drugs.

Marmola prescription tablets appeared on the verge of this discovery. A world-famous medical laboratory prepares them to accord with modern science. People have used them for 24 years—millions of boxes of them. And nobody needs be told that excess fat has largely disappeared.

Ask your friends who know what Marmola does. You cannot do that by starvation. Look about you and see the revolution it has wrought. Why doubt a help which, for 24 years, has done what Marmola has done?

Go get a box. Read the book in it, containing the formula and all reasons for results. When your weight comes down and new vim appears, you will know why the results are good.

Don't wait longer. Marmola costs only $1 a box at your drug store. The purpose is to correct an abnormal condition. Learn what it means to you in new beauty, new health and vim. Then please tell others.

Advanced Refrigeration

Just a gentle wipe and Frigidaire gleams with spotless "newness"

Porcelain-on-steel! As freshly white as the frozen snow on a mountain slope and far more easy to keep clean than a china plate!

Its glass-like, gleaming surface simply won't harbor any dirt that one gentle sweep of a clean, damp cloth won't whisk away!

No smudgy pattern of fingerprints need ever decorate the front of your Frigidaire! No spillings will ever stain its everlasting, frosty-white interior! Not even lemon juice can mar or mark it!

The Frigidaire the bride of tomorrow buys will boast the same pure, orange-blossom whiteness on her Golden Wedding Day!

Beautiful, durable Porcelain-on-steel is one of the very real advantages of Frigidaire Advanced Refrigeration. There are many others. It is these major improvements, developed by Frigidaire, that have made household refrigeration so healthful, convenient and economical. We invite you to come in and learn all about them.
